RUSSIA SPURNS MOVE BY FRANCE TO PREVENT WAR

Demands China Bow to Ultimatum.

Washington dispatches report that both China and Russia have agreed to abide by the Kellogg peace treaty—each on condition the other does not make the first hostile move. This seems in conflict with the Moscow news, but the latter dispatch tells of the refusal of French mediation and does not refer to the pledge to abide by the Kellogg pact. The Washington dispatch is on Page 2.

MOSCOW, July 22.—(AP)—The soviet government tonight announced it had declined an offer by France to mediate in the Manchurian conflict.

This action was said to be due to refusal of the Chinese authorities to restore the status quo on the Chinese Eastern railway in Manchuria as demanded in the soviet note of July 13.

Demands Refused by China.

The soviet note, to answer which China was given three days, demanded three things. One was that a conference be called immediately to regulate all phases of the dispute, another that the Chinese authorities immediately cancel all "arbitrary orders" regarding the railway, and lastly that all soviet citizens and institutions be protected henceforth.

The Chinese answered, just within the three days, with two demands calling for the release of all Chinese imprisoned in Russia and adequate protection for Chinese nationals.

Following delivery of this note, which was held to be unsatisfactory, Russia broke off diplomatic relations with China and the latter took similar action on the following day.

China May Appeal to League.

NANKING, China, July 22.—(AP)—China tonight was ready to summon the aid of both the league of nations and the Kellogg pact to maintain peace in her dispute with Russia over the Chinese Eastern railway.

Foreign Minister C. T. Wang of the Nationalist government announced tonight that "China will appeal to the league of nations in connection with the Russian crisis if the soviet violates the spirit of the Kellogg pact."

In addition the Nationalist government planned to send Moscow a note reiterating its desire to settle the dispute by peaceful negotiation. This note is being drafted and was expected to be sent tomorrow.

Asks Russia to Send Envoy.

It was further surmised that the Nationalists would express the hope in the note that Moscow would see fit to send a plenipotentiary to Harbin for discussion of the situation with a similar plenipotentiary from China. Chu Shao Min, Chinese chargé d'affaires at Moscow, who is now in Nanking, was understood to be leaving immediately for Harbin in the hope that Russia would agree to send a representative. The government was ready to send him on to Moscow if necessary in order to hold the conversations.

Report Russia Seizes 25 Ships.

TOKIO, July 22.—(AP)—Rengo dispatches today from Harbin said Chinese officials alleged soviet warcraft had seized 25 Chinese trading boats near the mouth of the Sungari river since the beginning of the strained relations. This was not confirmed from other sources.

The Chinese have sent two additional gunboats to the lower Sungari.

Wife of American Is Prisoner.

PEIPING, July 23.—(AP)—Soviet troops patrolling the Amur river, which skirts northern Manchuria, have captured the Chinese river steamer Ilan, taking prisoner the wife and baby daughter of Ray Talbot, American.

The Russians sent word to Talbot, who is deputy commissioner of Chinese maritime customs at Tahei-Ho, that both were "comfortable and being treated kindly." George C. Hanson, American consul at Harbin, Manchuria, wiring official reports of the capture here, said friends of Talbot at Harbin said Mrs. Talbot was of Russian birth.

The Russians also have captured the Chinese merchantman Haicheng. Japanese news agency reports, unconfirmed elsewhere, said a Chinese river gunboat had been captured by the Russians on the Amur. Observers here today estimated seven divisions of Chinese infantry and one of artillery had been assembled in the Manchouli region, while 50,000 soldiers are supposed to be gathered at Pogranichnaya.

3 FELONS SLAIN AS 1,300 MUTINY IN N. Y. PRISON

Guards Quell Rioters in Pitched Battle.

Dannemora, N. Y., July 22.—[Special.]—Behind a screen of smoke from lumber and buildings they had set fire, 1,300 of the state's most desperate criminals rioted today and stormed the walls of Clinton prison at Dannemora in an abortive effort to escape.

Three of their number were shot and killed and at least a dozen others received buskshot wounds before a hastily recruited army of prison defenders drove them back to their stone cell blocks with hand grenades, tear gas bombs, rifles, machine guns and shotguns.

The prisoners had no firearms and only two of the prison guards were injured. The two were caught unarmed in the prison yard and beaten by their charges when the uprising started during a ten minute recreation period between breakfast time and the beginning of the working day. The guards were not hurt seriously.

Two Lifers Among Slain.

The convicts killed were:

Harold F. Brunner, 33, a fourth offender, sentenced to life imprisonment for grand larceny, first degree, from Steuben county.

Herman Reis, 46, a fourth offender, sentenced to life imprisonment for grand larceny, first degree, from Erie county.

Clyde Shackleford, 30, convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to from twenty years to life from Albany county.

Fred Murphy and E. T. Bressette were the keepers upon whom the rioting prisoners vented their fury. They were stoned and clubbed amid shouts of "Kill him!" before they escaped under the shelter of the leveled rifles of prison guards along the stone walls around the prison yard.

Inquiries Get Under Way.

When the riot finally was quelled after five hours of the wildest disorder the institution has known since it was opened in 1845, prison officials began an investigation to learn the cause of the uprising and if possible to discover the ringleaders. District Attorney T. Loyal O'Connell of Clinton county and Coroner Edwin Startwell opened an inquiry into the deaths of the prisoners.

Warden Harry M. Kaiser estimated the damage to prison property at about $200,000. Two buildings, a storehouse with 75,000 feet of lumber and the structure housing the carpenter shop and weaving shop were destroyed by fire. Another building, which houses the dye works, was partly destroyed and the dynamo which furnished power for the prison was put out of commission temporarily by the convicts, who, thwarted in their dash for liberty, resorted to sabotage.

Power Plant Is Fixed.

Tonight the power plant was working again and the prisoners had lights in their cells. The town of Dannemora, however, was less fortunate. The shallow pond which, though scarcely 200 feet from shore to shore, serves as the town's reservoir, was drained by the fire departments of three towns. Unable to enter the prison yard, the firemen parked their apparatus on a hillock above the walls and pumped hundreds of gallons of water upon the prison buildings to prevent the incendiary fires from spreading.

Clinton prison, on the side of Lion mountain in the northwest section of the Adirondacks about sixteen miles from here, is the state's disciplinary institution. Unmanagable inmates of Sing Sing, Long Meadow, and Auburn prison are transferred there. Known as the "Siberia of New York," the prison is feared and hated by even the most desperate convicts.

Today when the rioting began it housed 1,568 prisoners, of whom 118 were serving life sentences and 400 had no hope of being discharged for at least 20 years. Its normal capacity is only 1,160.

Grumble Over Grievances.

Today's rioters, though unarmed, gave trouble enough. The first sign of disorder came toward the end of the ten minute rest period. Smoke circling upward from a carefully placed pile of shavings at a corner of the carpenter shop gave the first intimation of trouble. Warden Kaiser, however, said that there had been

GIRL ATTACHES PLANE GIVEN TO CHAMPION PILOT

Los Angeles, Cal., July 22.—[Special.]—The attachment of the new monoplane presented to the air endurance refueling record holders, Loren Mendell and Roland Reinhart, today disclosed that Mendell had been sued for $28,700 on behalf of a Hollywood actress.

The actress, Eleanor Merry, 23, filed suit last Friday, but the action went unnoticed until today. She claims $3,700 hospital and doctor bills from the flyer, together with $25,000 damages for lost opportunity and lost salary in the movies.

On Dec. 13, 1928, according to the suit, Miss Merry was a passenger in Mendell's plane when it crashed at Van Nuys, Cal. Miss Merry's right leg was broken in five places and she sustained other injuries which kept her in a hospital for eight weeks and after that in a wheel chair and on crutches. Mendell is married.

MAKES CHILDREN SAFE; ENDS HER LIFE WITH GAS

First taking precautions that her three little children would not be affected by the fumes, Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison, 35 years old, 3736 North Kildare avenue, widow of Dr. Clyde E. Harrison, who died seven months ago, turned on the gas in the kitchen early this morning and ended her life. Grief over the death of her husband is supposed to have been the motive for her act.

Mrs. Harrison turned on an electric fan in the children's sleeping room to blow any gas that might escape from the kitchen out of their room, then closed up the kitchen tightly. She pulled a table up to the stove, lay down upon it, and opened four burners near her head. She was dead when she was discovered by her colored maid, Frankie Harlan.

Many Reported Drowned in Sinking of Two Vessels

TOKIO, July 22.—[U. P.]—Heavy loss of life was reported tonight as the result of the sinking of two passenger vessels. Sixty persons were missing after the sinking of the Chinese steamship Hsinkang, which collided with the Nippon-Yusen Kaisha freighter Tatsuno Maru off Shantung. Scores were missing after a ferryboat capsized in the Tumen river in Kanyo province.

Boy Saves Up to Buy Pony; Is Thrown and Is Killed

Cyril Watson, 11 years old, 8045 South Loomis street, was thrown from his pony and fatally injured yesterday when the pony became frightened at a cat at the rear of his father's butcher shop, 653 West Forty-third street. His father told the Stockyards police that the boy had been saving for the pony all his life.

Bremen Sets Sea Record on Maiden Trip

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 22.—[Special.]—The Bremen, Germany's new ocean greyhound, romped into port today with half a dozen trans-Atlantic records written into its log book.

The new queen of the seas, riding low in the water but cleaving an almost sprayless passage, clipped eight hours and 52 minutes off the previous westward passage of its fastest rivals, making the trip from Cherbourg to Ambrose light in 4 days 17 hours and 42 minutes.

Until this afternoon the Cunarder Mauretania was the speediest liner afloat, holding the record of 5 days 2 hours and 34 minutes.

The huge new North German Lloyd liner also broke all records for a single day's run, having made 713 miles on the last day. It maintained an average speed per hour of 27.83 knots, or almost 33 miles, for the entire trip.

Breaks Mail Record, Too.

Through the Bremen's device for catapulting an airplane from the top deck all trans-Atlantic mail records fell. There also was a record established for smoothness, according to passengers, and a major operation was performed on a woman passenger as safely as it could have been done in any land hospital.

Another record was the entire absence of seasickness on the voyage. Medical officers said not a case had been reported.

It was just 3:02 this afternoon when the German visitor steamed past Ambrose Light on its maiden voyage. An hour later—at 4:06 o'clock—it dropped its massive anchor from the prow at quarantine.

There was a din of whistles from shipping vessels clustered about the majestic visitor in the neck of the harbor. An airplane flew low over its towering decks and dipped straight downward in salute. Factory sirens from the shore sent up a roar of greetings. The city's welcoming boat, Macom, bearing Grover Whalen, police commissioner, and a committee of city officials, drew alongside with its band blaring German melodies and its pennants flying.

Reports Perfect Crossing.

As the Bremen came up the bay under the guiding hand of Master Pilot John Petersen, Capt. Leopold Ziengenbein stood on the deck just outside the control room and chatted with Commissioner Whalen. He said the crossing had been perfect.

Then, conducted by Philip Heinken,

POLICEMAN AND BANDIT SHOOT IT OUT IN MICH. AVE.

Motorists and pedestrians on Michigan avenue were startled last night as a policeman and a bandit emptied their revolvers at each other as the result of an attempt to hold up the Schulte cigar shop, 200 South Michigan avenue.

The would-be robber, a man about 35 years old and well dressed, entered the store as Policeman Richard Downs of the First dictrict was watching Nicholas Mullhall, a clerk, count the day's receipts.

"Stick 'em up!" he ordered. Mullhall obeyed, but Downs whipped out his gun and started shooting. The bandit edged towards the door, returning the shots, and when the gun was empty dropped it and fled.

MERCURY SOARS TO 89; COOLER BY WEDNESDAY

For eleven hours yesterday beginning at 6 a. m., the temperature climbed nearly two degrees hourly until at 4 p. m., it reached 89 degrees, which it held an hour before subsiding slightly with the advent of evening.

Little or no weather change is expected today by Forecaster J. R. Lloyd. He predicted unsettled weather and the possibility of thundershowers. Tomorrow should be slightly cooler, Mr. Lloyd said.

Frank Allman, 26 year old walter of Glenview, was seized with cramps while swimming in a quarry pool in Glenview and was drowned. Glenview police recovered the body.

Unite Foreman Banks and State Bank

Merger Third Largest; Total $221,000,000

BY O. A. MATHER.

Consolidation of the Foreman National bank and the State Bank of Chicago into a $221,000,000 institution was effected last night. The final details of the big deal were worked out at a joint meeting of the directors of both banks in the directors' room of the State bank, La Salle and Monroe streets.

The new consolidation will take rank as the third largest bank in Chicago. It also marks the fifth big merger of downtown banks to become effective this year. In point of resources, the Foreman-State bank consolidation will be exceeded only by the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and the First National-First Union Trust group.

Deposits Total $180,000,000.

The newly combined banks will be known as the Foreman National bank and the Foreman-State Bank and Trust company. In addition, there will be the Foreman National corporation as an investment subsidiary. The three institutions will have total resources of nearly $229,000,000, invested capital of $38,000,000, and total deposits of nearly $180,000,000.

The merger provides for a share-for-share exchange of stock. The Foreman National bank now has $6,000,000 capital stock and the State bank has $5,000,000. The capital stock of the Foreman National will be increased to $11,000,000 and the State bank stockholders will receive one share of Foreman National for each share now held.

The stock of the Foreman-State Bank and Trust company and the Foreman National corporation will be owned or trusteed for the benefit of the Foreman National bank stockholders.

Occupy Foreman Building.

Under the new setup the Foreman National bank will have invested capital of approximately $25,000,000, the Foreman-State Bank and Trust company will have about $5,000,000 and the Foreman National corporation will have $8,000,000. The three institutions will be combined physically as soon as the banking quarters in the new Foreman National Bank building at La Salle and Washington streets can be completed. The State Bank building will be owned and operated by the new institution.

The Foreman National bank will conduct the commercial and foreign business; the Foreman-State Bank and Trust company will take over the trust, savings and mortgage loan business, and the Foreman National corporation will conduct the investment business.

The executive officers of the new institution will be Oscar G. Foreman, chairman of the executive committee of both banks; Harold E. Foreman, chairman of both banks; Oscar H. Haugan, vice chairman; Walter W. Head, president; and Gerhard Foreman, president of the Foreman National corporation. The directors of the banks will form the new board of directors and the officers of both banks also will continue as officers of the consolidated institutions. All employés will be retained.

Bankers Explain Union.

While the preliminary negotiations for the big merger were closely guarded, some indication of its accomplishment was given yesterday when the market price of the stock of the State bank shot up from around $800 to about $950 a share. Foreman National stock was quoted around $1,150 a share.

Following final ratification of the merger, both Mr. Head and Harold E. Foreman explained the need of the merger to take care of Chicago's larger financial requirements.

"This amalgamation gives Chicago another major banking institution to serve the growing financial needs of this country," Mr. Foreman said.

Mr. Head emphasized that Leroy A. Goddard, dean of Chicago bankers, will continue as a director of the merged banks.

BOOZE RUNNERS BATTLE BORDER PATROL; 2 SLAIN

El Paso, Tex., July 23.—(AP)—Four border patrolmen surprised a band of twenty rum runners at the Rio Grande last night and in a pitched battle killed two of them and wounded another. Five of the band were captured and three motor cars.

Two trucks and more than 150 gallons of whisky were confiscated.

Descending upon the rum runners in motor cars the border patrolmen mounted a fence near the Rio Grande banks. The rum runners opened the battle and before it ended two were killed and another wounded seriously. It was reported that several hundred rounds of ammunition were fired.

1 DEAD, 1 LOST AS TWENTY ARE THROWN IN LAKE

Eighteen Are Saved from Drowning.

Two of the fleet of speed boats that inaugurated a taxi service on the Chicago rived yesterday collided bow to bow at a speed of forty miles an hour last night fifty yards northeast of the tip of Navy pier, pitching twenty passengers into the wreck strewn waves. One man was killed and another is missing.

Both craft, freighted with heavy six cylinder engines, sank almost immediately and the two passengers were lost in the scramble for life preservers with which each boat was equipped. Six or seven other craft, attracted by the crash and screams of victims, sped to the rescue and took aboard all who could not swim. The others, including both pilots, swam to the pier.

Recover New York Man's Body.

The body of Leo Suesskind, 23 years old, a salesman from Yonkers, N. Y., and registered at the Palmer house, was recovered by coast guardsmen at 1 o'clock this morning. Another passenger, David Cohen, owner of a variety store at 3839 Fullerton avenue, had not returned home early this morning. The coast guard, certain that he perished, planned to resume dragging for his body at the scene of the wreck at daylight.

These on the Boats.

The list of passengers on the two boats follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John A. McColley, 4635 Ellis avenue, treated at Henrotin hospital.

R. A. Joslyn, 23 years old, 5849 Midway Park.

A. S. Corbin, 22 years old, 620 North Latrobe avenue.

Dr. Ivan Hill, 27 years old, 3027 Washington boulevard, a dentist.

Guthrie Curtiss, 5548 Blackstone avenue.

Lawrence H. Schwagig, Shoreland hotel.

C. P. Wirschig, 23 years old, 39 York avenue, West Chicago.

J. J. Frank, a salesman stopping at the Palmer house.

Leo Suesskind, drowned New Yorker.

David Cohen, the missing Chicago real estate dealer.

The boats involved were a ten passenger speedster owned by the Chris Craft Transit corporation, which sponsored the daytime river taxies, and the Sea King, owned by the Jones corporation, recently formed. The Chris Craft was in forty mile an hour taxi service yesterday between the Madison and Canal street plaza and the Michigan avenue link bridge, carrying fares at 25 cents a trip.

Out for Pleasure Rides.

Last night both boats were thrilling pleasure seekers with a swift ten mile ride from the link bridge out the river mouth with a breath taking swirl to the left at the pier's end and a quick dash to the Oak street slip. The charge was a dollar apiece with no reimbursement for clothing soaked in spray.

The Chris Craft, with ten passengers in the two seats, was inbound from the Oak street slip, shooting fans of spray as it zigzagged through the placid but unilluminated waters. The pilot, William Warner, had been executing fancy turns and figure 8s all evening to attract the trade, witnesses said afterward.

Excursionists See Crash.

Outbound came the Sea King, piloted by Elmer Dudley, a pilot since he had been granted leave from the coast guard service 17 days ago. Neither boat had a searchlight, the course of each being indicated to other traffic by red and green lights at port and starboard. The waves rose a little as the big excursion steamer Christopher Columbus slipped up the river mouth to its dock at the link bridge and excursionists at the stern witnessed the ensuing tragedy.

Dudley, who had been holding a straight course, began to swerve as his boat neared the careening Chris Craft. The Chris Craft began to weave as its pilot whirled the wheel one way and then another. An instant before the crash both pilots hauled hard to the right, bringing the boats nose to nose.

Joyce Hawley Aids Rescue.

Joseph Weisinger and his brother Abe in their powered skiff, the Smithy, were first to the spot where the boats sank. Joyce Hawley, of champagne bath renown, was a passenger with the Weisinger brothers. Miss Hawley reached in and rescued one struggling girl, and later exhibited a scratched and swollen right arm to prove her heroism.

The Weisinger brothers and another in their boat, Charles Oehlert, 19 years old, 3421 Fulton boulevard, each took a floundering passenger in tow and the Smithy chugged to the pier. The coast guard long boat had meanwhile arrived and gathered up others who had not swum to the pier.

Mrs. Nora Butler, official nurse at the pier, procured blankets for the refugees, administering hot coffee for a stimulant, and bemoaning the lack of whisky. Capt. Charles Agnew, the harbor master, assumed charge of the investigation and ordered both pilots arrested. Dudley had escaped unhurt and Warner suffered a fractured nose and lacerations.

Two Sent to Hospital.

More seriously injured was Mrs. Esther McColley, 28 years old, 4906 West Austin avenue. Mrs. Butler sent her to the Henrotin hospital in a taxicab, and she was under examination early this morning. Her husbad, Edgar, 35 years old, who complained of internal pains, also went to the Henrotin for examination.

Both pilots were held for the inquest on order of Capt. John Ryan of the East Chicago avenue station.

Plans for a Taxi Service.

During the day the plans for a passenger service on Chicago river were developed. The line was to run between the Michigan avenue link bridge and the Chicago and North Western and Union stations.

Larry Northorp, general manager of the Chris Craft Water Transit company, explained that the river transportation would be a great convenience, especially for the persons employed in buildings along North Michigan avenue. One speed boat with a seating capacity for eleven passengers was put into service yesterday. Four more boats were promised within a few days.

Twenty-five cents was to be the passenger fare from the railroad terminals to the Michigan avenue bridge. With increased volume of business it was intimated there would be a reduction in the fare.

As an example of the river schedule, the speed boat left the link bridge at 4:28 o'clock yesterday, skimming over the water at the rate of 40 miles an hour. At 4:37 o'clock the boat chugged alongside the temporary landing platform at Madison street and the river, near the Union and North Western stations.

MINERS, ASKING 7-HOUR DAY, GET PENSION OFFER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CARDIFF, Wales, England, July 22.—Sir Thomas G. Jones has made a proposal for settling the differences between coal miners and the British labor government, which has been put on the horns of a dilemma by either having to break its preëlection promise to repeal the eight hour law, which promise the miners now demand be fulfilled, or dealing the reviving coal industry what may prove to be its death blow.

Sir Thomas has suggested that the eight hour day be retained for three years more or until the industry is able to stand the modification of working hours. During this period pensions ranging from $5 to $7.50 a week would be established for miners reaching the ages of 60 to 65.

The cost of this has been roughly estimated at $10,500,000. Sixty thousand men would become entitled to the pension during the proposed three year period, which would release places for the same number of younger men now unemployed. The penny per ton now levied on coal for the welfare scheme might be earmarked instead for the pension plan and would provide $5,250,000. The balance of the total cost of pensions to the retiring miners would be borne by the government.

PROBABLY FATALLY BURNED.

Kendallville, Ind., July 22.—[Special.]—Henry Voelker, 54, was probably fatally burned when a can filled with gasoline exploded and enveloped him in flames.

SMALL NATIONS SEE NEW YOKE IN "UNITED EUROPE"

Fear Briand Plan Would Displease U. S.

PARIS, July 22.—(AP)—Proposals for the organization of a "United States of Europe" or a "coöperative Europe," which are expected to be outlined at the league of nations assembly in September by Foreign Minister Briand of France, have met with mixed reception in continental countries.

Although M. Briand has carefully intimated that the broad outline of his plan does not embrace the formation of a new political institution with a parliament and a president, information received in league of nations circles, under whose aegis the new organization would be attempted, indicates that some publicists in smaller countries fear the plan would be tantamount to a new domination by the great powers in European affairs.

Fear Displeasure of U. S.

Danger of incurring the displeasure of the United States of America also is mentioned as one of the liabilities of the scheme.

On the other hand, the idea already has received enthusiastic support from other sections of the continent, where the opinion is expressed that a "coöperative Europe," deemed a better title than "United States of Europe," is bound to come, anyway, that M. Briand has sensed this and is convinced the moment has arrived to guide the movement into desirable channels.

Workers in various countries are said to be enthusiastic about the plan, believing it means more prosperity and reduced chances of war.

The Royalist organ, Action Francaise, labels the Briand idea an absurdity, declaring it the resuscitation of the dream of Victor Hugo. The Journal says it would be certain to offend the United States of America and cause a world war.

Set to Meet, but Where?

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 22.—A cynic would find subject for laughter in the brotherly love existing in Europe among the nations ten years after the establishment of the league of nations.

This absence of a rich supply of brotherly feeling is well exemplified in the divergent views as to the choice of a place for the coming conference for the final settlement of the questions left outstanding by the great war.

French Fight Meeting in London.

At the beginning, the British labor government urged that the conference to be held in London. This proposal was stubbornly opposed by the French on the grounds that the atmosphere of London was such that they would not get a fair deal.

The French suggested Paris, but the British will not hear of it as they, in turn, think that the atmosphere of that gay city would be unhealthy both for their own and the German plans.

The next proposal was Brussels but the Germans then refused point blank to go to Brussels because they say the Belgians hate them so. The Germans suggested The Hague, but the Belgian government promptly objected to this.

One by one, all the countries but Switzerland have been eliminated as suitable sites for the approaching parley. No one seems to have a particular grudge against the Swiss, but on the other hand it is a long way for every one to travel.

Charges Man with Auto, Tosses Him Off Car's Hood

Milwaukee, Wis., July 22.—[Special.]—Bert Redmond of Bloomington, Ill., was arrested on charges made by Ben Rosenbeck. The latter says Redmond, after an argument, charged him with his automobile. When Rosenbeck hopped on to the hood, Redmond gave him a wild ride for four miles before throwing him off by zigzagging the car.

BRITISH ALLEGE U. S. NAVY FAR AHEAD IN AIR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 22.—The American navy's superiority is seven to one over the British as regards air power, according to figures published here, which show that the United States is enormously in advance of all other countries in the air.

On March 1 of this year the American navy possessed 867 effective planes against the British navy's 135. Purchase of 273 more planes have been authorized since then, to eighteen for Great Britain. The strength of the two fleets is now, therefore, 1,140 machines effective or ordered for America, and 153 for Great Britain.

At the current rate of progress on both sides the ratio will soon be ten to one. During the week of July 6, say the British figures, the American navy placed orders for 152 new planes—a number almost equal to Great Britain's total naval air strength.

U. S. PARTY MIXES FUN, BUSINESS ON RUSSIAN TOUR

LENINGRAD, July 22.—(AP)—Traveling in great comfort with all the conveniences and luxuries soviet Russia can afford, the unofficial American delegation of 100 men and women business representatives, engineers, lawyers, journalists, and educators arrived here today for a two day visit.

The party traveled from Moscow, where they arrived last week. The soviet tourist bureau imported $1,500 worth of American coffee, cigarets, and cigars so the visitors would not lack these articles during their month's tour.

As an indication that the mission is not entirely pleasure bent, 15 business men already have started conversations with chiefs of the soviet trade departments to obtain concessions. Some of the members of the mission have remained in Moscow to continue negotiations.

Woman Press Agent Fired, Files Suit for $111,400

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Suit for $111,400 for alleged breach of contract, today was filed against Arthur Hammerstein, theatrical producer, by Helen Santro, publicity agent. Miss Santro, the wife of Jack Francis, Hollywood, Cal., publicity man, alleged that Hammerstein "wrongfully" discharged her as his publicity agent in the spring of 1927. She asks $100,000 for her "wrongful" discharge and $11,400 which she claims is due her for unpaid salary.

CHINA AND RUSSIA PLEDGE TO KEEP KELLOGG TREATY

Send Replies to Stimson Peace Overtures.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 22.—[Special.]—Russia and China both intend to abide by the Kellogg-Briand war renunciation treaty—provided the other doesn't make the first hostile move. This assurance was conveyed today to Secretary of State Stimson, who accepted it as meaning that the gathering war clouds will be swept away.

Definite answers to Mr. Stimson's peace overtures were brought to him by Ambassador Paul Claudel of France, who reported the receipt of word from the soviet government, and by C. C. Wu, the Chinese minister. The information from both sides was that there would be no hostilities unless the other was the aggressor.

Japan Lends Its Help.

The secretary of state also was informed by Katsuji Debuchi, the Japanese ambassador, that Baron Shidehara, the foreign minister of his government, had impressed on both the Russian ambassador and the Chinese minister at Tokio that their nations are signatories of the Kellogg-Briand pact and should make good their obligations under its terms.

This step was the result of Secretary Stimson's suggestion and accorded with the action taken by Foreign Minister Briand in Paris. Baron Shidehara was assured, the Japanese ambassador said, that neither Russia nor China intends to begin hostilities.

In Dark As To Next Move.

Assuming that no actual hostilities are contemplated at present, officials were in the dark as to the nature of the next move. Secretary Stimson made it clear that in his suggestions to Russia and China he had not made a formal proposal for arbitration but had merely called attention to the fact that the questions at issue were susceptible to arbitration. A request for aid in adjusting the difficulties would properly come from the parties to the dispute.

It was the belief that arbitration in the technical sense may not be the most appropriate solution but that something in the nature of mediation or an arrangement for discussion and conciliation, such as exists between the Paraguans and Bolivians, may be agreed upon.

Minister Wu called Secretary Stimson's attention to the fact that his government had appointed an agent to commence negotiations when Russia broke off relations and that it should be possible to renew efforts along this line. The Chinese minister disclaimed any intention of his government to seize the Chinese Eastern railway.

Supported by France, Britain.

With the receipt of word from the Japanese government all of the powers approached by Secretary Stimson have been heard from. France, through Foreign Minister Briand, exerted influence upon the Russian and Chinese representatives in Paris and Great Britain has indicated its sympathy with the Stimson move. Mr. Stimson made it known that he also had discussed the matter with the Italian ambassador, but had asked for no reply from that nation inasmuch as it is not a party to the four power treaty entered into by the nations with a special interest in the Orient.

With the situation respecting this first test of the efficacy of the Kellogg-Briand treaty a little brighter, White House and state department went forward with their elaborate preparations for the ceremony on Wednesday in celebration of making the war renunciation pact effective.

RUSSIAN ENGINEER TELLS HOW CHINESE SEIZED RAILROAD

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, July 22.—"In the first days after the seizure of the Chinese Eastern railroad, White Guards and brigands made several raids into soviet territory on the eastern frontier opposite Vladivostok," declared Elsmont, ousted chief engineer of the railway, who reached Moscow yesterday. He was addressing a protest meeting of Moscow railroad employés.

Elsmont and his superior, the Eastern director, Emshanof, painted a more sinister picture of recent events in Manchuria than Moscow had realized. The seizure of the railroad was planned at "a war council" held at Mukden July 4, where the moving spirits were Harbin's military dictator, Gen. Chang Chon, and the White Russian railroad expert, Ostrosmof, they said.

The council's plans received, Emshanof said, the final approval of Gen. Chang Kai-shek and the Nanking government and "it is quite probable they were known to certain representatives of foreign powers."

The seizure of the railroad was carried out by White Russians in new uniforms and the line is practically now in their hands under the direction of Ostrosmof, he added. The expulsion of the soviet directorate coincided with the arrival at Harbin of the White Russian commander, Horvat, and the others who had played a prominent rôle during the Kolchak occupation of Siberia. Certain quarters here fear the White Russians will attempt an invasion of Siberia to cut the Amur railroad north of Vladivostok, but it is understood the Red forces concentrated along the border are of sufficient strength to repel any attack.

EX-KAISER FREE TO RETURN HOME; PROBABLY WON'T

BERLIN, July 23.—[U.P.]—[Tuesday]—The bill for protection of the republic expired at midnight and left the former German kaiser free—if he desires—to step across the border line from his exile at Doorn and return to Germany.

The so-called "kaiser provision," which excluded the former monarch from Germany, was part of the protection bill which the reichstag refused to renew recently, but it is unlikely that he will attempt to return.

Nothing can prevent the former kaiser from returning, however, since Holland and Germany have abolished the visa compulsion rule and he would only need credentials or possibly a passport, which the German consul to Holland would be unable to refuse. The Dutch also would be unable to prevent his return, as they merely undertook to safeguard against his possible political activities when he was granted exile at Doorn.

Mrs. Lilie Roosevelt Lee Awarded Divorce In Reno

Reno, Nev., July 22.—[Special.]—A Roosevelt romance crashed here today when Mrs. Lilie Roosevelt Lee, cousin of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, was granted a divorce from James Lee, the young Washington, D. C., newspaper man with whom she eloped three years ago. Mrs. Lee, daughter of Robert Roosevelt of Washington and Sayville, L. I., had just made her bow to society and was rated one of the capital's smartest debs at the time of her secret marriage to Lee.

ELLER A BOWLDER ON ROCKY ROAD TO BENCH COALITION

But Democrats Prepare to Discuss Fusion.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Democratic leaders are to confer today on the matter of calling the county committee together in the next fortnight to pick a delegation to consult with the Chicago Bar association on the November judicial election.

Coalition is the moot question. The retiring judges are for fusion to escape a campaign fight, but the Democratic politicians talked louder than ever yesterday against coalition.

Judge Eller a Factor.

Prevailing sentiment among leaders at the Sherman hotel and the county building was that before the Democrats will seriously consider fusion they must be assured of three things: First, that Judge Emanuel Eller will be kept off the ticket; second, that the Deneen group will travel along with the rest of the Republican organization and the old machine; third, that the Democrats get two of the four places for which new men are to be named.

Two vacancies on the Circuit court caused by the election of John A. Swanson as state's attorney and by the death of Judge Victor P. Arnold are to be filled, and successor are to be named to Judges Charles M. Foell and Wells M. Cook, both invalids, on the Superior bench.

Party Not Keen About Fusion.

The Democratic chiefs say so far they have been given no convincing assurances on any one of these three points. Even at that, the rank and file is talking strongly against coalition on any terms.

The county committee, when it meets, is expected to fill three possible vacancies. Andrew J. Layden is said to be considering resigning as committeeman of the 18th ward, and Patrick F. Ryan, ex-alderman, is talked of for his place. The vacancy caused by the death of Michael Rosenberg of the 24th ward, is to be filled by his brother, Moe Rosenberg, who is now unofficially on the list, and Joseph Voss is slated as successor to the late Henry A. Zender of the 50th ward.

DEFER CHANGE IN WARD LINES UNTIL AFTER ELECTION

Ward boundary lines will remain unchanged until after the November election, Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the council subcommittee on redistricting, announced yesterday. He said the ward and precinct lines should be undisturbed until the proposed new traction ordinance has been submitted to the people.

"If we disturb the ward lines before the referendum we shall make the task of carrying it much harder, as we must rely upon the political organizations to bring out the vote," said Ald. Bowler. "If we district the city after the November election, everyone will have time to organize for the April election when the new ward committeemen will be elected."

The redistricting is necessary, Ald. Bowler explained, as the movement of population has increased the voting strength of some outlying wards to twice and three times that of downtown wards.

CRISTERO REVOLT CHIEF, 300 REBELS HAND OVER ARMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, July 22.—Gen. Andres Salazar, former head of the Cristero army in the state of Colima, surrendered yesterday, marching into the Colima capital with some 300 armed rebels, the last of a force of more than 2,000. Salazar's rebels surrendered their arms, ammunition, and military supplies. The government has agreed to return them to their homes or the part of Mexico they desire.

The war department this morning reports 15 rebel leaders with their forces and armaments surrendering in the last ten days in the state of Michoacan, one of the most active centers of the Cristero revolution, and other leaders in Zacatecas and Jalisco. In all 24 rebel leaders have surrendered in the last two weeks. Trains are now moving through the former rebel country without the customary military armed gondola car.

Among the notable guerrilla leaders surrendering are Priest General Octavio Martin, one of the leaders of the Cristero rebels for three years in the state of Zacatecas, and Maximo Avila Camacho, locally known as "the Thunderbolt."

JURY OF EXPERTS BLAMES DEATHS ON REFRIGERANT

Calls Methyl Chloride Killer of 3 More.

Three members of the Painter family, found dead in their apartment at [illegible] Dorchester avenue on July 16, were killed by methyl chloride poisoning, a coroner's jury of chemists and pathologists ruled last night after a [illegible] hour session at which expert testimony on refrigerating gases was introduced. The family consisted of John Painter, his wife, Mary Cecelia, and their 18 months old son, Joseph.

Discontinuance of the use of methyl chloride as a refrigerant as rapidly as possible was recommended by the jury which, with the exception of one member, is the same one that returned a similar verdict in the death of Mrs. Viola Clark, 926 Eastwood avenue. In the Painter verdict, which is far more drastic than their former one, the experts condemned methyl chloride as a "hazard of unknown extent and severity."

Recommends Addition to Gas.

There is an accumulation of evidence, the verdict stated, which indicates that there have been many methyl chloride cases in the country, causing numerous death. "It appears to the jury," the report continued, "that the danger may be lessened, although not eliminated, by the addition of substances easily detected."

The verdict ended with a warning to manufacturers that it is their duty to provide users of their refrigerators with full protection.

While the jury was investigating methyl chloride, Health Commissioner Kegel submitted a new paragraph as a substitute for one in his ordinance, which the manufacturers are studying. The addition rules out the use of dangerous gases in the multiple direct method of refrigeration.

Would Eliminate Poisons.

The effect of the new clause, if adopted by the city council, will be to prohibit the installation of a multiple direct system unless a non-poisonous refrigerant is used. This would eliminate the use of methyl chloride, sulphur dioxide and other alleged poisonous gases and substitute brine, carbon dioxide or ammonia, according to Dr. Kegel.

The experiments of Commissioner Kegel with a mixture of methyl chloride, sulphur, and mercaptan to provide a refrigerant easily detectable if leaking, were brought out at the inquest by the questioning of Dr. William D. McNally, consulting toxicologist. He stated that, in his opinion, the presence of ten per cent of sulphur dioxide in methyl chloride would be sufficiently irritating to warn of the leakage.

Prof. M. H. Kharasch, acting head of the department of chemistry at the University of Chicago, opposed that addition.

Urges Larger Experiment.

"I wouldn't feel safe with the mixture unless experiments were carried over a period of one year or more," said Prof. Kharasch. "Corrosion of the pipes will cause a reduction in the quantity of sulphur dioxide."

R. W. Kreitzer, vice president of the Peerless Refrigerator company, which installed the refrigerator in the Painter apartment, described what has been done to safeguard the public.

"We have put in a ten per cent portion of sulphur dioxide, which we watch to keep up the strength of the mixture," said Mr. Kreitzer. "In the meantime we are working to find a better or a new refrigerant."

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, acted as foreman of the jury. The other members were Prof. Gideon Wells, head of the pathology department of the University of Chicago; Prof. F. C. Koch, head of the department of physiological chemistry, University of Chicago; Prof. Kharasch; Prof. E. R. Hayhurst, head of the hygiene department at Ohio university, and Dr. Russell M. Wilder of the University of Chicago's medical school.

Assistance of the government in working out regulations for refrigerants was assured Dr. Kegel by Surgeon General Cumming of Washington, who telegraphed that he is sending Surgeon L. R. Thompson to Chicago.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

REYJAVIK, Iceland, July 22.—The first flight from Iceland to Europe began today when the Dornier-Wahl flying boat D-1422, piloted by the German aviator Wolfgante von Gronau took off quietly at 9:45 this morning on its return trip.

The plane is making the trip by easy stages, only going as far as the Faroe islands today and then on to Edinburgh in Scotland before returning to its German base, the Isle of Sylt in the North sea.

Before leaving Herr von Gronau expressed the belief that within five years Iceland will be on the regular air route for flights from America to Europe. He does not believe that planes will cross Greenland but that they will instead fly straight from Iceland to the southern part of Labrador. He has no confidence in the proposed floating islands in the Atlantic and believes the northern air route to be preferable to the southern Atlantic route.

Blocked by U. S., Runners Cache $7,000 Worth of Beer

LONDON, Ont., July 22.—(AP)—The blockade on the Great Lakes by United States officers is believed to have been responsible for a cache of $7,000 worth of beer, discovered by police a short distance east of St. Thomas in an old barn. The consignment consisted of 8,000 dozen pints. It had been manufactured in Waterloo but police believe that it came back to St. Thomas when difficulty was encountered in attempts to run it across the lake.

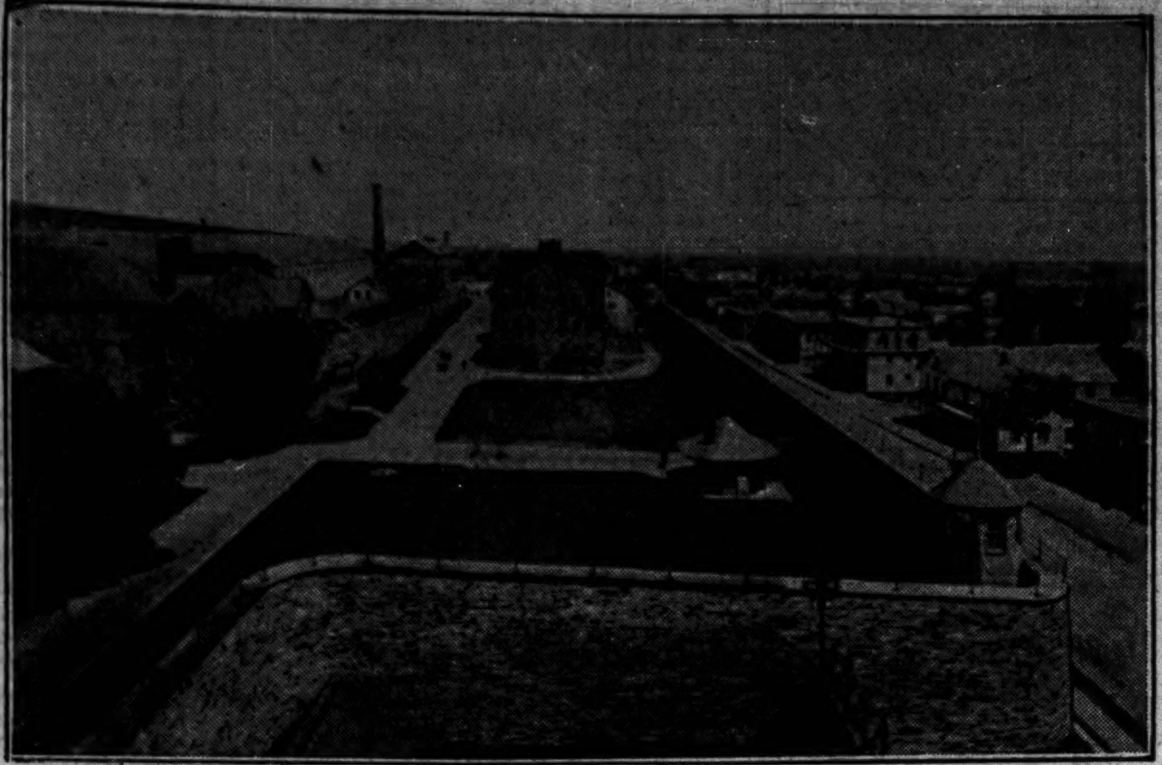
Where Three Were Killed When 1,300 Felons Mutinied



Clinton prison at Dannemora, N. Y., in which convicts rioted for five hours before finally being subdued by fire from the walls shown in the picture. During the riots three convicts were killed and twelve shot and the carpenter and weaving shops in the prison burned.

3 FELONS SLAIN AS 1,300 RIOT IN NEW YORK PRISON

grumbling and discontent for the last fortnight over food, crowded quarters and other grievances.

In the yards, the convicts who had marched in orderly company formation from the mess hall after their breakfast refused to obey the orders of their keepers to fall in and march to the workshops. The siren shrieked its warning to the countryside that Dannemora's prison population, far outnumbering the citizenry of the little hamlet in the hills, was on the rampage. Before the shrill shriek had reëchoed from the mountainside the fighting started.

Keepers Caught in First Rush.

The two keepers, Murphy and Bressette were caught in the first rush. Murphy was felled by a stone hurled by a convict. Bressette, trying to from his rebellious company into ranks, was set upon and beaten before he broke away and ran under a hail of missiles. Arthur Dane, a civilian employé of the power house, was dragged from his post, but was not harmed by the convicts.

The rioters had divided into three groups by the time the 124 prison guards had mounted the wall which surrounds the yards on three sides. The fourth side is blocked by a steel fence twenty feet high. Even then there was no shooting.

The siren's call was bringing reinforcements from among the townsfolks who, in less than an hour, had bought out the entire supply of firearms in local hardware stores and joined the prison guards along the wall. Among those who volunteered for emergency service was Reinald Werrenrath, the concert singer, who motored over from his summer home at Chazy lake with his house guest, Thomas R. Shipp of Washington.

Troopers Rush to Scene.

Telephone calls for help had gone forth from the warden's office to the state troopers' barracks at Troy and at Malone, N. Y., and to the army post at Plattsburgh. Fifty troopers with riot guns were held in readiness at Troy while thirty-five more raced from Malone, 45 miles away, for the scene.

Before they arrived, however, the convicts had rushed the walls and been driven back by the prison guards and townsfolk. The convicts attacked on three sides at once, climbing upon one another's shoulders and trying to pyramid over the walls. A volley of machine gun bullets disrupted the rush and sent the prisoners scurrying to cover. Shackelford, Reis, and Brunner were shot and killed in that futile sally.

Meanwhile the fire departments of Dannemora, Morrisonville, and Plattsburgh arrived. The convicts had possession of the prison yard and it was impossible to enter it. So the firemen mounted the walls and directed hose lines upon the roofs of the burning buildings.

U. S. Soldiers on Scene.

By 10 o'clock the first state troopers arrived. At Plattsburg, sixteen miles east of Dannemora, Maj. Max W. Sullivan loaded two companies of the 26th United States infantry aboard motor lorries. The soldiers arrived about noon, but were prevented from joining in the battle by the lack of the required authority from the war department officials.

Although the soldiers took no part in the hostilities, their presence had a moral effect, and their supply of hand grenades and tear gas bombs helped to bring about the final surrender of the convicts.

The prisoners did not repeat their attempt to storm the walls. The sight of three of their number lying dead at the foot of the wall was enough for some of them. About a dozen threw up their hands, marched back to the cell blocks and locked themselves in after the repulse. From there they yelled and shouted curses at the guards and encouragement to their embattled fellows.

Seek Shelter in Buildings.

Those who refused to abandon their desperate hope of liberty sought shelter in buildings in the southeast corner of the yard, the blacksmith forge, the mattress shop and the shoe issue shop. These had escaped the fire which by that time was blazing unchecked in three buildings and threatening to spread to another structure.

One group raided the power plant and succeeded in putting it out of commission. Fires which were kindled from shavings were extinguished by state troopers who entered the building through a door outside the wall and drove back the infuriated prisoners.

Other groups raided the workshops and seized crowbars, pickaxes, and every implement which might prove useful as a weapon. Nuts and bolts and small bits of iron were hurled upward at the guards on the walls, but no one was hurt.

For a while it looked as though another sortie against the walls might be attempted but before it was tried the arrival of state troopers discouraged the ringleaders and they were driven back into their cells.

MOORE, ON VACATION HOME, LAUDS LATINS' BUSINESS OUTLOOK

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Alexander P. Moore, the United States ambassador to Peru who played an important rôle in bringing Peru and Chile into agreement on the Tacna-Arica settlement, arrived in New York today on the liner Santa Maria, for a three months' vacation. He waxed enthusiastic about the opportunities for American capital in South and Central America.

"The United States has most of the trade on the west coast, and unlimited opportunities await our far sighted business men in that land of the future," the ambassador said. "It's the only place North Americans have to go for trade since we have developed our own country, and since the United States has closed its doors to Europeans, turning the immigrants from the various countries of Europe to the lands south of the United States.

"With the Tacna-Arica dispute settled and well established governments in Peru and Chile the fear of war has been banished. Chile is now in a position to reduce its military and naval strength and there will be a great improvement in economic conditions generally on the west coast."

IS ISSUANCE OF WRIT MANDATORY ACT? TEST SEEN

Judges Refuse Request in Sickle Case.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Peter Graban, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Herbert C. Coy, murder, sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary; John Floss, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge William J. Lindsay.

Albert Loutka, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in Pontiac reformatory by Judge John J. Sullivan.

A test of the contention that it is compulsory for a judge to issue a writ of habeas corpus—provided it is in proper form—loomed as a possibility yesterday when two Criminal court judges refused to issue a writ in behalf of Raymond Sickle, 28 year old wounded war veteran, now in the penitentiary for robbery.

Attorneys representing Sickle indicated that they would apply to the Supreme court for a mandamus either against the pardon and parole board, which has refused to release Sickle, or against the judges who refused to issue the writ. They had not determined last night which course to pursue.

Jurisdiction Is Question.

The statute provides that a judge must issue a writ if it is in proper form and within the scope of the habeas corpus act, or submit to the forfeiture of a sum of money as damages. Judges John P. McGoorty and Harry B. Miller, who declined to act on the petition presented yesterday by Attorneys Max Lurie and Leopold Arnstein, claimed that the petition did not come within the act and that therefore they were without jurisdiction.

The attorneys announced that they were following the precedent recently established in the case of Harry Jennings, wherein a writ was granted by Judge Joseph David of the Superior court. In that case, as in the present one, it is alleged, the parole board refused to act on the eligibility of the prisoner, although he had served out the time required for his parole.

Has Served Six Years.

Sickle, who was wounded in both knees during the world war, has served 6 years and 3 months of a 10 year to life sentence.

It is admitted in the petition that Sickle walked off the honor farm, but it is claimed that he did so in order to secure proper medical treatment at Indianapolis for his war wounds. He returned voluntarily to the penitentiary eleven months later, and it is claimed that he made up the time lost by his technical escape and therefore should be paroled.

BIRD NEST FOUND IN TAIL OF PLANE THAT KILLED TWO

Inquest Discloses Safety Laws Are Ignored.

Four aviators and two business men were drafted yesterday as coroner's jurors to inquire into the deaths of a pilot and a young woman passenger in an airplane crash Sunday evening. After five hours of investigation the jury was almost incredulous of the conditions they found governing the flight of planes in Cook county.

An assertion was made by Maj. Reed Landis, wartime ace who acted as foreman of the jury, that as a result of the inquiry a new régime in the enforcement of air regulations should be inaugurated in this district. He was joined in this belief by Maj. R. W. Schroeder, general manager of the Chicago branch of the Curtiss Flying service; R. E. Hollis, manager of the photographic division of the same company; Gilbert M. Smith, another well known aviator; Lester R. Canon and W. H. Trenkler, business men of Melrose Park, who were the other jurors.

Uninformed on Law.

Questioning by Maj. Landis of A. Veatch, a county highway policeman, revealed that, although a law was passed a year and a half ago putting the enforcement of air regulations squarely up to the sheriff in the county and the police commissioner in the city, the policeman had not been informed of this law by his superiors.

The general belief of police, Veatch revealed, has been that they had no jurisdiction over aviation fields or aviators.

When the jurors inquired specifically into the accident Sunday night in which Miss Hilda Schaufelberger, 20 years old, 1842 Milwaukee avenue, and Pilot Jens C. Jensen, 26 years old, 229 South Laflin street, were killed, they discovered facts pointing to the need of enforcement of air regulations.

Bird's Nest in Tail of Plane.

Jensen was taking up passengers for hire and even giving lessons to student pilots, it was learned, although his license was only a private pilot's license which specifically forbade accepting any money for such services. Moreover, they found Jensen's plane, a Swallow biplane, powered with an OX-5 war surplus motor, in an ill kept condition and tail-heavy, a condition conducive to spins while in the air. In the tail much dirt and a bird's nest were found.

Maj. Schroeder, who discovered the above conditions, also expressed an opinion that Jensen apparently did not know how to come out of spins in the air, an ability which should be possessed by a skilled pilot.

Jackson P. Taylor, whose wife, Mrs. Pauline Taylor, was critically injured in the crash, testified that he paid $5 to George Hutchings, 150 North Elmwood avenue, Oak Park, when Pilot Jensen took the two women passengers aloft on the fatal flight. Hutchings' connection with the field, known as the Akers field, at Wolf road and Grand avenue, was explained but vaguely.

Pilot "a Sort of Partner."

Akers, a former moving picture camera operator, said he leased the 110 acres of the field last March and set himself up in the airplane manufacturing business.

"Jensen was sort of in partnership with me," he said.

"You allowed Jensen to carry passengers without knowing whether he was licensed or not?" queried Maj. Landis.

"Well, he told me he was licensed," responded Akers.

The inquest, held in the undertaking parlors in Melrose Park under the direction of Deputy Dennis Carroll, was continued until Aug. 20 to allow Mrs. Taylor, who is in the Westlake hospital with multiple skull fractures and a broken jaw, to recover and testify.

TWO U. S. FLYERS KILLED IN FALL OF PLANE IN NICARAGUA

Washington, D. C., July 22.—(AP)—U. S. marine corps headquarters were advised late today that Capt. Euville D. Howard and Private Robert K. Moody were killed this morning in an airplane crash south of Ocotal, Nicaragua. Lieut. Clarence M. Knight, a passenger, was seriously injured.

The airplane was reported to have fallen into the Coco river, but both bodies were recovered. Upon receipt of the news three planes left the marine aviation field at Managua to return with the bodies.

Canadian Instructor Killed.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 22.—[U. P.]—Capt. Percy A. Hainstock was killed and Pat Conlin seriously injured when their airplane crashed at Lulu Island airport today. Hainstock was a flying instructor and Conlin a student.

Plane Hits Tree; Two Die.

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 22.—(AP)—Elmer C. Brown, 36, and Stephen S. Nerney, Hollywood, Cal., aviators, were killed here this afternoon when their airplane was wrecked after it struck some trees at an airport where the men had attempted to land.

Two Killed in South Dakota.

Groton, S. D., July 22.—(AP)—Alfred Ablen and Henry Larsen of Groton were killed when an airplane went into a tailspin and was wrecked. Ablen, a licensed pilot, was carrying passengers on short flights. Witnesses said the plane righted itself momentarily from the tail spin at an altitude of about 300 feet and then fell.

Plane Crashes Into Train.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 22.—Thousands of people who wandered out to Berlin's aviation field, Tempelhof, seeking a cool breeze today, witnessed the collision of an airplane and a train. The crash cost the pilot's life. They saw a small blue airplane take off, lose a propellor in the air, turn over three times, race straight into a nearby train, and crash to the ground after striking the engine.

Convict Drowns in Trying to Escape; Another Caught

New York, July 22.—[Special.]—One convict was drowned and another was captured today after their attempt to escape from a quarry gang of the Hudson county penitentiary in Secaucus, N. J. The dead man was Alfred Mandello of Newark, sentenced to serve eighteen months for grand larceny. The other is John Brady, 21, of Chicago, serving eighteen months for breaking and entering.

Dry Agent Shot in Hand by Alleged Bootlegger

Hooker, S. D., July 22.—[Special.]—William Sullivan, federal dry agent of Sioux Falls, was shot in the right hand and wrist Sunday, when he attempted to arrest Albert Nelson, 32, of Hooker, from whom the agent claims to have purchased moonshine. Nelson escaped and Sullivan was taken to Sioux Falls for treatment. The fugitive's wife is confined in the state hospital for insane at Yankton.

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 22.—The trial of Edward Emile Jochen, American, indicted on a charge of fraud and theft in obtaining a $5,000 check from M. A. J. Pennellier, a bullion merchant, as an advance against marketing $25,000,000 worth of silver supposed to be buried in the hull of the sunken Treasure Galleon, began today.

MISSING TEACHER SAFE, LETTER TO HER FIANCE SAYS

Fears that Faye Olson, 20 years old, 2133 North Leamington avenue, substitute school teacher, had met with an accident or had been waylaid while on her hike through the forest preserves were discounted yesterday when the Craigin police learned that the girl had quarreled with her fiancé, Dr. Ernest Bossow, 20 East Jackson boulevard.

Dr. Bossow yesterday received a letter from her stating that she is "all right" and asking him to pacify her mother "if she worries too much."

Emily Bouker, 13 years old, a pupil of the Vanderpoel school, left her home at 9731 Longwood avenue yesterday after packing her belongings. The Gresham police started a search for her. Her parents said they believed novels she had read led her to leave in search of romance.

PARIS CONSTRUCTS 5,148 LODGINGS TO LESSEN CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 22.—Actual construction on government owned lands to alleviate the living quarters' crisis was begun today at the Porte Italie, where a block of buildings containing 5,148 lodgings was started by Louis Loucheur, minister of social provision.

The rents vary between $160 and $265 yearly, but the tenants must prove they are entitled to lease these low priced flats.

M. Loucheur's program provides for 18,000 cheap flats and 20,000 medium price apartments. The cheaper kind has no heating or bathroom, but contain a toilet, shower, and water heater. The medium priced flats are heated and have an elevator and larger rooms. Despite the program no relief is foreseen, as it is estimated that 100,000 lodgings are required.

FARMERS REAP BIG DOLLAR CROP IN MIDDLE WEST

Harvest Prospects Fine as Prices Soar.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Midwest farmers are beginning to harvest a bumper crop of dollars because of higher prices of grain and live stock due to crop shortages in other sections. The agricultural buying power of the central states, particularly Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana, shows a much greater improvement than other areas of the United States.

Rough estimates indicate that the wheat growers of the central states will get approximately $25,000,000 more for their crop this year than last, while the northwest growers will fall short about $19,000,000. In the five great states around Chicago—Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin—there will be about 37,000,000 bushels more wheat than last year. With these states not included the rest of the United States will be 105,000,000 bushels short, according to calculations made by Nat C. Murray, a Chicago crop authority.

Canada Faces Huge Shortage.

North American wheat growers are about 336 million bushels short of last year's crop. The bulk of this big shortage is in Canada, where it is estimated that this year's harvest will yield about 270,000,000 bushels, compared with 534,000,000 harvested last year. Canada's shortage is likely to be even greater as a result of unfavorable weather.

Wheat producers of the middle west are still further favored because the spring wheat crop is expected to drop from the yield of 324,000,000 bushels last year to an estimated yield of only 251,000,000 bushels this year. Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, and Colorado are short more than 55,000,000 bushels of spring and winter wheat. When the wheat is harvested in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana there is expected to be a shortage of more than 70,000,000 bushels compared with last year.

All Crops Improved.

Besides their advantageous position in wheat, farmers of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin will make a better showing on practically all of their crops than they did last year. They not only have an abundance of small grain but they have plenty of hay and feed to fatten their live stock.

In these five states farmers still have a chance to mature an average corn crop and they have more than their share of live stock, through which they will be able to market their crops at high prices. The corn crop is yet to be made. July weather has helped to offset the late start and Mr. Murray believes that favorable weather in August will bring the corn crop up to the average for the corn belt.

A bumper corn crop appears to be very unlikely, but there will be enough to fatten live stock this fall and winter. Iowa, the biggest corn and hog state, has a chance to mature a crop of corn above the average. The state is not only living up to its reputation as a corn and hog state, but this year Iowa farmers have 34,000 acres more wheat than they cultivated in 1924.

Illinois farmers have a chance of picking an average crop of corn and they are harvesting twice as many bushels of wheat as they had last year. Indiana will have about three times as much wheat as in 1928, while Hoosier corn is making a fair showing.

The federal government has predicted that farmers will get about 25 cents a bushel more for their wheat this season than in 1928. With wheat jumping up several cents a bushel in a single day no one would accuse forecasters of being wild in their predictions.

Central states farmers are not only fortunate in having millions of dollars worth of fine wheat but they have more than their share of the nation's live stock. Hogs are selling for approximately $1 more a hundred than they did a year ago. Cattle prices are about where they were a year ago, when prices were on a comparatively high level. Lamb prices are still high.

A short spring pig crop has helped to boost hog prices. Middle west farmers consider themselves lucky in not having reduced their spring pig crop as much as growers did in some other sections. There was a decrease of 8 per cent in the spring pig crop of the United States, but Iowa, for example, reduced its crop only 6½ per cent, according to official estimates, while in the south Atlantic states there was a decrease of 15 per cent. South central states cut down on their pig crop 20 per cent. Iowa had more than 10,000,000 hogs at the first of this year, and Illinois had nearly half that many, but reduced the crop about 9 per cent. Indiana had nearly 3,000,000 and reduced the number by only 5 per cent.

Price Gains Offset Cut.

The increase in the price of hogs is expected to more than offset the decrease in the size of the spring pig crop, and there is also a hog price boosting element in the corn crop.

Market observers consider the middle western farmer as in an unusual position this year. They point out that it is not often that there is a decrease in both grain and live stock with the central west farmers having their bins and barns full of crops, giving them a chance to collect big profits. It is pointed out that small grain growers were extremely fortunate in having prices skyrocket before the bulk of the crop had left their farms.

Midwest farmers are also fortunate in having good sized, high quality fruits, vegetables and other products included in their new program of crop diversification. Where the acreage of an old standby is slightly reduced a greater money making crop is put in its place. Illinois has 40,000 acres of wheat less than in 1924, but there are other crops growing where wheat once grew. Indiana has 215,000 fewer acres of wheat than six years ago, but more intensified and higher paying crops have been planted.

Grain men have noticed a slight shift in the grain areas of the country. They point to the tendency to increase the wheat acreage on the cheaper lands of the Dakotas, Montana, and the south, and to decrease it in the older sections of the country. Big returns from this year's wheat crop may check this tendency, especially since the farmers of the older agricultural regions, particularly the central western states, are gleaning so much in the harvest of gold.

Small Farm Co-operatives Must Merge to Gain Help

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 22.—[Special.]—Combinations of small farmers' coöperative organizations to eliminate duplication of terminal and warehousing facilities must be effected before financial assistance will be extended by the federal farm board under a policy announced today. The announcement was made in response to an appeal from Florida citrus fruit growers for help to market their fall crops and stem the ravages of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

During today's hearing of the petitions of the Florida citrus exchange and the Florida United Growers for loans to finance the installation of equipment to kill the larvæ of the fruit fly it was disclosed that both organizations have terminals and warehouses scattered through the same section.

Representatives of the citrus farmers were advised that no loans would be made until they merged and thereby reduced expenses by eliminating duplicated facilities.

Legge Evolves Policy.

Commenting on the decision, Alexander Legge, chairman of the farm board, declared the new policy would be followed in future dealings with other coöperatives as a means of placing marketing systems on a sound financial basis. Out of the nearly 12,000 coöperative groups in the country, only 500 are comprehensive organizations, and it has been estimated that if the indicated mergers are accomplished not more than 1,000 coöperative organizations will exist.

The board's announcement of the new policy was contained in a review of the hearing granted the Florida citrus growers, which concluded:

"The board was most sympathetically inclined. It pointed out to this committee that the evident intention of the agricultural marketing act was to encourage group action to a point so that intelligent direction and control could be had of the movement of crops so as to avoid surpluses and to avoid gluts and famines and unnecessary and expensive duplication of facilities.

Told to Consolidate.

"The board therefore suggested to these two coöperative groups that they should first get together in a consolidation of this coöperative movement and come to the board with a unified program looking forward to a more orderly distribution of the citrus crops of Florida. They were assured that if they could do this the board would go just as far as it possibly could in helping to finance them in their most difficult situation."

Swede Hops for U. S. but Is Forced Back by Fog

LONDON, July 22.—(AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen relays a message from Ivigtut, Greenland, saying that the Swedish aviator, Capt. Albin Ahrenberg, attempting to fly from Sweden to the United States, hopped off at 1:50 p. m., but was forced by fog to return again at 4 p. m.

ST. LOUIS FLYERS NEAR NEW MARK FOR ENDURANCE

Less than 20 Hours to Go to Break Record.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—(AP)—Confident of establishing a new world's record for sustained flight tomorrow, Dale [Red] Jackson and Forest O'Brine were flying smoothly, high over Lambert-St. Louis field, tonight in their monoplane St. Louis Robin. At 7:17 p. m. central standard time the flyers had been up 228 hours, and were less than twenty hours short of their goal.

If they are still in the air at 8:01 p. m. tomorrow they will have exceeded by one hour the present record of 246 hours 43 minutes and 32 seconds, set July 12 at Culver City, Cal., by Loren Mendell and Roland Reinhart.

The St. Louis Robin was without the companionship of its sister plane, the Missouri Robin, tonight. The latter was forced down at 7:51 a. m. today by a leaky oil line after 117 hours and 20 minutes in the air.

Houston Plane Flies On.

Houston, Tex., July 22.—(AP)—The airplane Billion Dollar City tonight was clicking off the final hours of its sixth full day of flying, having passed the 124 hour mark at 5:49:54 p. m.

Possible disaster for the flyers, O. L. Loomis and Joe Glass, was narrowly averted this afternoon when a diminishing gasoline supply was replenished during an emergency refueling. The fuel supply ran low after the pilots nosed their plane skyward and then changed spark plugs in the engine as the ship glided with a dead motor.

Make Forced Landing.

Shreveport, La., July 22.—(AP)—The airplane K. W. K. H. made a forced landing in a field several miles from the Shreveport airport at 7:10 p. m. tonight after 123⅓ hours in the air in an effort to break the refueling endurance record.

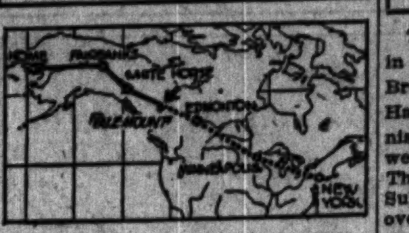
Tune Up Tokio Hop Machine.

Tacoma, Wash., July 22.—(AP)—As soon as his monoplane City of Tacoma is in shape and the weather man tells him the route is clear, Lieut. Harold Bromley said today he would takeoff on his projected nonstop flight to Tokio.

Just when the plane will be ready was uncertain today. It may be ready by Wednesday morning, but it is more likely that it will be Saturday or Sunday before the experts pronounce the engine in suitable condition for the long grind of 4,700 miles across the north Pacific.

Word was received from Tokio today that permission to land had been granted to the flyer by the Japanese government on request of the American embassy.

CRASHES



New York, July 22.—[Special.]—Capt. Ross G. Hoyt's round trip to Nome, Alaska, ended about 9 o'clock last night, Pacific coast time, when his plane crashed 200 miles beyond Edmonton, at Valemount, B. C., according to a telegram from Capt. Hoyt received at Mitchel field, his starting point. The message said:

"Forced landing in mountains at Valemount, 200 miles from Edmonton, on the way from White Horse, on account of water in gasoline. No injury to myself. Plane damaged beyond repair here. Unless otherwise instructed will load plane for shipment by train."

AVIATION NOTES

The monoplane City of Oakland, in which Ernest Smith and Emery Bronte crossed from Oakland to Hawaii, has been rebuilt and refurnished, and is now the flagship of the west coast Bay City Air Fleet Service. The City of Oakland, with Charles Sullivan at the controls, made a flight over the Golden Gate on July 14 in commemoration of the transoceanic flight.

Chicago and Dallas are to be linked by an air-rail service after August 1, according to officials of the Illinois Central railroad. Passengers will leave Chicago for St. Louis via rail and will transfer there to airplanes which will carry them to Springfield, Mo., Tulsa, Okla., Oklahoma City, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Dallas. The total time from Chicago to Dallas will be 17 hours. Extensions of this service, with stopover privileges at Dallas, will take the passenger to Los Angeles in 42 hours.

The department of commerce yesterday announced the completion of its last radio station on the route between Chicago and New York. The new station, located at Maywood, Ill., will complete the link of radio communication which is designed to eliminate the possibility of flyers getting lost. The completion before Aug. 1 of beacons at Sterling, Ill., and Des Moines will extend the department's beacon service to Omaha.

MILAN-CHICAGO FLYERS TO WEAR UNSINKABLE SUITS

STRESA, Italy, July 22.—(AP)—Experiments with waterproof clothes the Polish aviators Klisz and Kowlczyk will wear on their attempted flight from Milan to Chicago via Dublin have been concluded satisfactorily and the airmen believe they could remain afloat for a fortnight in them if forced down at sea.

The suits, made of double waterproof material and weighing nearly ten pounds, have numerous pockets for food, water stimulants, a mirror for signaling, red flags, electric lamps with powerful reflectors, etc.

They can be inflated and are said to be unsinkable in any sea.

TWO BURGLARS CAPTURED.

Two burglars were caught early yesterday after they broke into the soft drink parlor of Daniel Garvey, 1103 Webster avenue. A third member of the gang escaped. The prisoners gave their names as Conway Beck, 26 years old, 2218 Clifton avenue, and Christ Erskine, 2618 Orchard street.

The world's most popular electric refrigerator achieves a new popularity with the Cold Control

THE fact that there are more Frigidaires in use than all other electric refrigerators combined can mean but one thing. It means that a vast majority of buyers have convinced themselves that Frigidaire offers greater value.

The Frigidaire compressor is super-powerful. It maintains constant low temperatures easily and quietly. It is so incredibly quiet that you don't hear it start, stop, or run. And it is completely enclosed in the bottom of the cabinet—away from dust and dirt.

And the surplus power of the Frigidaire compressor is under instant control—available for use in extra quick freezing of ice cubes and desserts. Just turn the handle of the Frigidaire "Cold Control" to any one of six freezing speeds and the powerful compressor responds at once.

Inspect the Frigidaires now on display. See for yourself the many important features that save time and trouble. And get the new low prices—the liberal General Motors terms.

Enjoy the dozens of delicious frozen desserts made possible by the Frigidaire Cold Control shown at right.

Only Frigidaire will give you all these 8 outstanding features

1 The Frigidaire Cold Control . . . which speeds the freezing of ice cubes and makes possible dozens of new desserts.
2 Beautiful cabinets . . . perfectly proportioned . . . with all mechanism completely concealed yet easily accessible.
3 Food shelves at a convenient height . . . no stooping is necessary.
4 Patented self-sealing ice trays . . . which retain the intense cold of the freezing unit.
5 Surplus power . . . which keeps foods fresh and safe . . . no matter how warm the weather.
6 Quiet operation . . . you don't hear it start, stop, or run.
7 New low prices . . . made possible by overwhelming popularity and quantity production.
8 Liberal General Motors terms . . . enable it to pay for itself while you are paying for it.

U. S. JURY TO SEE IF JOHN SALTIS' ALCOHOL IS "FIT"

Joe's Brother Held After Squabble in Court.

John Saltis, brother of the more notorious Joe and Steve in bootlegging circles, faced United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday on a liquor charge. The hearing threatened to become a squabble among the government, the police, and the prohibition department for a time, but late in the afternoon the situation calmed, and Saltis was held to the federal grand jury in $2,000 bonds on charges of possessing and transporting a five gallon can of alcohol.

Assistant United States Attorney Edward A. Fisher started the controversy shortly after Saltis was arraigned before Commissioner Walker. Sergt. Michael Dalton of the New City station, who arrested Saltis on Saturday when he found alcohol hidden in the back seat of Saltis' automobile, testified, under Fisher's questioning, that he had tasted the stuff and found it was fit for beverage purposes.

Changes His Opinion.

A moment later he admitted to Attorney George Crane, Saltis' lawyer, that he hadn't drunk the alcohol, but had merely dripped some of it on his finger and touched it with his tongue. He said he didn't know if it was fit or not.

"What?" demanded Fisher, "you just finished testifying that it was fit. You aren't fit to be a police officer."

Fisher ordered the policeman to have his commanding officer, Capt. Willard Malone in the Commissioner's court at 3 o'clock and the hearing was adjourned until that time.

Keep Only a Pint.

At the afternoon session Capt. Malone explained that he handed the alcohol over to Prohibition Agents Herman Glazer and John L. Smyser. He stood by, he said, while the agents poured out all but one pint. Fisher then put the agents on the witness stand and Smyser testified he had taken the pint of evidence home, locked it in a suitcase, put the key in his vest pocket and gone to bed. It gave off a distinct odor of moonshine, he said.

On cross examination, Attorney James M. Burke, the Saltis afternoon lawyer, pointed out that some one might have entered the room during the night and changed the liquor. Smyser admitted that the bottle was not sealed and labeled until he took it to the prohibition office.

Scores Drowned in Europe Seeking Relief from Heat

LONDON, July 22. — [U. P.] — Scores were drowned in Europe during the week end while seeking relief from the heat wave in bathing, reports indicated today. In addition several were killed and injured in a storm and tidal wave in Great Britain. Fifteen were drowned at Budapest on Sunday while bathing in the Danube river. Eight were drowned at Vienna and six at Prague. Seven were drowned near Berlin. Hundreds of thousands visited resorts to escape the heat, which reached the suffocating height of 107 degrees Fahrenheit in places.

ROB FREIGHT CAR OF $9,000 ALCOHOL UNDER U. S. SEAL

Nine hundred gallons of pure grain alcohol, worth $9,000 at the retail price of $10 per gallon, was stolen from a freight car en route from Pekin, Ill., to Chicago last week. The theft was disclosed by Prohibition Administrator E. C. Yellowley last night. The car contained about 3,500 gallons of alcohol in 50 gallon drums, the administrator said, and the theft was discovered in the Santa Fé railroad yards here when the car was weighed in last Friday.

The shipment was consigned to the Chicago Distillery company and was sent from the concern's Pekin plant under a government permit and bond. Because of the bond it was not necessary for prohibition agents to convoy the car, Mr. Yellowley said. After four days of investigation several men, none of them government employés, are under suspicion, he said.

PREPARE TO ASK A REDUCTION IN U. S. INCOME TAX

A thorough study of the federal income tax laws, with a view of asking the next congress to reduce personal, corporation and estate taxes, will be made by a subcommittee of the internal revenue committee of the United States chamber of commerce.

This was announced yesterday by F. W. Sargent, member of the parent committee and president of the Chicago and North Western railroad, following a meeting at the Stevens hotel. It is expected that the survey will be completed before the committee meets again in Washington on Sept. 25.

A study of the present federal income tax laws in the hope of bringing about their codification at an early date also has been intrusted to subcommittees, Mr. Sargent said.

$69,942 TAX LIEN IS FILED AGAINST G. F. CROISSANT

G. Frank Croissant, real estate dealer, with offices at 185 North Wabash avenue, is delinquent in his 1926 income tax payments to the amount of $69,942.79, according to the terms of a tax lien filed against him in the United States district court yesterday. The principal was given at $61,317.96 to which is added interest of $8,624.83.

Under the internal revenue laws the government can seize real and personal property belonging to Croissant to the extent of the lien. Croissant is reported to have lost heavily in 1926, particularly in a subdivision he sponsored at Boca Raton, Fla. He became involved in litigation in Chicago subsequently and was dropped from the rolls of the Chicago real estate board in January, 1926.

GIRL TO REVEAL CHARGES AGAINST CHANNELL TODAY

The basis of a $100,000 suit against Charles A. Channell, wealthy president of the O'Cedar Mop company, will be revealed today when Attorney Maurice L. Hill, representing Miss Ruth Trombley, files a declaration in the case in the Circuit court. Mystery has surrounded the suit since the praecipe was filed more than a week ago.

Mr. Channell, who is married and prominent in Chicago society, characterized the suit as an attempt to extort money. He said he remembered meeting Miss Trombley "once or twice" at a night club or hotel, but professed ignorance of her charges.

The girl, who is 22 years old, lives at the Ambassador hotel. The Channells live at 257 East Delaware street.

BURGLARS ABANDON AUTO.

Three burglars were seen to enter a house at Congress and Laflin streets yesterday afternoon. They had disappeared when police arrived, leaving their automobile in an alley.

CAPT. SCOTT, U. S. NAVY, DIVORCED BY COURT IN RENO

Reno, Nev., July 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Rebecca Collier Scott, step-daughter of the noted T. De Witt Talmadge, preacher of Brooklyn, N. Y., obtained a divorce in district court here today from Capt. W. Pitt Scott, assistant commandant of the eleventh naval district of the United States navy at San Diego. She accused him of cruelty and telling her when she was ill that she was only "making heavy weather."

In an answer filed by the captain, he said his reference to heavy weather had only been psychological. He did not contest the divorce.

SANITARY BOARD WILL FIGHT FOR SEWER CONTROL

Insists on Supervision of City's Projects.

The sanitary district will contest the decision of Judge Jarecki that the act requiring the approval of the district on all sewer plans by the city of Chicago is unconstitutional. Walter E. Beebe, chief counsel for the canal board, announced yesterday that he is prepared to contest the first confirmation order by a Cook county court which authorized the city to proceed with it program of sewer construction without the indorsement of the sanitary district.

"The sanitary district must exercise some supervision over the sewers which empty into its sewage treatment plants," Mr. Beebe declared. "Without the power of determining what percentage of the sewage of the Chicago region shall be treated in our plants, we cannot deal with the federal government on a comprehensive basis. We are, therefore, awaiting the confirmation of the first major project by the city as a test case upon which to carry our claims to the Supreme court."

The sanitary district has prepared exceptions to each of the sewer projects which have been planned without the supervision of its engineers, and is prepared to demand a decision of the Supreme court on the ruling, according to Mr. Beebe.

Says Mate Tried to Make Her Eat Egg; Asks Decree

Because her husband, Frank Lescure, 4832 North Lincoln street, tried to force an egg down her throat when she refused to eat, Mrs. Alice Lescure filed a bill for divorce in the Superior court yesterday. The bill, drawn by Attorney W. W. O'Brien, charges Lescure with cruelty. Mrs. Lescure avers that she is a light eater, and was frequently beaten because of it by Lescure, who is described as a heavy eater.

BREMEN BREAKS OCEAN RECORDS ON MAIDEN TRIP

Crosses to U. S. in 4 Days 17 Hours.

According to the log the departure from Cherbourg July 18 at 2:12 a. m. was marked by cloudy, rather rough weather. This persisted throughout the first 24 hours and, combined with patches of fog, reduced speed to 288 miles for the day. On July 19 the log showed the vessel ran 687 miles beneath cloudy skies, through passing showers, and in fairly rough seas.

On July 20 the Bremen encountered fine, clear weather, and a moderate sea. She clipped off 704 miles. The next day was generally fair, marred only by slight patches of fog, and the Bremen rollicked along for 705 miles. Then, today, she set up a record to shoot at. This is the way the log reads:

Stowaway Is on Board.

There was a stowaway aboard, but he was tucked away in the brig. He gave his name as Hans Gruwe. He went aboard at Bremerhaven, and was not discovered until after the ship left Cherbourg.

A tall, long haired, bearded man, Gruwe wandered about the first class cabins posing as an author. Then, after the second day he went below to the second class quarters and introduced himself to the passengers as a doctor—a specialist in the treatment of nerves. It was a day later, when he began treating passengers and charging them, that his identity was discovered.

The Bremen cost $15,000,000. It is 938 feet over-all, and has a passenger capacity of 2,800. The crew numbers 987.

The Bremen is unique in many respects. It has the widest promenade decks of any vessel and the longest. Its lifeboats are hung high above the decks and provide shelter. They are launched down iron tracks, and the launching is mechanically controlled.

Control Room World's Best.

The control room is just in front of the captain's quarters on this level. No vessel sailing the Atlantic has a control room that compares with that of the Bremen. Every modern aid to navigation is there, and the vessel steers so easily, officers said, that it can be handled by a helmsman. Decks run from A to G, with a promenade deck also running alongside deck A.

Medicinal baths are available, including both Turkish and electrical treatments. There is a huge swimming pool and in each room is a life saving jacket.

A shopping thoroughfare where everything from clothing to jewelry may be bought occupies a part of B deck and a florist shop and candy shop flank the entrance to the main dining room.

The barroom is nice, large, and airy. The bar itself is rather small as land bars go, but passengers said the flow over its mahogany side was like Niagara.

A photographer's studio was a novelty to many and was well patronized.

Music, Dancing, and Movies.

Passengers were unanimous in praising the smoothness of the ship. At no time, they said, was any roll felt and the engines did not make any noise even at highest speed.

Last Saturday evening, while the Bremen was steaming along at 28 knots, a difficult major surgical operation was performed on Mrs. Edward Adams, wife of Dr. Edward Adams to New York. Mrs. Adams was near death from an intestinal obstruction when Dr. William Sherman, chief surgeon for the Carnegie Steel corporation of Pittsburgh, a passenger on the Bremen, was called to the ship's hospital to operate. Assisting Dr. Sherman was Dr. Fred Albee, noted orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Daniel Levinthal of Michael Reese hospital, Chicago, and Dr. Phillip Lewin also of Chicago. Staff surgeons also were present during the operation.

"I never worked under better conditions," said Dr. Sherman. "The ship was as steady as the floor of a hospital."

Mail Rushed Ashore.

Mail bearing the Bremen postmark of July 17 was delivered to the New York postoffice at 2:30 this afternoon. An airplane was catapulted from the deck of the Bremen at 1 p. m. and was piloted by Baron Joachim Von Studnitz and Karl Kirchoff, radio operator. It landed at 1:44, while the Bremen was still racing toward Fire Island at 28 knots, delivered its cargo to a launch which took the six sacks ashore, where they were sped by tube to the postoffice.

The Cunard liner Mauretania, for 20 years the fastest ship on the Atlantic, resigned its speed championship immediately following the arrival of the Bremen. Capt. J. McNeil sent the following telegram to the Bremen:

"Capt. McNeil, officers and ship's company of the steamship Mauretania heartily congratulate you on your record passage and wish you every success."

ALL TRANS-ATLANTIC SHIP RECORDS BROKEN BY HUGE LINER BREMEN

New York, July 22.—[Special.]—The achievement of the S. S. Bremen in setting a new record for trans-Atlantic steamer crossing, brings to mind comparisons as follows.

The Mayflower, a sailing vessel of 180 tons, crossed with the Pilgrims from Southampton, England, to Plymouth, Mass., in 63 days in 1620.

The first steamer, The Savannah, American built and of 350 tons, crossed from Savannah to Liverpool in 26 days in 1819, being the first steam-propelled vessel to make the trip.

In 1841 the steamer Acadia made the trip in 9 days 21 hours.

In 1889 the City of Paris made it in 5 days 19 hours and 18 minutes.

The Mauretania of the Cunard line crossed from Cherbourg to New York in 5 days, 2 hours, and 34 minutes in September, 1928, beating its own previous record of August, 1924, of 5 days, 3 hours and 20 minutes.

The Bremen crossed in 4 days, 17 hours and 42 minutes.

ACT TO EVICT LOAFERS FROM FEDERAL BLDG.

Professional bondsmen, "runners" for lawyers and court hangers-on were bodily evicted from the corridors of the federal building yesterday by deputy United States marshals and watchmen acting on orders from United States Attorney Johnson and Collector of Customs Anthony Czarnecki. Both officials announced that the action is the beginning of a permanent campaign to rid the halls adjacent to courtrooms of loafers. All those found in the future who cannot explain their presence satisfactorily will be held under the vagrancy law.

Complaints have reached Assistant District Attorney Edward A. Fisher recently that prisoners are being bulldozed into hiring lawyers they do not wish to represent them and are being held up for high fees on bonds before they can gain their freedom.

GERMAN COURT'S RULING SILENCES U. S. SOUND FILMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 22.—Both American and European leaders in the talkie machine patent war boasted that they were the real victors after a German court, acting on behalf of the Telefunken company, prohibited the projection of talkies on Western Electric machinery. This ends performances in all of Germany's talkie theaters which have been showing "The Singing Fool," "Abie's Irish Rose," and others to packed houses.

Americans representing the Western Electric company gloat that "closing down the talkies will create such indignation among theater goers that German concerns will be forced to give up their efforts to paralyze our movements through a patent war."

At the same time the Germans, allied with Dutch and other European concerns, are patting each other on the back that "the decision of the Berlin court will force German showmen to use German machines." The battle centers around the Telefunken's patented amplifiers. The Telefunken company claims they are being used by Western Electric company, which failed to pay a license fee for them. Showmen hope for a compromise.

BOND WINDFALL PERKS UP CITY HALL SPENDERS

Appropriate a Fourth of 12 Million Issue.

BY CARL WARREN.

Hard pressed for cash and with all other funds appropriated, the city hall administration has completed preparations for a dip into its newest supply of money—the $12,000,000 water bond issue recently authorized by the legislature.

An inquiry yesterday disclosed that although the money will not be available until after Aug. 1, the city council already has appropriated an extra $3,282,000 from the water fund for expenditure during 1929. The money will be spent under the direction of Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe.

More Cash for Pay Rolls.

The new water bond income is expected to ease up the pay roll situation considerably at the city hall. One alderman said yesterday he expected to put at least a dozen of his "boys" on Mr. Wolfe's pay roll early in September.

The city administration went to Springfield for aid last spring after the old water certificates, of which $11,000,000 worth had been issued since 1915, were held invalid. Representative Calvin Weeks sponsored a bill allowing the issuance of new bonds without a referendum to an unlimited amount, but, after a fight in the upper house, Senator T. J. Courtney attached an amendment limiting the amount to $12,000,000. The amended bill was passed and signed by Gov. Emmerson.

Proponents of the bill stated that the $12,000,000 would finance water plant improvements over a period of four or five years. Ten days after the law became effective on July 1, however, the council authorized City Controller Schmidt to sell the entire amount.

Bonds Now Being Printed.

At the controller's office yesterday it was learned that the bonds now are being printed, and that the first installment of $4,000,000 will be placed on the market in a week or so.

According to Mr. Schmidt's estimates last January the total revenue of the water fund this year, aside from the bond money, would have been approximately $13,000,000. The total appropriations, made contingent upon the passage of the Weeks bill, were $16,161,185, of which the extra $3,222,000 is appropriated as follows:

Construction and Betterments.
Stony Island station	$ 30,000
mile tunnel extension	1,065,000
Chicago avenue tunnel extension	648,000
Municipal power plant repairs	164,000
Water Pipe Extension.
Water mains	500,000
Water service pipes	300,000
Meter connections	190,300
Meter installation	325,000

In addition to the item of $164,000 for municipal power plant repairs the council at its last meeting appropriated another $160,000, the entire amount of $324,000 to be used for increasing the facilities of the plant to heat the new county Criminal court and jail building.

Error in Estimate.

As originally built the municipal power plant was designed to furnish heat for the municipal shops, the contagious disease hospital, and the Bridewell. The latter building was never connected and a year ago the city contracted to heat the new jail, paying $164,000 for a new tunnel and repairs. County board members told the finance committee July 9 that the estimate was wrong and that an added $160,000 would be necessary.

"Well, we have $12,000,000 coming in, so let's give it to them," one alderman said. The appropriation was made without any investigation of the $160,000 error.

The new water bonds will bear an interest charge of 5 per cent, amounting to $600,000 a year, when the full amount is issued. In 1929 the city is paying $605,000 interest on the old water certificates still outstanding. The total interest charges on the water fund debt when the new issue is out, therefore, will be approximately $1,200,000 annually, minus the amounts subtracted, as the principal is paid off from the payments of water users.

OFFERS REWARD AND CURSES FOR LAWN WRECKERS

Alexander Boehmer, 2053 Cuyler avenue, erected a sign in his front yard yesterday by police permission, offering $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the "low down, God forsaken culprit who maliciously destroyed this lawn; cursed are they, their seed and the very ground they trod." Police had prohibited youngsters from playing ball in the neighborhood because they trod on Boehmer's flowers when retrieving their ball. Boehmer believes the vandalism was done when the lawn was torn up and the flowers uprooted Sunday night was the work of the ball players, retaliating against his complaints to the police.

ICEBERG CRIPPLES BRITISH SHIP OFF THE GRAND BANKS

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 22.—(AP)—Lloyd's agents here received a message today from the steamer Viniera reporting that she had hit an iceberg and requesting a tug to tow her to Halifax. The Viniera said she was unable to use her engines.

Available shipping records do not list a steamer Viniera. There is, however, a tank steamer named Vimeira, which left New Orleans July 11, bound for London. It should be in the vicinity of the Grand Banks.

The Vimeira is of British registry, owned by the Vimeira Steamship company of Glasgow, and is 410 feet long and of 5,728 gross tons.

Start Trial of Two Today for $27,000 Jewel Theft

The state this morning will start presenting its evidence against William Norton and Meyer Gordon, who are on trial for the robbery on Nov. 22, 1928, of the Olson & Ebann jewelry store at 6520 South Halsted street. The robbers escaped with jewelry valued at $27,000. The jury was completed yesterday and the opening statements made in Judge Harry B. Miller's Criminal court. Several alleged members of the gang are reported to have turned state's evidence.

HEROIC YOUTH WHO DREW HAYFORK FROM OWN ABDOMEN DIES

Dodgeville, Wis., July 22.—[Special.]—Twenty-four hours after he had, without assistance, withdrawn from his abdomen the heavy prong of a harpoon hayfork, Laverne Peterson, 15, died in a hospital here today.

Sliding from the haymow with the broken fork in his arms, the youth was impaled on its prong when his progress was stopped by a cross beam. Other workers were so terror stricken at the ghastly sight that they were unable to move to his aid. Peterson, however, calmly grasped the lever which prevented the harpoon from spreading and withdrew the shaft, which was deeply imbedded. He then walked unassisted to the house and later refused help in moving from an automobile to the hospital.

The youth's courage did not desert him up to the moment of his death, according to physicians.

1,000 DEAD, 10,000 HOMELESS AFTER TURKISH QUAKES

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 22.—(AP)—Latest reports from northern Anatolia state that recent earthquakes and landslides have caused the deaths of 1,000 persons. Ten thousand are homeless and without food.

As reports of the disaster continued the Turkish Red Crescent society began rushing aid to the assistance of the victims while the Constantinople press is appealing for the help of International Red Cross.

The shocks and landslides, the latter caused by torrential rains, were reported to be increasing the havoc, recent inundations devastating the towns of Surmene and Rizer.

THERM-O-PROOF is pneumatically installed without disturbing walls or plaster

Fuel Bills Reduced
Comfort Increased
...with Therm-O-Proof

HERE is a unique, scientifically prepared fire-proof material which has set a new standard of efficiency in home insulation.

Blown by our exclusive pneumatic method between the rafters, floors, and inner and outer walls of your home, it provides approximately four inches of the most effective insulation obtainable against winter cold and summer heat.

Installed In Occupied Homes
Or Those Under Construction

THERM-O-PROOF can be applied to homes now occupied or those under construction without disturbing walls or plaster, an unusual advantage. THERM-O-PROOF is a fluffy, wool-like product—radically different from blanket and wall board insulation materials. It is fire-proof, moisture-proof, rot-proof, free from dust, and entirely odorless. We are sole manufacturers and distributors of THERM-O-PROOF, and it is installed only by our own experts.

Saves 20-40% on Your Fuel Bills

THERM-O-PROOF is saving hundreds of satisfied home-owners from 20 to 40% on their fuel bills, besides increasing winter and summer comfort tremendously. As an investment, THERM-O-PROOF will pay continuous dividends as long as the house stands. Terms arranged to suit you.

A THERM-O-PROOF expert will be glad to estimate the cost of Therm-O-Proofing your home, without obligation. Just write

BISHOP ASSAILS WICKERSHAM FOR DRY LAW ADVICE

Issues Blast as Commission Reassembles.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—[Special.]—Bishop James Cannon Jr., Anti-Saloon league chief, today assailed George W. Wickersham, chairman of the President's law enforcement commission, as a "defeatist" for proposing that a division of responsibility for Volstead enforcement between national and state governments would make prohibition "reasonably enforceable."

The bishop's blast from the headquarters of the Methodist Episcopal Church South board of temperance and social service was released just as the law enforcement commission reassembled after a several weeks' recess to consider a tentative program and to choose more experts for its various surveys.

Mr. Wickersham declined to comment on Bishop Cannon's attack, and other members of the commission denied that the chairman's letter to Gov. Franklin Roosevelt of New York, read during the recent governors' conference, was even discussed during the conference, although dry critics charged that the chairman has "ruined" the crime commission's usefulness and demanded his resignation.

Willing to See Work Divided.

In his statement Bishop Cannon declared he found no fault with Mr. Wickersham's suggestion that the federal government might well confine its activities to the suppression of importation, manufacture and interstate commerce in liquor, while the several states should undertake internal police regulations to prevent violations by saloons, bootleggers and speakeasies.

"If he had stopped there," said the bishop, "he would have been presenting to the governors simply a suggestion as to a natural division of the enforcement activities of the national and state governments."

It was neither "premature, untimely nor inappropriate," the bishop asserted, "for Mr. Wickersham to ask the governors' conference to consider feasible proposals to share the burden of prohibition enforcement.

Where the Bishop Objected.

"But for some unexplained reason Mr. Wickersham did not stop there," continued the bishop. "He tied up this proposed division of enforcement activity with the further statement 'national and state laws might be modified so as to become reasonably enforceable.' Here we have haze and uncertainty and not only possible but actual, present defeatism, flatly declared, for certainly the natural interpretation of Mr. Wickersham's language is that national and state laws are not now reasonably enforceable and require modification before they can be reasonably enforced."

The bishop's statement concluded with the observation that Mr. Wickersham failed to define the sort of modification he had in mind when he wrote the letter, and the bishop added, "Would it not have been better to have said nothing about modification than to sound a note inviting suspicion and declaring probable defeat, unless a suggested, not indefinite modification is made?"

Doran Unmoved by Threat of Medical Liquor Inquiry

Washington, D. C., July 22.—[Special.]—Threats of a congressional inquiry to determine the necessity of resuming production of medicinal whisky will not delay the dry bureau's plan to license a limited number of distilleries as soon as pending applications can be approved, according to Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran.

In the absence of other recognized dry leaders Senator Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.] declared today that he would demand a congressional investigation if the commissioner persisted in the plans announced yesterday to authorize the manufacture of 2,000,000 gallons of bourbon and rye whiskies by not more than six distilleries.

Vigorously Opposed Plan.

Senator Thomas, who as a member of the house vigorously opposed proposals to replenish the medicinal liquor stocks urged by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, insisted today that whisky has no medicinal value and intimated the present plan to reopen the distilleries is a ruse to increase the available supply of "good liquor."

"The law (the Willis-Campbell act) provides," said Commissioner Doran, "for periodical replenishment of the nation's medicinal liquor stocks under government supervision. That law places a duty on the government and we are moving to fulfill our duty. So far as an investigation is concerned, I have no fear of that. The law is plain."

Ready to License Distilleries.

In his announcement that the bureau virtually was ready to license distillers under an elaborate plan of regulation, Dr. Doran pointed out that medicinal liquor, to comply with the standards of the United States pharmacopoeia, must be aged in charred barrels for at least four years.

Manufacture under the present plans would hardly begin before the latter part of this or the early part of next year and meanwhile, he declared, there now is available for prescription 9,000,000 gallons of whisky, about a five years' supply.

Nation's Birth Rate Falls, Death Rate Grows in Year

Washington, D. C., July 22.—(AP)—Decline in the birth rate of the nation and increase in the death rate in 1928 were shown in the census bureau's annual statistics published today. The birth rate was 19.7 per 1,000 of population, compared with 20.7 in the previous year, while the death rate was 12.3 per 1,000 against 11.4 in 1927. Illinois' rates were, births, 17.5; deaths, 12.2.

BLAMES DRY ERA BOOZE FOR HUGE AUTO DEATH TOLL

Ald. Bowler Asks Rockpile for Drunken Drivers.

Drunkenness of the prohibition era was blamed yesterday by Ald. Thomas J. Bowler [41st], chairman of the council committee on safety and traffic, as a major contributor to the toll of automobile accidents. He was speaking before a luncheon of the National Safety council, held in the Hotel Sherman.

"Booze figures in 40 per cent of serious traffic accidents," he declared. "I have made a close investigation of motor deaths in the Chicago area and I have found that in this large percentage of the cases there was a bottle behind the scenes.

"Wider highways, traffic signals and other measures for safety won't save the liquor befuddled driver from killing himself and others. The intemperate drinking of this Volstead age is deadly and it is not a problem that can be solved with safety slogans by civic organizations nor by expert traffic engineers.

"Jail sentences for reckless driving might help a lot. Our judges should send the habitual traffic law violator to the rock pile. No new laws are needed. It can be done under our present ordinances and statutes if they are enforced.

"The city council could reduce the hazard on our streets and highways by regulating the second hand automobile industry. A second hand car is a good buy if it is properly reconditioned before it is operated on the pavements, but there are a lot of dealers in mobile junk that will sell death cars without brakes and with other dangerous mechanical defects."

The meeting passed a resolution pledging the coöperation of the national safety council with Coroner Bundesen's citizens' commission which is working to reduce the motor toll.

BERLIN, July 22.—(AP)—Alleged wholesale smuggling of men and women from Poland and Lithuania through Germany to the United States and Brazil has been discovered. Joint action of the German and Polish police has resulted in 32 arrests of persons from the towns of Sosnowitz, Bendzin and Beauthen.

CHUNG, DAWES' DOG, FINDS "JAIL" LONESOME PLACE

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 22.—"Hell and Maria" Chung, as he is known in the Nottinghill boarding kennels, has a bone to pick with Ambassador Dawes. Chung is the general's prize chow dog and Chung wants to know why Gen. Dawes doesn't come to see him. And, what has he done, anyway, that he should be in prison?.

The answer to the latter question is that Chung is serving a six months sentence for being a dog and coming to England at the same time. One or the other is permitted, but not both, and Chung being both had to do time at the quarantine kennels under the British laws which require six months isolation of all dogs and cats entering this country.

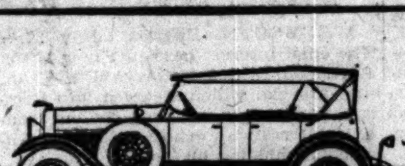
"I DRIVE A LINCOLN"



THE note of pride discernible in acknowledging ownership of a Lincoln springs from something less tangible than the possession of a splendidly built, beautifully finished car. There is a deep, gratifying satisfaction in being identified with the Lincoln's unobtrusive leadership, impeccable engineering, respected style.

By such true standards of value are Lincolns judged that age is purely incidental. That is why, when you buy a Lincoln of another year, your car joins the select company of Lincolns—admired for their flawless performance and enduring style regardless of how long they have been in service.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on the floors of the authorized Lincoln dealers listed below. These companies are the only Lincoln dealers in the city of Chicago and suburbs authorized by the Lincoln Division of the Ford Motor Company to sell and service Lincoln automobiles. If you are considering the purchase of a used Lincoln, your own best interest demands that you deal only with one of these four authorized Lincoln dealers.

PUBLIC HEARINGS ON SUBWAYS TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Aldermen Seek Data on Trackage Needed.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Frankhauser council subcommittee yesterday ordered a series of public hearings on subways with Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th] in charge. McDonough later announced that the hearings would start tomorrow and sent out invitations to three interests which have been asking for the privilege of digging bores for the city.

No aldermanic policy on subways has been decided upon. The subject has not been seriously considered by the local transportation committee since 1925 and 1926, just prior and subsequent to the Dever ordinance.

Ald. McDonough said that he hoped to develop during these hearings some information which will indicate how much more track space is needed for rapid transit through the central congested area.

"L" Faster than Subways.

Some time ago the elevated company released for publication the results of checks they had made to show that "L" trains in Chicago travel as fast or faster than the subway trains in New York. No one questioned the data. The south side "L" between Congress and 40th streets makes good time in express service.

But during the rush hours the jam in the loop retards traffic. The investigating committee of the American Electric Railway association, in its 1928 report, says that the north side elevated, for the first mile northward, runs at the rtae of 13.5 miles an hour. That was an observed performance.

The same test by the same committee shows that street cars during rush hours on crowded Milwaukee avenue make 8.5 miles an hour, and on Clark street 9.88 miles an hour. On that basis of comparison the L is considerably faster. Only 4.8 miles per hour are covered by the buses on 5th avenue, New York, between 32d and 52d streets. That figure also comes from the Electric railway organization.

Relative Speeds Reported.

But the sort of rapid transportation which most of the aldermen are talking about is the speed of subways. The Electric railway engineers' test of the Washington street subway in Boston showed a speed of 16.6 miles per hour. The Cambridge subway of Boston is credited with a speed of 21.4 miles an hour, the B. M. T. express of New York with 22.5 miles, and the Interborough express, also of New York, with 24 miles an hour.

"I think I will ask the Illinois Central officials to come in and tell us how much speed they actually give their commuters," commented Ald. McDonough. "Perhaps the steam suburban lines and electric suburban lines can give us some helpful data."

Every subway plan, except one, provides for a tunnel in State street, but there has been no decision as to where any bores will be located. On the number of tracks the plan also differs. On that, too, the aldermen have expressed no definite opinion.

One alderman suggested that perhaps some information of value on subways might be gained from European cities, partciularly London, Paris, and Berlin.

Two Track Tubes in Paris.

The Paris subways are of the hollow type, with short stairs to station entrances. They are called rapid transit lines, but they are all of the two track design, which prevents what Chicagoans call express service. Paris, at last report, had about 120 miles of single track subways.

In Berlin there is no express service except that provided by the "skip-stop" system. While these subways have received much advertising, the last available figures show that they carry less than 10 per cent of the total revenue passenger traffic of Greater Berlin.

The rapid transit system of London is more extensive than that of either Berlin or Paris. Its bores are from 20 to 192 feet below the surface, which makes escalators or elevators necessary at many of the stations. This system was built on the two track plan, but the management has recently recognized the need for express service and has made plans for building extra bores for speed.

Much more information regarding express service can be had from subway operation in the United States, according to the last available reports. But there has been no decision on whether there shall be a two-track, three-track or a four-track subway in State street.

The council subcommittee on drafting an ordinance franchise ordered the preparation of the ordinance to begin this morning.

2D C. M. T. C. IS OPEN TO ILLINOIS, WISCONSIN MEN

Young men who failed to gain admission to Fort Sheridan before the quota was filled will have an opportunity to enter another Citizen's Military Training camp this summer.

Under an order issued by the war department yesterday, applications are authorized from northern Illinois and from Wisconsin for the C. M. T. C., which opens Aug. 1 at Fort Snelling, St. Paul, Minn. Applications will be received until next Tuesday.

Applicants should apply in person to the C. M. T. C. officer, 1819 West Pershing road, for application blanks and physical examination.

CITIZENS START MANUAL OF ARMS AT FT. SHERIDAN

Inspection by President David McKinley of the University of Illinois, first instruction in the manual of arms, and a lesson in horse grooming and saddling were high points yesterday at Camp Deiley as the soldiers in the citizens' military camp resumed their regular program of work and play at Fort Sheridan.

Invitations have been sent to Gov. Emmerson, Senator Charles S. Deneen and Otis F. Glenn and Congressman R. R. Chindblom to witness the first regimental parade next Saturday on the Fort Sheridan parade ground.

Regular evening diversion began last night with the first of a series of drills in community singing, to be held Monday and Friday nights under the direction of Rollin Pease of Chicago. Dancing, with members of north shore women's organizations as chaperones, will enliven the camp on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Top of Crib Falls; Baby, 18 Months Old, Strangled

Robert Molder, 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Molder of Michigan City, was killed yesterday when the top of his crib composed of a network of wire, fell across his neck and strangled him.

VITAL FACTS ABOUT ELECTROLUX
the SAFE
Automatic Refrigerator

This is no time for empty superlatives, for high sounding adjectives. You want facts to guide you in choosing the best automatic refrigerator. Here they are:

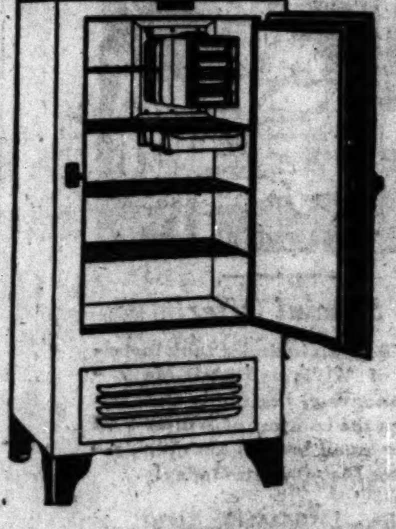
1. A SAFE REFRIGERANT. The only refrigerant used in Electrolux is three and a half pints of ordinary 30% ammonia which is merely household strength. You could empty the entire contents of Electrolux in a room and the effect would be no worse than if you dropped the bottle of ammonia that stands on your kitchen shelf.

2. HERMETICALLY SEALED. NO CHANCE FOR LEAKS. The refrigerant in Electrolux, harmless though it is, is permanently and hermetically welded inside a solid steel unit for the life of the refrigerator. The unit has no valves, no moving parts or openings of any kind. There is no vibration or wear—no chance for the refrigerant to escape.

3. ABSOLUTELY NOISELESS. Electrolux isn't merely quiet. It makes no sound at all. It has no moving parts to make sound, and so it can't ever become noisy after you've had it a while.

4. NO MECHANICAL PARTS TO WEAR. There isn't a single mechanical part to Electrolux. The freezing action is entirely simple. A tiny pilot light does all the work—circulates the refrigerant that makes the cold. There is no friction, no wear, no vibration—no possibility of mechanical trouble of any kind.

5. COSTS LEAST TO OPERATE. A few pennies a day, 25 to 55 cents a week, that's the entire operating cost of Electrolux. This is less than the cost of ice or any other system of refrigeration. Far from being an expense, a luxury, Electrolux will save you money every day it's in your home.



6. LASTS INDEFINITELY. With no moving parts, no friction or vibration, there is no good reason why Electrolux should ever wear out. There is no more wear to this refrigerator than there is to your kitchen cabinet.

7. APPROVED BY NATIONAL AUTHORITIES. Electrolux has had years of careful testing and development. It is unanimously endorsed and approved by well known national testing bureaus such as Good Housekeeping Institute, Delineator Home Institute, N. Y. Herald-Tribune Institute, National Board of Fire Underwriters, famous architects, engineers and public utilities.

Those are the facts. One thing remains. You must see Electrolux—see for yourself its permanent silence, its beautiful efficiency, its absolute safety and dependability.

Come in and view the wide range of models and sizes in white and color. Prices from $210 to $510. Liberal purchase terms.

TESTS FOR INTELLIGENT PEOPLE—NO. 3

When did stretchers disappear from the chair?

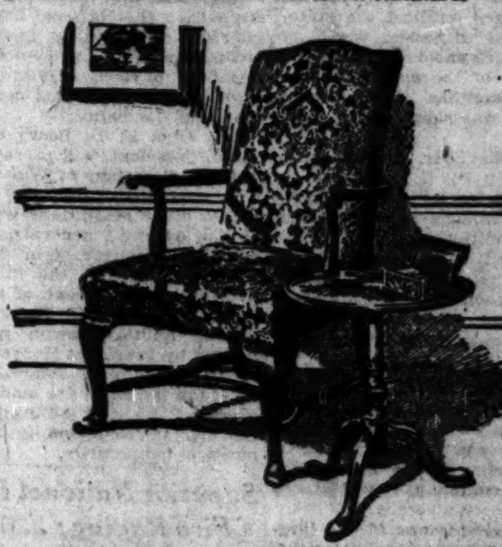
In the days of armor, the ample tonnage of men-about-town required that chairs be rugged—chair legs were reinforced with stretchers or crosspieces. As armor disappeared, there became less need for rugged furniture, and in the time of Queen Anne, the stretcher had almost entirely vanished. Today, Queen Anne chairs with stretchers are rare and highly prized.

What is petit point?

Madame de Maintenon, secret wife of King Louis XIV, was fond of needlework and her skill in covering canvas with pictures was naturally imitated by all the ladies of France. "Gros point" (French for "large stitch") was a stitch covering two strands of canvas. "Petit point"—"small stitch"—covered only one strand, and resulted in tapestries or chair coverings which were exceedingly fine.

What is a mortise?

Each part of a fine chair carries either a projecting piece called a "tenon" or a slot known as a "mortise". The chair parts are then joined by carefully fitting the tenons into the mortises and driving through wooden pegs to hold them fast. This method of making adds much to the desirability of the chair, but requires such skilled craftsmanship that its use is limited to the finest furniture.



The comfortable Danersk chair pictured above is modeled after a rare Queen Anne chair with cabriole legs connected by stretchers. The English original was valued at $3000. The Danersk reproduction, however — though it can be had covered with gros point, petit point or other pedigreed materials — is quite moderately priced. This chair is now made by the Danersk colony of Scotch and English cabinetmakers; with mortise and tenon construction, hand pegged joints and all the traditional marks of fine craftsmanship. Come and see our interesting displays for every room of the house.

SON OF AMERICAN TOBACCO KING ON TRIAL FOR KILLING

Charge Reynolds Ran Over Man While Drunk.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 22.—The trial of Richard Joshua Reynolds, 23 year old American, son of the late millionaire American tobacco manufacturer, R. J. Reynolds, began here today at Old Bailey. He is charged with manslaughter.

Mr. Reynolds is accused by the prosecution of killing Arthur Graham, 31 year old Englishman, who, it is alleged, was run over by Mr. Reynolds' car. Opening the trial today, the prosecution stated that it intended to prove that the American was drunk while driving and that after running over Mr. Graham he drove off without stopping. Mr. Graham died of injuries three days after the accident, which occurred on May 14.

Mr. Reynolds has enlisted some of England's greatest legal talent in his defense, among them Norman Birkett, the country's leading criminal defense lawyer.

Witnesses Say Reynolds Was Drunk.

Court adjourned this afternoon immediately following a statement of the prosecution's case by Sir Henry Maddocks. Sir Henry outlined the statements of several witnesses, who said they saw Mr. Reynolds driving his car on the day of the accident while in a drunken condition. A companion named Bargate was riding in the back seat.

After the accident Mr. Reynolds was finally overtaken by a traffic policeman and taken to a police station, where a doctor said he was drunk and not in a fit condition to drive.

When charged with manslaughter, the accused is reported to have said: "I must have been drunk," the prosecution concluded. Reynolds pleaded not guilty at the opening of the trial.

Big Tobacco Stockholder.

Winston Salem, N. C., July 22.—(AP)—Richard Joshua Reynolds, on trial in London on a charge of manslaughter, is a son of the late R. J. Reynolds, founder of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company, it was stated here today.

Young Reynolds is one of the largest stockholders in the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company, and of recent years has been interested in aviation. He is an official of the Curtiss Flying Company of New York and through this company owns and operates Curtiss field and a number of other aviation fields throughout the country.

George Orr, an attorney for the Reynolds estate, left here some days ago for London to assist young Reynolds.

Mr. Reynolds about two years ago created a furore throughout the country by disappearing for several days. He was found in St. Louis, where he had gone with a friend on a "vacation."

PAT CROWE, 'BAD MAN' OF OLD, HERE TO PUBLISH BOOK

Pat Crowe, outlaw of a former generation, arrived in Chicago from the east yesterday to prove that he was much alive and to discredit the story of his death which was erroneously reported five months ago.

The "bad man," who achieved notoriety as the kidnaper of Edward Cudahy in Omaha 25 years ago, said his business in Chicago was to find a publisher for a book he recently finished writing, "Twenty Years an Outlaw."

Crowe, who is 60 years old, says he is devoting his life to bettering prison conditions and promoting crime prevention.

The Riviera Roads

Riding high in the mountains, the Grand Corniche binds the Riviera from Nice to Mentone. Below it, halfway down, winds the middle road, the Petite Corniche, and skirting the sea, the lower. Each road has its partisans. And the Cote d'Azure, named for its color, deserves such highways.

Fine motor transportation is readily available. The passenger is billed in francs, but he pays with A. B. A. Cheques, for he knows that here as elsewhere they are as good as gold, and a lot safer. A. NATIONAL GUARD HEADS ASK FUNDS FOR BIGGER FORCE

Additional appropriations in 1930 to strengthen the National Guard and to improve its training facilities were recommended yesterday by seventeen members of the Adjutant Generals' association at a special conference in the Hotel La Salle.

Adj. Gen. F. D. Beary of Pennsylvania, president, will present the resolution to Secretary of War Good, probably next week.

Two other resolutions were adopted by the adjutant generals, one recommending a longer term of office for staff officers, and the other dealing with the appointment of a successor to Maj. Gen. C. C. Hammond, chief of the militia bureau, recently appointed by President Hoover as auditor of the Philippine Islands. Nominations for the office are made from lists prepared by the adjutant generals. Col. N. R. Redmond is holding the position temporarily.

Superior National Forest Fire Raging; 225 Fight It

Grand Marias, Minn., July 22.—(AP)—More than 225 men tonight were fighting a forest fire in the Superior national forest near here which during the day had burned over a territory four miles long. They could not check the blaze. The fire is in the Brule lake district in the heart of Superior forest. Two other fires, one near Lutsen and another near Cramer, were under control tonight.

CHILD KILLED IN AUTO CRASH.

Freeport, [illegible], July 22.—(AP)—Virginia [illegible] was killed, and Floyd Beck, 25, was severely injured last night near Sav[illegible] in an automobile collision. Two others were slightly hurt.

HUSBAND, 80, WED 42 YEARS, FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

After 42 years of married life, Benjamin E. Harris, 80 years old, yesterday filed suit for divorce against his wife, Dr. Sarah Harris, 76 years old, a dentist at 846 East 47th street. Harris, through his attorney, Harry Pritzker, charges desertion.

The couple were married on July 31, 1887, and separated on Feb. 3, 1926. Harris is a flag maker and alleges that he has been destitute since the separation. The bill blames Mrs. Harris' cousin, Morris Kuhns, for the domestic strife which caused her to leave home. Harris alleges that he has advanced $20,564 to his wife and asks for $10,000 which has not been repaid.

YOUTHFUL WIFE DIVORCES FATHER OF CLARA BOW

Los Angeles, Cal., July 22.—[U.P.]—Robert Bow, father of Clara Bow, film actress, was divorced today by Tui Lorraine, screen and stage actress. Miss Lorraine was granted an interlocutory decree by Superior Judge Beaumont. She said that Bow once knocked her down when he was angry and that he struck her so hard that one of her teeth was dislodged.

Attorneys stated a property settlement was reached out of court. Miss Lorraine said she was 24, just one year older than Clara, and she said Bow was 48.

GIANT COAST RIFLES SHELL 'ENEMY' FLEET IN DEFENDING GOTHAM

New York, July 22.—[Special.]—Real guns fired real projectiles at the imitation navy of an imaginary enemy nine miles out to sea from Sandy Hook today in a land defense test for New York city which involved the use of coast defense guns, naval vessels, reconnaissance airplanes, and fighting units of the army.

Eleven batteries of Fort Hancock, each consisting of two giant rifles, hurled projectiles at targets attached by long tow lines to coast artillery tugs which maneuvered past the batteries in realistic reproduction of an enemy fleet.

The booming of the guns could be heard twenty miles away.

Former Wilmette Cop and Wife Held on Booze Charge

Joseph Ebert, former Wilmette policeman, and his wife, Rose, were held for a hearing yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on charges of violating the prohibition law. Bonds were set at $2,000 for each when prohibition agents claimed that they found 300 bottles of beer in a raid on the Ebert home on Glen View road, Wilmette, Saturday night.

COMPLAINT MADE IMPROPERLY, SO DEFENDANT WINS

Because a complaint had been worded incorrectly by assistant prosecutors, Jack Cohen, 3000 Indiana avenue, was discharged on an alleged charge of extortion in the felony court of Judge Edgar Jonas yesterday. William J. De Vaux, a railroad ticket agent, charged that Cohen sought $300 from him on the pretense of lodging a serious charge against him.

The complaint in the case contained the word "alleged," and Attorney W. W. O'Brien, for the defense, pointed out that the statute provides that such a complaint must be in the form of a flat declaration.

"I'm not here to make out complaints, but to try cases," said Judge Jonas angrily as he dismissed the complaint. The prosecutors indicated later that they might try to bring other charges against Cohen.

Continue Case Against Girl to Investigate Cop's Role

Judge William R. Fetzer in South State street court yesterday continued the case of Miss Virginia Marvill, 22 years old, 4439 North Lamon avenue, until Aug. 12, in order to allow time for Inspector Hans Johnson of the police department to determine whether Policeman Mathias Rauan helped the young woman obtain a $500 promissory note from Robert E. McLaughlin, who had her arrested. McLaughlin claims the policeman held a revolver to his side while the girl demanded the note be signed.

True Mirrors for Reflection

Ray Lyman Wilbur, who is now our Secretary of the Interior, was formerly President of Stanford University and had a great deal to do with the business of education.

During the past ten years Dr. Wilbur and his associates in that field were faced with the biggest problem in the history of education.

Where thousands of young men and women once actually got to college, there were now hundreds of thousands knocking at the doors. And where hundreds of thousands of boys and girls had formerly gotten into high school, they now numbered over three million!

A whole new educational system had to be devised to take care of this unprecedented situation that had arisen. It wouldn't do to throw these boys and girls out of high school or out of college. It wouldn't do to let them start in and then drift away without arriving at some objective point.

So Dr. Wilbur and his educational associates all over America created a system of junior high schools and junior colleges, thereby making four different points instead of two at which a boy or a girl could claim to have finished a certain definite part of an educational course.

It is hard to estimate the value of this new educational movement to the great mass of American people.

Twenty years ago, or even so late as ten years ago, Jim Smith, or Jim Smith's son, somewhere along the line just "dropped out of school" and went hunting a job, either because of the need of money or the lack of time. In either case his "start" in real life began with some sort of a "failure" in school life.

Today Jim Smith's sons and daughters, in hundreds of thousands of cases, are able successfully to reach one of those four finishing points, so that the "start" of their real life now begins with a "success" in their school life.

And the difference in the attitude in those "successful" sons and daughters is responsible for the difference in the attitude of the whole American people. This is one of the two reasons why America's great Experiment at Social Equality was able to get under way.

Indeed, when you take the results of this new educational system together with our new economic system, you have the whole of the great, new True Story of American life as we see it today.

Now in these last few years when we turn to True Story Magazine we find the reflection of that new educational system there just as definitely as we found the new economic system. Now the stories dealing with high school and college life are beginning to creep in. And where the underlay of these stories was once an underlay of hovels and brats, today it is an underlay of children and homes, so often with boys and girls in high schools and colleges.

And, due now to the four finishing points instead of two, the world is no longer being filled with school failures on the one hand, nor filled with the "over-educated" on the other, as Thomas Edison once feared.

Finally, the bearing which all of this has upon American production is certainly not hard to see.

Where once the stories in True Story Magazine reflected only bare wants, today these same stories reflect not only cultural wants but an intelligent selection of cultural wants. And the spread of those wants is in direct proportion to the spread of that culture. And the spread of that culture is reaching into millions of families. Indeed, this development has gone so far already that it is no longer possible for American production to do without it.

The character of these True Stories has not changed. The eternal triangle still plays its leading role as it always will as long as the eye is inclined to rove or the mind to wander. But the characterization of True Stories has entirely changed. For even the triangle itself has many levels, and its fineness or grossness is entirely dependent upon its economic setting.

Today the true stories in True Story Magazine are so different from the same true stories of ten years ago that it is hard to recognize them as the self-expression of the same people—or even of the same nation. And the answer, of course, is that we are not the same people nor the same nation.

The desire for self-expression goes on, as it always will to the end of the world. Someone has said that the only difference between man and the lower animals is the thumb and the tongue. And so long as there is a tongue to say the words and a thumb to hold the pen there will be that effort to set down the deep and abiding personal experiences that come to us through life.

It just so happens right now that those deep and abiding experiences are fraught with a different purpose in life, are filled and thrilled with a new ambition; and finally, because of America's great discovery of "more money and more leisure for labor," are resting on a higher economic and cultural plane than the world has ever known before.

FRENCH SENATE'S FINANCE BODY ASKS DEBTS O. K.

Final Passage of Bill Is Expected Friday.

PARIS, July 22.—(AP)—The French senate will inaugurate debate on ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt settlement bill at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The finance committee today recommended adoption of the text of the bill exactly in the form it was voted by the deputies early Sunday morning. The foreign affairs committee of the senate was expected to make its report today, but it was announced its recommendation will not be available before noon tomorrow. It is understood there will be more opposition to unconditional ratification in the foreign affairs committee than in the committee on finance.

Because of the delay of the foreign affairs committees report, the final vote is not expected before Friday.

Great Oratory Expected.

The senate debate promises to be of a high class character as among the speakers are former-President Millerand, Senator Henry Berenger, who negotiated the accord with Secretary Mellon, also former Premier Caillaux, who failed in his attempt to settle the debt question on his now memorable trip to Washington; Senator De Jouvenel, former high commissioner in Syria and Senator Hubert, president of the foreign affairs committee.

Poincare Will Be Absent.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 22.—Premier Poincare is still sick and decided today not to participate in the senate's debate over ratification of the United States and British war debts and adoption of the Young plan reparations.

The premier remained at home, but worked like a Trojan with his secretaries and cabinet staff.

As soon as the senate takes action, Premier Poincare will proceed to his country place at Sampaigny and take a rest, hopeful of recovering his health and strength sufficiently to attend the international conference on Aug. 6, probably at Brussels, when the powers seek to liquidate the various problems outstanding since the world war, including military evacuation of the Rhineland, the time the Young plan becomes effective, and the abandoning of the Sarre basin plebiscite.

G. O. P. SENATORS BEGIN REWRITING OF TARIFF BILL

Meanwhile Partisans Toss Brickbats.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—[Special.]—Republican members of the senate finance committee plunged into the task of rewriting the house tariff bill behind barred doors. The first day's sessions included a discussion of valuation provisions and a consideration of some of the rates of Schedule one, relating to chemicals, oils and paints. It was indicated that the Republicans intended if possible to keep their actions secret until the overhauling of the bill was completed.

Meanwhile the exchange of verbal brickbats continued. Senator Robert M. La Follette [Rep., Wis.] said that recent reports that the Republicans of the finance committee intended to revise rates downward should be taken with a grain of salt.

"The truth is," said Senator La Follette, "that selfish, grasping interests back of the house bill are in a more favorable strategic position today than they occupied when congress recessed on June 19. Only a determined, uncompromising fight on the floor of the senate will prevent the writing of one of the worst bills presented to congress since the 'tariff of abominations' was enacted 100 years ago. Sooner or later President Hoover must decide whether he stands with Senators Smoot, Watson, Reed, Edge and other members of the finance committee on the tariff or against them."

The Republican protectionist view was embodied in a statement by Senator Samuel Shortridge [Rep., Cal.], a member of the finance committee, who said that the "tariff for revenue only theorist is again abroad in the land making day and night hideous by clamoring against the tariff bill."

"To recall the phrase of Rufus Choate," added Senator Shortridge, "the free trader indulges in 'glittering generalities,' or as a backwoods Democratic stateman put it—general glitteralities."

Entering a shoe shine shop at 3771 Broadway yesterday, two armed men bound the proprietor, Angelo Neathitos, rifled his pockets and cash register of $75 and escaped.

FIVE SOUGHT FOR $2,164 ROBBERY OF ICE CREAM PLANT

Fifteen hours' effort by the detective bureau and Marquette police had failed last night to develop a clew to the five masked robbers who invaded the Columbia Ice and Ice Cream plant, 1025 South Kedzie avenue yesterday, overpowered the watchman, engineer and three other workmen and escaped with $2,164 in cash, bonds, and checks, which they took from a wall safe.

Hiding in the shadows of a loading platform, the robbers pounced upon John Tatostin, 45 years old, as he paced his watchman's beat. Securely bound, he was led into the five story plant and instructed to direct his captors to other workmen, who were rounded up and bound. Two of the five guarded the prisoners, a third made the watchman's rounds and the remaining pair attacked the safe with sledge hammers.

FIND BODY OF LAKE VICTIM.

U. S. JURY CHOSEN TO TRY TOOMBS FOR MAIL FRAUD

Roy C. Toombs, former partner in the defunct La Salle street brokerage house of Toombs & Daily, and two former employés of the firm will go to trial before Federal Judge Woodward tomorrow for using the mails to defraud. A jury was completed yesterday.

O. R. Daily, the other partner, was granted a severance by Judge Woodward when his attorneys presented affidavits claiming that Daily was ill. He will be tried later. George Kidd, another defendant, withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty and it is believed that he will become a witness for the government against Toombs, and the other defendants now facing trial—R. R. Daily, son of O. R. Daily, and Claude E. Clark.

The government will be represented by Assistant United States District Attorneys Edward A. Hess and Lyman Sherwood. Attorney Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton and State Senators Roy C. Woods and Harry W. Starr will represent the defendants.

MOTOR OILS

STURDY AND RICH

Iso=Vis

THE new type motor oil, Iso=Vis, is the sensation of the motoring world. This superb motor oil has the remarkable property of constant viscosity. It will not thin out! It will not wear out. It maintains its body under all normal driving conditions.

When you fill up your crankcase with Iso=Vis you can motor with an easy mind—knowing that you'll have no trouble from dilution in the crankcase—sure that your engine will be protected with proper lubrication every mile.

Iso=Vis avoids the necessity of frequent crankcase changes. Many motorists drive for 1000 miles or more without changing oil. Iso=Vis maintains its viscosity. It wears and wears and WEARS!

Polarine

THE engine in your car needs a rich sturdy oil to protect its bearings. Driving conditions are harder—you drive faster—you drive farther — and traffic congestion puts a strain on the engine.

Polarine meets the engine needs of today. Polarine is sturdy! Polarine is rich! Polarine is dependable.

When you have Polarine in the crankcase you may be sure that the engine is properly lubricated — that every bearing surface is covered with a protecting cushion of oil.

Use the grade made for your car. Drain and refill with fresh Polarine every 500 miles. You'll save your car—and you'll motor untroubled miles!

Polarine and Iso=Vis are money-saving, driver-saving, car-saving motor oils. Buy the grade made for your car.

SETTLING THE FRENCH DEBT.

The success of the French government in putting the debt ratification through the chamber of deputies carried the settlement over its most dangerous barrier. At this writing the senate is expected to accept the plan without much opposition or delay. It has taken France so long to face the unpleasantness of paying that the American house of representatives, which ratified the agreement, must vote on it again and it must be adopted in the senate. Americans have thought it a fair settlement.

London reports indicate that the British view with disfavor a reservation voted separately by the French deputies to declare that the payments on the debts must be covered exclusively by the German reparations. The American view has been that there shall be no conceded relationship between the two. It may be doubted that the reservation will be any more acceptable in Washington than in London.

It would be a great advantage to get the debt controversy out of international discussion. It has been irritating on both sides of the water, particularly when sentimentalized and considered as a moral issue. Cancellationists here and objectors abroad have kept the war alive among the former allies. They made the worst of a trying situation, causing many people in both lands to have the lowest opinion of each other.

The difficulties of the French government were appreciable. Its political opponents could use the proposed settlement to overthrow it and the risk taken in pressing for adoption of the agreement was well understood. French public opinion was not prepared as the British had been to recognize that a settlement was required for public credit. It had been prepared for the more pleasing conclusion that the debt was an unjust one and that payment was demanded by an unscrupulous creditor. The American cancellationists supported that and they made it dangerous for a French government to try to bring an unruly parliament to terms. If presumably high minded Americans of considerable importance at home denounced the debts as unconscionable it was quite natural that the payment of them should be resisted in France and that the creditor should be denounced. The apologetic American is a nuisance abroad as well as at home.

THE NEW GERMAN MARINE.

The record for speed in trans-Atlantic passenger and mail service has passed from the British to the German marine with the first voyage of the new Bremen, which steamed into first place. The rebuilt German marine replacing the properties lost because of the war challenges for supremacy.

In a rapidly changing world of science and mechanics Germany was stripped to the buff by its enemies and rivals. The cost of losing a war was to be imposed economically not so much in retaliation or punishment as to put it under handicaps which would hold it down as a competitor. In consequence, Germany had to make a fresh start. The loss was heavy, but it was in effect a junking of equipment which was not modern. German ingenuity and skill were free to make the replacements with the newest in technical developments. It was made a certainty that when the rivalry was renewed it would be an unequal contest.

It is possible for a winner to treat a loser too roughly for his own good. The British are about the last people to carry a grudge after an issue has been decided. That is excess sentimental baggage, which they soon discard, but they wanted to box Germany up and away from the sea and have merely forced the development of new models in ships of peace and war which threaten to make everything else obsolete. When they junked the German marine they virtually junked their own.

A VOLSTEAD DECISION OF ANOTHER KIND.

An Italian who had been resident in the United States for twenty-seven years was convicted of violation of the Volstead act. In consequence he was ordered deported. He had exposed himself to this by returning to Italy for a visit. In coming back he failed to tell the American consul at Messina that he had been convicted and when he was again in the United States he was arrested for failing to give the information when he applied for his passport visa. The District court upheld the deportation order. The United States Court of Appeals has reversed this decision. The Italian is free to go home to his family in New Mexico.

The judges of the Court of Appeals, Judge Swan, Judge A. M. Hand, and Judge Learned Hand, in their opinion said that on this question the common conscience was "nebulous at the best," but it was apparent to the court that every violation of the prohibition act could not be regarded as indicating moral turpitude within the meaning of the immigration law. That is one of the few opinions of the federal courts which presents an unstrained interpretation of Volstead in its relation to the nation.

The court concedes that there are citizens to whom every violation of this law is proof of the moral degradation of the violator, revealing him to be a criminal. For each such citizen another could be found who would regard his violation of the Volstead act, such as the possession and use of forbidden beverages, or even the making, transportation or purchase of them, as morally permissible in otherwise law abiding citizenship because the law itself is a transgression against inalienable rights.

To one class of citizenship the Volstead act is a law of the highest morality. To another it is an inequity in its invasion of private rights. No true law governing the individual can create such a division in citizenship. There is no common conscience in the matter. That reveals the vital error of national prohibition.

To have held that the Italian had demonstrated his moral turpitude and his legal unfitness to reside in the United States would have been to condemn on the same indictment half or nearly half the citizenship. There are violations of the Volstead act which plainly demand deportation. They are crimes of violence, felonies in themselves. The case on which the court passed was of another kind and the distinction was made in the opinion.

A PRIZE OF EMPIRE.

The power that holds the Chinese Eastern railway holds northern Manchuria, and northern Manchuria is one of those prizes of empire for which nations will fight. The present crisis may be compromised. We think it will be compromised because we cannot think either the Nanking or Moscow governments can afford to carry on a long war, for reasons we have discussed. But there are elements of an irrepressible conflict in the Manchurian situation, and eventually they are likely to involve not merely Russia and China but other major powers.

The right of Russia to build railways in Manchuria began with her intervention in 1895 in the settlement between Japan and China after the victory of the former. Japan had taken the Liaoting peninsula and proposed to keep it. Russian policy was headed toward warm water and did not propose to see its path blocked by Japan. She got the aid of Germany and France and Japan was not allowed to hold the territory and Russia received from grateful Peking the right to build the Chinese Eastern railway with its branch from Harbin to Port Arthur. A little later it was given a lease on the territory which was to have been Japan's spoil. Thus the Chinese imperial government was playing a game of heads you win, tails I lose, preparing its own well deserved ruin, and ingenuously opening the way to the advance of Japanese imperialism in the path of the retreating Russian.

Japan now holds an uneasy control of southern Manchuria. Russia has retained rights in northern Manchuria. The Chinese Eastern is not her only railroad to Vladivostok but is much the more valuable route. The all Russian route passes through much more difficult and less productive territory and is longer. The Eastern passes through a country destined to hold a large population. But they will be Chinese. The days when a cynical and indifferent officialdom at Peking gave away assets like Manchuria seem to be definitely gone. The Nationalist government may not yet be able to take the Chinese Eastern completely out of Russian control, but it will do so sooner or later unless some overmastering, unexpected and unforeseeable factors enter into the situation. Moscow may postpone the day if it can break the Nanking government. But the Chinese are pouring into Manchuria rapidly and fixing its destiny beyond the reach of imperial designs and international conspiracies.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT AND THE BRIDGES.

The North Central association is supporting the city's petition to the war department for a revision of hours during which the bridges shall be closed to river traffic. In addition to an extension of the hours during the morning and evening rush hours, the near north side organization asks that the bridges be closed for the noon period.

The representations of the city council, supplemented by those of the North Central association, are reasonable and moderate. Heretofore the convenience of communication to thousands of citizens has been subordinated to the interest of a few sandsuckers, barges, tugs, and other small river craft. In the reaction against this unjust arrangement there was the temptation to seek recrimination by asking that the river virtually be closed to these craft. But these extreme demands have been corrected, so that if the proposed hours are granted, river traffic by a good margin will still have the advantage, while we will receive substantial relief from the burdensome delays which we now suffer.

Editorial of the Day

THE TOURIST WORM TURNS.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

Outgoing liners are crowded and agencies on this side of the water say that up to date about the usual amount of funds is being taken abroad in letters of credit and in other forms, but France is finding a sharp decline in tourist trade from America and is recording in gloomy expressions its disappointment and alarm.

The inference is that with the tourist tide about as usual at this stage of the season, France is not getting its normal share, and the shipping offices confirm the inference. The American millionaire and the American school teacher are going in greater numbers to Germany and the British Isles and in less numbers to France, and France itself is no longer oblivious of the reason.

Not only is tribute at special rates customarily levied at every turn on the American tourist by French shopkeepers, hotels, guides, taxis, cafés, places of historical interest, but the French government looks on him as an opulent source of legitimate public revenue and has been levying on him all the traffic would bear and, as it appears, something more. He is soaked with disembarkation taxes when he comes, with so-called "luxury" taxes designed to bear particularly on strangers while remaining, and with embarkation taxes when he goes away. England and Germany have no such taxes and, besides, have raised large sums for advertising their national charms, while of a proposed $800,000 fund to advertise France, hardly $30,000 has with difficulty been raised.

That France is thinking of abolishing its nuisance taxes on tourists indicates how serious the situation has become, and it will be the more serious if the record for the entire season shows a slight falling off in tourists from the United States.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

BESIDE THE SHALIMAR.

I.

"Pale hands I loved beside the Shalimar,"
Such was the burden of the Persian's song,
Kashmiri was his name as I infer,
Unless perhaps I've read his history wrong.

II.

At any rate "pale hands" formed his complaint,
"Pink tipped as lotus buds" he sang again,
They waved Kashmiri from the shore, and faint
He doubtless felt as would most any man.

III.

I just infer those hands were part and parcel
Of some fair thing composed of head and trunk,
And it is likely she has a marcel,
No wonder then Kashmiri felt so punk.

CLARENCE P. MILLIGAN.

Up, Men; Now's the Time!

The men are rising! Why should they wear pounds and pounds of heavy clothing when the gels go tripping along with very few clothes and sometimes fewer than that? Men, there's but one thing to do. Pick out the day and then everybody come downtown in pajamas. If any craven hearted male dares to appear in ordinary business suits, chuck 'em in the river. Pajamas are being made now in lovely colors and look quite dashing and sporty. They will be comfortable, as well as natty, and should be worn until the cold winds of October. But the new style must be unanimous. If only one man appears in his pajamas the police will chase him five miles. But if every man in Chicago steps out at the same moment clad in pajamas, then the revolution is accomplished. So, let us say next Tuesday, July 30. The procession will form on the Boul Mich, right resting on Madison street. Now, then, lads, Pajamas or Perish!

And in This Hot Weather, Too!

We can, as we've always said, take our Anagrams or leave 'em alone. But that was before we'd tasted blood. That was before Saturday night, when by hook or crook we made our seven words out of the wicked little wooden alphabet, arranged them cannily and shrewdly on the table before us, and all the allied attacking troops together could not take a one of them. It was a wild game. Hot and bitter words were hurled across the table. In the wee small hours of the morning, lifelong friends parted to speak no more in this world. But naught cared we. Champion of our small world, we strode proudly home alone. Dawn found us as haughty as before. We had missed our calling. Like Goethe, who admired his science more than his poetry, we felt that our Anagrams were better than our cap and bells. Like Kneller, who heard the roar of cannon and saw the flash of bayonets, while his brush painted idle pictures, we were sure we had wasted our talents on a thankless field. In this high and rarefied mood we picked up an article on Anagrams. The first paragraph that hit our eye said that "morgue" could be taken with a "t" in one minute flat. That "orbit" could be taken with an "s"—and none of your childish plural forms, or proper nouns, either. That "pouches" could be taken with a "y." And that "rhetoric" could be laid low in the dust with an "s." . . . Well, not to bare our wounded and humiliated pride to the taunts and jeers of an unfeeling world too much, we will say only that after working over "morgue" two hours and fifteen minutes we finally took it with that "t," making "gourmet" . . . and after working over the others the balance of a long and heart-breaking Sunday we haven't taken any of them in any time. We guess we'll stick to col-conning; so help us, from now on we're a reformed man. Bring on the pledge! We are off Anagrams for life.

SANS REGRET.

Oh, little town, you've held me long;
Oh, little town replete
With soud of flying gossip
And thud of spying feet!

I bid you now a glad good-by,
I've tarried over-long,
To you an utter stranger, I,
And stranger was my song.

I seek the consolation
Of a more congenial land,
The just appreciation
Of souls who understand.

Oh, little town, you've held me long;
Oh, little town replete
With howl of lying gossip
And prowl of prying feet!

E. LESLIE SPAULDING.

TOMORROW Cal, Dr. Hoover, Mr. Kellogg, and many more of the great and the near-great of our nation will gather in Washington to celebrate the complete ratification of the w. k. Briand-Kellogg anti-war pact. China and Soviet Russia have both signed the peace pact, and we do sincerely hope that they have the good taste not to pull off a large battle at the very moment of the solemn celebration in Washington. They should at least wait until the exercises are concluded.

CREDIT THE NEW YORKER with Beatrice Lillie's latest crack. Bee is out in Los Angeles making a talkie, and one of the proud natives took her up in the observatory to gaze on the manifold beauties of the California heavens by night. A million lovely stars happened to decorate them that particular night, and, gazing raptly at them, the Californian murmured soulfully: "Beautiful! Beautiful—aren't they?" "Yes, beautiful indeed," chirped my Lady Peel, "but so artificial. I expect them to come together any moment and spell 'Marion Davies.'"

HURRAH for the Bremen! Gosh, it's a great relief to all of us* to know that now we can get on a steamer and reach Europe eight hours and seventeen minutes quicker than we could before.

MARION says the ladies shouldn't squawk about not having a woman's picture on any of the new money. "We may not get our pictures on money," opines Marion, "but we jolly well get our hands on most of it." Please, Marion, do not rub it in.

IF (notice the "if") the Kellogg Peace Pact can make two great armies like Russia's and China's go on back home and mind their own business, why can't it make the federal dry sleuths quit shooting at our automobile tires, huh?

WHY PEOPLE GO TO WAR.

WITHIN the lifetime of persons now living there will be a war which will make the world war look like a side show. The overcrowded peoples will whip, and then they will draw up a peace treaty of which the predominant feature will be unrestricted emigration from any land to any land, with full rights and privileges for the immigrant.

As tragic as appears this prophecy, it is only a curtain raiser for the final scene in the great drama of humans on earth. This is a prediction made somewhat frequently by students of world population. It is based upon the Malthusian doctrines. However, something always comes up to interfere with the working of the Malthusian principles. When Malthus advanced his doctrine it seemed irrefutable. Then America was discovered. The opening up of the agricultural and mineral resources of the new continent caused men to forget Malthus and his writings. As this continent approaches the exhaustion of its material resources the Malthusian doctrine again comes to the fore.

A week long symposium on "Problems of Population" was recently held at the University of Chicago. One of the speakers was Dr. R. R. Kuczinski. This speaker agreed with the Malthusian doctrine, but he thought that the end would be much slower in coming about than most population experts think, and he even suggested some ways of escape.

He thinks population is increasing, but more slowly than in the common opinion. Furthermore, so far as Europe, America, and Australia are concerned, the increase is destined to slow up markedly. The present excess of births over deaths is largely because of the high population of women of child bearing age. This proportion is dropping rapidly.

In consequence, before long, in these three regions births will be less than deaths. The Anglo-Saxons, Teutons, Scandinavians, and Roman races will be seen to be dying out before long. The dominant race in the next period will be the Slavic people. However, they will shortly be overrun by the Mongolians or Asiatics. These groups will have the stage when the final curtain goes down. The Russian is not scheduled to overrun the world, as some think.

Just now he has a high population increase, but that is because so large a proportion of the population is now in the child bearing age. There are almost no people over fifty years of age in Russia. However, their death rate is falling rapidly and presently they will have a large old age population.

The hope that he can see for the Anglo-Saxons, Teutons, Scandinavians, and Romans is that the orientals and Slavs may learn birth control before it is too late. Finally, we may escape the Malthusian ending through discovery of something or other—something more important even than the discovery of America.

WRITES OF OLD BELIEF.

Mrs. B. E. L. writes: My 3 year old child was bitten slightly by a dog. I had the place dressed by a doctor who said everything would be all right as the dog is apparently in good health. But now every one is scaring me by telling me that unless the dog is killed the child will go mad if the dog ever should.

Please tell me if there is any truth in that, as I rather considered it an old superstition but would certainly like to know positively.

REPLY.

If the dog remains in good health for at least two weeks after the bite, you need not fear hydrophobia. The dog should not be killed.

TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION.

Mr. E. T. writes:

I have found the following method to be very effective for constipation, and I recommended it to several friends who say it works well. While sitting place the fists over the abdomen, one on each side, or fold the arms over the abdomen. Then bend the trunk until the head rests on the knees, and breathe deeply and evenly. Stay in this position until the bowels move.

SKIMMED MILK VALUABLE.

C. C. writes:

1. What is the food value of milk from which the cream has been removed by passing through a separator?

2. How should lettuce be washed to remove the tiny worms which may be on the leaves?

REPLY.

1. It has all the values of whole milk except those carried with the fats. Any statement that skimmed milk is low in food values is incorrect.

2. I can suggest nothing except thoroughness.

PENNY'S VALUE STILL 1 CENT IN 1933.

Chicago, July 22.—[Friend of the People.]—Some time ago I heard that a premium of ten cents would be paid for each Indian head penny at the World's Fair to be held in 1933. Can you verify this statement or give any source of information of a reliable nature? C. H.

No offer of paying a premium on Indian head pennies has been authorized. We have not been able to trace the origin of the rumor that it was the intention of the Century of Progress Exposition authorities to do so. About the middle of May a story was widely published asserting there was absolutely no truth in this rumor.

WANTS TO BE CITIZEN.

Chicago, July 22.—[Friend of the People.]—I have been in this country four and a half years and received an honorable discharge from the Illinois National Guard in May after completing a three year enlistment. My declaration of intention is three years old. How can I secure my citizenship rights?

W. K.

To apply for naturalization under the seventh subdivision of section 4 of the naturalization law, you may obtain the necessary preliminary form from this office [776 postoffice building] so that the record of your arrival may be found.

H. L. ROETHE,
Acting District Director of Naturalization.

DEFECTIVE GUTTER.

Chicago, July 22.—[Friend of the People.]—I have made many complaints about the gutter next door to me, but nothing has been done about it. Could you help remedy it, as it has been leaking for two years? MRS. B.

You are advised that, due to a former complaint, the following notice was served on the owner:

"Abate nuisance of defective west roof gutter and downspout flooding adjoining premises."

Subsequently the owner was cited to appear before a hearing board to show cause why compliance with the foregoing order had not been obtained. Inasmuch as she defaulted the hearing, this case has been assigned to our law enforcement division for further action.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 23, 1864.

WASHINGTON.—Dispatches from Gen. Sherman were received by the government today. The fighting before Atlanta on July 20 was done mainly by the corps under command of Gen. Hooker, who reports that he has taken 4,000 prisoners. The enemy was beaten back with great slaughter at all points. There is no doubt that Gen. Hood, who led the rebels, has superseded Gen. Johnston. Nothing has been received by the government in relation to the fall of Atlanta.

NEW YORK.—A special to the Commercial says that Gen. Sherman telegraphed that the rebels made another attack on his lines on July 21. Dispatches received by the Western Union, dated Atlanta, July 22, state that no official announcement of the capture or occupation of Atlanta has been received.

NEW YORK.—The Tribune says, in reference to the Niagara Falls peace negotiations, that its editor, Horace Greeley, has been engaged only in endeavoring to bring face to face the antagonists in an amicable rather than belligerent attitude, with a view to an initiative of an earnest effort for peace. The movement has had no immediate success.

ST. LOUIS.—Several prominent secessionists were arrested recently, but their offenses were not revealed. It has leaked out that these traitors are connected with a conspiracy which extends from Lake Superior to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to Kansas, having for its object nothing less than the establishment of a northwestern confederacy and the overthrow of the Union. The evidence is all in President Lincoln's possession and implicates many prominent men.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 23, 1899.

NEW YORK.—Col. Robert G. Ingersoll died a comparatively poor man. There is, it is said, $100,000 insurance on his life; that is all. Yet the great agnostic made from $50,000 to $60,000 a year every year since the civil war. What he did not spend on his family he gave away. The funeral will be held on July 25, and will be private. There will be no music. Perhaps not even an address. No singing, no prayers; nothing but a last leave taking by those who loved him in life. Messages of sympathy came to the family from all parts of the world.

WASHINGTON.—An international controversy may grow out of the lynching of five Italians at Tallulah, La., but no one believes it will lead to war. Count Vinchi, Italian chargé d'affaires, laid the matter before the state department, and Secretary Hay has called upon the governor of Louisiana for all the facts.

WASHINGTON. — Elihu Root of New York accepted the war portfolio in President McKinley's cabinet to succeed Russell A. Alger, resigned.

CHICAGO.—Robert Girard Martin died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Willard Northrop, 3132 Calumet avenue, at the age of 81. He was formerly prominent in railroad circles, but had lived a retired life for 20 years.

CLEVELAND, O. — Cleveland is practically under martial law as a result of the street railway strike. Five hundred soldiers, half a hundred deputy sheriffs and the entire police force are trying to hold a score of ugly mobs in check.

LONDON.—The Transvaal dispute has not been settled but it is in a fair way to be adjusted if the seven years' franchise can be granted without reserve. Mr. Chamberlain insists on positive assurances respecting the good faith of the concessions which President Kruger and the Rand are prepared to make.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 23, 1919.

CHICAGO.—After a conference between the public utilities commission and executives of surface and elevated lines it became known that the following offer will be made to representatives of the 15,000 employés as a basis for averting the threatened strike: 62 cents an hour wages, an increase of 14 cents and a nine hour instead of a ten hour day. If the compromise is accepted it will require 6 cent fares on the surface lines and an additional 1 cent for transfers, and a 7 cent fare on the elevated lines.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Rioting in the race war in progress here for three nights continued and two home defense guards were killed. Approximately 1,500 troops are patrolling the streets. The total casualties in the riots so far are seven dead, eleven believed fatally wounded, and scores seriously hurt.

CHICAGO.—Grand jury investigation, with indictments as a possible aftermath, is expected to determine responsibility for the flight and fall of the flaming dirigible which crashed through the skylight of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank building, killing eleven persons. The injuries of Milton G. Norton, a newspaper photographer, resulted fatally yesterday, making the total dead twelve. Norton's parachute caught fire as he jumped from the burning blimp.

METHYL CHLORIDE PLUS ODOR.

Chicago, July 21.—There have been hysterical and intemperate statements made regarding the use of methyl chloride. Long before mechanical refrigeration came into use every one was using fuel gas for stoves. Fuel gas is most certainly deadly. We have had fatalities from this source in the past and they are still occurring. The ordinary stove has from four to eight gas cocks, which can be left open accidentally or reached by any three year old child. Yet we continue to use gas for cooking. We are not afraid because it has a marked warning odor and is, therefore, considered reasonably safe. In all central system refrigerators using methyl chloride there is not a single valve or cock opening to the atmosphere. Methyl chloride, mixed with an odorous and irritating substance, would most certainly be as safe as fuel gas as used in the average stove.

The advent within the last two years of the central direct expansion plant, using either methyl chloride or sulphur dioxide, has made it possible for building owners of moderate priced apartments to provide mechanical refrigeration. Before this only a comparatively small number of the better buildings were providing mechanical refrigeration.

An installation of individual units costs at least seventy per cent more than a central plant system, while a brine plant costs about fifty per cent more. The cost of electricity for operating individual units and central direct plants is about the same, while for a brine plant it is double.

There can be no question that methyl chloride is toxic in strong concentrations. But there can also be no question that these concentrations must be strong and that weak concentrations can be harmlessly breathed for long periods of time. These facts can be verified by reference to Bulletin No. 185 of the United States public health service, published in March of this year. A very exhaustive and thorough investigation of the poisonous properties of methyl chloride was made in which one hundred-seventy guinea pigs were used. In this same bulletin, a list of gases commonly used in industrial and refrigerating work is given in the order of their poisonous effects. Chlorine, the war gas, stands second, while methyl chloride stands sixteenth out of a total of seventeen gases.

If, as is proposed, a small quantity of highly odorous and irritating substance is mixed with methyl chloride, I see no reason why it should not be continued to be used. The refrigerator boxes will certainly be as safe, if not more so, than stoves with their gas.

WILLIAM GOODMAN.

REPLY TO THE LOCKUP KEEPER.

Chicago, July 20. — Apparently Mr. Wigge, the lockup keeper, has missed the point of my letter of July 9. However, the fact that my "unjust criticism" which "is entirely unwarranted" has been noticed at all encourages me to try again.

Without commenting on the mention made of the twentieth century, ice cream and cake, etc., in Mr. Wigge's letter, I will simply say that the condition of the cell in which I was confined seemed to me to indicate that the "large force of janitors" must have been "at work in another section" for several days, at least.

As stated in my original letter, I would be interested in learning why a man to whom Judge George, who tried the case, said from the bench, "You have my sympathy. I have done the same thing myself," should have been accorded the treatment which is reserved for gunmen and gangsters in other cities.

B. K.

PICKING THE IMMORTALS.

Yankton, S. D., July 18.—Most TRIBUNE readers are no doubt aware that congress has furnished $250,000 to aid in carving the presidential shrine—Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, and Roosevelt, in the Black Hills, scene of the Coolidge summer home in 1927. On the board of the project are such names as Fred Sargent and Julius Rosenwald. The figures of the group are to be of gigantic size—almost sky scraper-like; that of Washington is now in progress. Gutzon Borglum is the sculptor in charge.

May I suggest that, if possible, the figure of Woodrow Wilson be added? The presence in the granite of many Presidents would add little or nothing to this shrine of the ages, but Woodrow Wilson is not of that number. Indeed, the lack of his effigy there would always mean a lack.

WILL CHAMBERLAIN.

SPEEDING TO THE BEDSIDE.

Chicago, July 16.—The action of Judge Albert George in fining Dr. Fr[illegible] for speeding, even though the doctor was hurrying to the bedside of a dying patient, is quite in keeping with the bullying, domineering policy of the Speeders' court. Honest people, taxpayers of the city of Chicago, are treated as a herd of hoodlums at the 11th and State street station. Their cases are not tried, they are simply [illegible]. Any attempt at reasonable explanation arouses the mighty wrath of the [illegible] judge, the noble defender of justice and the people's rights. Trivial traffic offenses are treated as mayhem and highway robbery should be treated.

Getting a ticket as I did for parking 40 minutes on the east side of Michigan boulevard while calling on a patient in the loop, means that a whole day is wasted sitting in a crowded, stuffy courtroom waiting your turn to be abused. I wonder if the [illegible] judge would be quite so thunderous if instead of honest people he had some of the uneasy fingered gunmen before him? Or, I wonder, if he had a heart attack, would he want the physician who was speeding to help him held up 25 minutes by a traffic officer whose vocabulary consisted of very few words calculated to soothe a frightened child?

I spent two years at St. Luke's hospital as an interne, and while there took care of many officers who had been injured, none of whom had been brought to the accident ward at a funeral pace. They were all fine fellows while something was being done for them. The situation seems different when it is they who need medical attention.

When do we next elect judges?

AN OMISSION.

Armandale, Minn., July 17.—Do you think it fair to your readers to publish three stanzas only of our national anthem, as though that were complete as it came from the pen of the author and as always printed until—by a few—in very recent years?

That was unworthy of a great American paper. It makes one suspect the English Speaking union influence and gives additional confirmation to the feeling that profoundly resents the perversion of school histories.

O'NEILL RYAN,
Judge of Circuit Court.

NEPOTISM.

Chicago, July 19.—Some politicians are hard to satisfy. The taxpayers pay their salaries and are forced to pay for the employment of their families. One of the park commissioners on the southwest side had his own son and daughter appointed to jobs in a certain public swimming pool out on Western avenue when there are hundreds of other boys and girls who are badly in need of jobs and more so of the money that goes with them. Nepotism should be prohibited by law.

FAIR PLAY.

CATECHISM FOR THE BISHOP.

Chicago, July 18.—Who chased the money changers from the temple? Methodist, south, please write.

W. K[illegible].

ABUSING A DERELICT.

Chicago, July 21.—The picture in today's TRIBUNE of the Fine Arts building in Jackson park, showing the markings on the dome of the Greek letter society members as well as initials, strikes the writer as something that ought not to have occurred, since there is a watchman on duty night and day to protect the building.

A month ago when passing in on the west drive I saw three boys pelting stones through the great arch window of the west wing. Over a year ago glass in the roof was broken for a considerable period and intermittently it has happened since then.

It may be pointed out, too, that the bridges over to the wooded island are actually dangerous. On one of them the rail has been supplanted by a plank while many floor planks are in a state of decay that makes them questionably safe.

Mr. Burns Mantle's article in today's TRIBUNE gives an idea of what has long appealed to me. It is the use of appropriate public buildings for proper purposes with profit to all. The Japanese teahouses on the wooded island could be opened as places where tea could be had. This ought, of course, to be done by some one interested in maintenance of quality and service rather than mere concession seekers, thus assuring a standard that would restore some of the charm of the island at the time of the fair.

GOVERNOR CALLS TROOPS TO GUARD ALABAMA NEGRO

Will Be Placed on Trial for Murder, Assault.

Mongomery, Ala., July 22.—(AP)—Alabama national guard units were mobilized today to prevent mob violence to a Negro charged with a major crime.

Under orders from Gov. Bibb Graves, to protect Lester Bouyer "at any hazard," two Birmingham guard units are due at Montgomery early tomorrow to receive here the prisoner from Kilby prison authorities.

They will take Bouyer to Eufaula, less than twelve miles from Clayton, where indictments charging him with the murder of Jack Hines, Eufaula mechanic, and a statutory offense against Miss Beatrice Clark, Hines' companion, on the night of July 10 were returned today by a special grand jury.

Bouyer's trial is scheduled to open at a special term of court at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow. The train is not expected to reach Eufaula until shortly before the scheduled opening of the trial.

The detachments were called out by Gov. Graves at the request of Barbour authorities.

The state's chief executive declares "there will not be a lynching in Alabama if I can prevent it."

Bouyer was arrested a week after Hines had been killed as he sat in an automobile with Miss Clark. The young woman told authorities that Bouyer, whom she identified, dragged her from the automobile and assaulted her after she had been clubbed into submission. She was one of the six witnesses to appear before the Barbour county grand jury during its two hour session today.

TO STRENGTHEN AIR DEFENSE OF PANAMA CANAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA, July 22.—Panama canal military construction projects costing $25,000,000, of which $7,000,000 is to be devoted to aviation development, were outlined today by Congressman W. Frank James of Michigan, chairman of the house military affairs committee, on an inspection here. After reviewing the army posts and airfields as the guest of Maj. Gen. Malin Craig, commander of the Panama Canal division, Mr. James said that air corps defense was in need of development in the greatest measure.

Present peace time strength at Panama is not equal to war time strength, he deplored. He said that the Panama canal, like Hawaii, needs full wartime strength on account of lack of quick mobilization. At present plans for air expansion call for $5,000,000 for development of Allbrook field on the Pacific side and $2,000,000 for improvement of France field on the Atlantic side.

The inspection tour revealed poor housing conditions at Camp Gatun and the Corozal post. Mr. James said he would recommend rebuilding of the Corozal post and transfer of the 2d field artillery and 10th engineers now at Gatun to Corozal. Mr. James is leaving Wednesday for Porto Rico. He will continue his inspection of United States posts by air.

Robber Holds Up Loop Store During Rush Hour

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, July 22.—The superstitious objection of natives to inoculation was demonstrated in the district of Nairobi, when an outbreak of plague caused the government to institute an inoculation campaign.

Sanitary Inspector Kendall arrived in a village and was told the chief was dead. He was requested not to approach the body. The villagers gave him a chair, and as he sat down a spear was thrown, striking the inspector in the side. A native slashed his arm, nearly severing it. Kendall's native assistant attacked the assailant and killed him.

Police were sent out and a fight ensued. Seven were killed. Kendall's arm was amputated. The villagers belong to a religious sect called Amalekites and object to inoculation, arguing that God decides whether or not a person lives or dies.

THOUSANDS of families are worrying over accumulated bills, or the expense of necessary medical attention. Others worry because pressing obligations prevent their buying the things they really need.

Interest Cost Reduced
Nearly One-Third

The Household Small Loan Company has recently reduced its interest rate nearly one-third. Coupled with our friendly, confidential service, this saving is an added inducement for dealing with this reliable company.

$100—$200—$300
Or Other Amounts

We will lend you the money you need—$100, $200, $300—on terms to fit your income and you may take twenty months to repay, if you wish. There are no fees or deductions. Loans are made to families, and no outside signers are required.

Here's the Plan

Under this plan, you can borrow $100 today and repay only $5 per month, plus interest. The first month, the interest would be $2.50, but as the loan is paid, the interest charge reduces until the last month, when it would be only 13 cents. The average cost is $1.32 per month.

JUST WE MEN

"We entertain our guests upstairs, but our friends in the basement." This comment from a Silent Automatic owner eloquently describes what a delightful place the basement becomes when the coal bin goes, and the dust and dirt associated with a heating plant disappear.

The basement walls decorated; curtains at the windows; rugs or linoleum; a card table; comfortable chairs . . . ! Picture for yourself what a center of informal hospitality you can have.

Then other things . . . a play place for children; an exercise room; a den for Dad; a cool summer retreat for the entire family! Unless you have actually seen one of these modern basements you cannot appreciate what you are missing in your home.

Right now is the very best time to get your Silent Automatic Oil Burner, and to add this wonderful room to your home. We will gladly offer you suggestions and show you photographs illustrating how the basement space can be utilized best. Do it now, and when cool weather comes you will be ready. After that . . . no shoveling coal; no carrying ashes; no underheated or overheated homes; . . . just care-free comfort with no effort whatever, month after month. Even your housework will be cut in half, due to new cleanliness.

Visit us! Learn what Silent Automatic will do for you, and why it has become the national favorite oil burner in just four years. Get the story of the remarkable OWNER SATISFACTION that has been responsible for the most sensational success in oil burner history.

CLARKE BANKERS, ON TRIAL TODAY, MAY PLEAD GUILT

Rumor Follows Action of Their Attorneys.

New York, July 22.—[Special.]—The persistent report that the three Clarke brothers and John F. Bouker, their partner in the defunct banking firm which bore their name, would plead guilty and "tell everything," was strengthened today by the announcement that their date of trial had been advanced one day without opposition on the part of their lawyers, and that they would face the court tomorrow.

Seven Additional Writs.

Seven additional indictments against the three brothers, James Bae, Philip and Hudson Clarke Jr., and August John F. Bouker, the four partners in the defunct banking firm, were filed today by the county grand jury before Judge George L. Donnellan in general sessions. This makes a total of thirteen indictments handed down by the county grand jury against the four partners, in addition to those filed against them by the federal grand jury.

The seven indictments returned today were all for accepting deposits of $25 or more on June 27 and June 28, when the bankers knew, it is charged, that their bank was insolvent. The penalty for such acts, if convicted, is not less than one year or more than five years in prison, a fine of from $500 to $3,000, or both.

No Knowledge of Safety Box.

Assistant United States Attorney George T. Mintzer said today he had no knowledge of a rumor, supposedly coming from Paris, that Quimby, the Promoter who borrowed $185,000 from the Clarkes on fantastic schemes, has $10,000,000 in safe deposit boxes in that city.

RESTAURANT MAN SHOT BY GUNMAN IN REAR OF HOME

David [Bunk] Goldberg, known to the police as a gambler, was slightly wounded last night, by an unidentified assailant who fired five shots at him in the rear of his restaurant at 3107 Roosevelt road. One of the bullets struck Goldberg in the head, inflicting a scalp wound.

Goldberg told Marquette police he was in an areaway between the restaurant and his living quarters when the shooting occurred. He was unable to see his assailant and said he knew of no reason for the attack.

In a holdup in a soft drink parlor which he operated at Roosevelt road and Halsted streets Goldberg was robbed of diamonds valued at $10,000 several months ago.

FOUR BURGLARS ESCAPE BUT LOSE LOOT AND AUTO

Four burglars were stealing stocks from the warehouse of the South American Coffee company, 1440 Congress street, yesterday afternoon, when William Hogan, plumber's foreman of the Rapid Transit company, saw them passing sacks out of an alley window and loading them into a sedan.

Hogan notified Des Plaines street police, but, when Sergt. Patrick O'Connell arrived with his squad, three of the thieves had escaped. The fourth, still lurking in the warehouse, saw the sergeant advancing with pistol drawn and retreated to the front, where he kicked out a window and escaped, protected from pistol fire by the presence of children playing in the street. The car was seized.

'Faust' Ranks Among Elmer's Choicest Finds

Programs from N. Y. Are Evening's Leaders.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Among last evening's choicest musical offerings was a well presented grand opera concert, from New York, through WMAQ, 7 to 7:30, with a surprising number of the best gems from Gounod's "Faust" in true, stirring, grand opera style. This opera seems to keep the freshness of perennial youth.

Also from New York came the Gypsies' orchestral program, through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8:30. Among the semi-classical numbers was Ketelbey's seemingly immortal "In a Monastery Garden"—a marvelous program work for orchestra and male chorus, to which one irresistibly sings of whistles the familiar melodies. There are moments here and there of tremendous power and beauty.

Also from New York, through KYW, 7:30 to 8, was heard a fine semi-classical orchestral concert, the highlight perhaps being Kreisler's "Liebesfreud," the solo part played by one of the members of the orchestra.

Next, the U. S. Navy band concert, broadcast from the "east front of the U. S. Capitol building, Washington, D. C.," through WMAQ, 8:30 to 9. The tone of this band is decidedly orchestral. "Two Comrades" [if the mixed-up announcer was correct in this instance] was one of the most striking pieces played.

The opening of THE TRIBUNE's public service office at 1101 East 63d street was celebrated by W-G-N staff talent, 9 to 9:30.

The first half of Floyd Gibbons' talk on the Siberian-Manchurian war situation, from New York, through W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, was timely and enlightening.

There is little doubt that the radio audience generally recognized W-G-N's 11 to 11:20 Dream Ship program as being Haydn's "Surprise" Symphony, of which all four movements were played. And what could be better on any program than this fascinating, imperishable symphony?

James Horsburgh, Former So. Pacific Official, Dies

GHETTO "POLICE PHILANTHROPIST" DIES IN MICHIGAN

Charles Vettin, known as the "policeman philanthropist," who for 18 years traveled a beat in the Maxwell street market and was arbiter of all Ghetto disputes, collapsed at a pinochle game at 5:30 a. m. yesterday in his summer home at Benton Harbor, Mich., and died of apoplexy. He was 67 years old and a widower.

Many of the now prosperous merchants on Roosevelt road owed their financial start to a cash loan advanced by Vettin with which they bought their first push carts. It was his custom in times of want to levy tribute among the merchants and distribute his collections of food and clothing to needy families.

Seventeen years ago Vettin was transferred from the Maxwell to the Des Plaines street district. From then until his retirement three years ago he traveled West Madison street, averaging one arrest a year, it is said, and giving at least one hobo a dole each day. Vettin, who is survived by two daughters and a son, will be buried Thursday from his home, 818 North Lawler avenue.

Five Naval Reserve Boats to Start Cruise Saturday

Five naval reserve gunboats will start Saturday on their second 15 day lake cruise of the season. The Wilmette, belonging to the Chicago unit, with the Paducah and the Dubuque, will leave the foot of Randolph street to meet the Wellington and the Hawk at a point not disclosed. The five boats will carry about 1,000 men and 125 officers. The first cruise ended last Saturday. The third will begin Aug. 17.

Jumps to His Death After Failing to Die by Knife

A few hours after hospital attachés had thwarted his attempt to cut his throat, Joseph Ballard, 70 years old, 617 Dole avenue, last night leaped from the fourth floor window at the Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary. He struck a cement pavement and was instantly killed.

JOHN C. CRAFT, BANKER, IS DEAD; RITES TOMORROW

Funeral services for John Corson Craft, former vice president of the Continental and Commercial National bank, will be held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ryland A. Wolcott, 932 Euclid avenue, Hubbard Woods, at 11 a. m. tomorrow. Burial will be at Sycamore, Ill.

Mr. Craft, who was 66 years old, died yesterday of heart disease at his daughter's home following a six months' illness. He had made his home there since his wife died in 1914. He is survived by Mrs. Wolcott and one son, Daniel D. Craft.

After thirteen years of service in the subtreasury here Mr. Craft, in 1903, became vice president of the Bankers' National bank and then of the Commercial National bank, which in 1910 merged into the Continental and Commercial National bank. He retired from the vice presidency of that institution in 1919, but remained a director until last year.

He was a charter member and the first treasurer of the Flossmoor Country club, a member of the Union League, Bankers, Homewood Country, and Kenwood clubs, and a Knight Templar.

Ralph E. Johnson, Modern Woodman Official, Is Dead

Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—(AP)—Ralph Emery Johnson, 57, supreme organizer of the Modern Woodmen of America, died tonight at his home here after an illness of several weeks. He was a graduate of the University of Nebraska, class of 1893, and of the law college in 1895. His widow survives.

NEW RESPIRATION MACHINE MAY BE BOUGHT BY CITY

Inquiries concerning a new electrical respiratory machine in use at the Bellevue hospital in New York were made yesterday by Health Commissioner Kegel, who plans to purchase one of the machines for the health department.

The patient is placed in an airtight metal cylinder, with his head protruding through an opening. Compressed air is then forced in and out of the cylinder, alternately compressing and expanding the chest and forcing the lungs to function at a normal rate.

There are none of the dangerous pauses which sometimes occur when relays of workers change places in artificial respiration, Dr. Kegel was told.

L. D. Hewitt, President of Taylorville Bank, Dies

L. D. Hewitt, president of the Kincaid Trust and Savings bank of Taylorville, died of heart disease at his home yesterday after an illness of three months. He was 66 years old. Mr. Hewitt was an organizer of the Taylorville National bank in 1908 and its president until 1926. He is survived by a widow, a son and a daughter.

KONJOLA

The Medicine of Proven Merit

THOUSANDS of Chicago people have found Konjola to be the medicine they always needed. It is a new formula, containing the juices of 22 roots and herbs, which acts upon the stomach and digestive organs.

Konjola restores more normal, healthy action to the inner-system and thus produces new feelings of health over the body in general. It is a super-tonic of proven merit.

Over 80,000 bottles—four carloads—have been sold in Chicago since February 12th this year. There must be real merit behind such a product.

The Konjola representative is explaining the merits of this new medicine to large crowds daily at the Walgreen Store, State and Washington. Other Konjola representatives may be seen at the following stores:

COURT TO DECIDE IF CUNEO TOWER PERMIT IS LEGAL

Temporary Writ Issued to Block Revocation.

The controversy over the proposed John F. Cuneo tower at Randolph street and Michigan avenue was thrown into court yesterday when Mr. Cuneo's attorneys filed a petition for an injunction to prevent revocation of his permit by Building Commissioner Paschen. Cancellation of the permit has been ordered by the city council buildings and zoning committee.

Superior Judge Walter P. Steffen at noon today will hear arguments on the bill. He allowed Mr. Paschen and the corporation counsel's office, which is representing him, twenty-four hours to read the bill and prepare a defense, issuing a temporary restraining order to keep matters status quo until the hearing.

Claim Permits Legal.

The injunction petition was drafted by Attorney Barnet Hodes, who drew up the zoning law amendment, recently slipped through the council, allowing the Cuneo building to go up sixty stories. The petition states that the permit was legally obtained under the amendment and that great damage will be done Mr. Cuneo if it is revoked. It charges that the council committee had no authority to act.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Leonard Ettelson announced that he will advise Mr. Paschen this morning how to act, and the law department will confirm an informal ruling that the Hodes amendment is null and void. Both opinions were sent last night to Corporation Counsel Samuel Ettelson at Green Lake, Wis., for his signature.

Realty Board Raps Secrecy.

In a letter to all members of the council committee the Chicago Real Estate board decried the council's practice of passing zoning law amendments without publicity and proposed that all interested property owners be notified of any pending change.

"The Chicago Real Estate board was largely instrumental in securing the enabling legislation to make zoning a fact," the letter stated. "We believe that the zoning ordinance should possess a certain amount of elasticity in order to keep pace with the progress of the city, but we believe very firmly that no changes should be made unless fully justified and unless property owners are advised of the contemplated changes."

YACHT, 16 HRS. BEHIND LEE'S RECORD, GIVES UP MISSISSIPPI RACE

Natchez, Miss., July 22.—[Special.]—The Martha Jane, the cruiser with which George Cox of New Orleans sought to break the 59 year old record of the R. E. Lee from New Orleans to St. Louis, reached here at 11:50 p. m. tonight, 16 hours behind the Lee's record, and Mr. Cox decided to abandon the race.

The Bogie, the speed launch owned by Dr. Leroy Louis of Memphis, against which Mr. Cox was racing to set a new record and win a nickel bet, passed through here hours before and was reported tonight at Greenville, six hours ahead of the Lee's record.

The Martha Jane drew up to the wharf here with both her engines running splendidly, but she brought a story of trouble with engine and steering gear and of a day long fight to repair the damage while en route while the river was being scoured for her. The yacht was tied up for seven hours, with both motors dead, 50 miles above Baton Rouge.

Midwife Under Sentence Involved in New Death Quiz

Mrs. Anna Heisler, a midwife of 1648 Allport street, already under sentence of one to fourteen years on a charge of manslaughter, was involved yesterday in another case similar to that in which she was convicted. Peter Honsick, 10 years old, told a coroner's jury he had taken his mother, Mrs. Peter Honsick, 2321 South Wesley avenue, to the Heisler home shortly before her death, allegedly after an illegal operation. Mrs. Heisler, now in the county jail awaiting disposition of her case, was subpoenaed to appear when the inquest is resumed on July 21.

ARREST WEALTHY DRUGGIST'S SON IN FREAK CRASH

Cornelius J. Van Schaack Jr., 20 years old, son of a wealthy wholesale druggist, was charged with speeding and reckless driving at the Evanston police station last night after a freak accident at Sherman avenue and Noyes street, Evanston, in which four automobiles were damaged and five persons narrowly escaped injury. Traffic at the intersection was tied up for thirty minutes.

Van Schaack, who lives in Wilmette, was speeding north in Sherman avenue at 45 miles an hour, according to his own admission. With him was Howard Butler, also 20 years old, of Evanston. At Noyes street two cars drove across Sherman and Van Schaack, unable to halt, tried to drive between them. He struck both, the impact whirling his own car around and tossing it against a machine parked at the curb.

Mrs. S. M. Buck, 1133 Maple avenue, Evanston, who was in one of the cars struck by Van Schaack, signed the complaint charging him with speeding and reckless driving. He was released on $200 bonds for a hearing Saturday.

Two deaths yesterday raised the 1929 Cook county motor toll of 455. The victims:

Axel Anderson, 53 years old, 2653 Rutherford avenue, died of injuries received when he was struck while crossing Grand and Normandy avenues on July 7.

Mill Banks, 43 years old, colored, 2942 Federal street. Fatally injured when he slipped from the rear step of his ice wagon and fell in front of a truck at State and 30th streets.

D. J. Pyle, 21 years old, 5513 Everett avenue, son of Leslie J. Pyle, official of the Locomotive Fire Box company, was arrested yesterday on charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. The warrants were secured from Municipal Judge Haas by Mrs. Anna Gallagher, 6158 Kimbark avenue. Pyle was released on bonds of $1,600, and will be arraigned today.

The inquest into the death of Clarence Guittard, 24 year old bell captain at the Illinois Athletic club, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident on Sunday, was continued until July 31.

200 BABIES

NEED PROPERLY REFRIGERATED FOOD THE YEAR 'ROUND

That is the present average, according to the Department of Public Health. How many will live to vigorous youth?—to productive manhood and womanhood?—to happy old age?

It depends a great deal on food properly cared for. Milk must be kept cold.

Of course, milk—which is baby's basic food—spoils quickly in the heat of summer. Even in cool weather this is true. To be safe, baby's milk should never for a moment be permitted to deteriorate.

Our public health authorities are constantly striving to improve health conditions. The success of their efforts can be retained with proper refrigeration—or lost, without it.

On Healthy Babyhood rests the happiness of Chicago three and four decades hence. Let us guard the health of our babies—with intelligent and diligent preservation of food—as vigorously as we guard their little lives from accident.

ALBERT HITCHEN makes trip from Los Angeles to London in 8 DAYS

New World's Record ascribed to success of 48-hour Coast to Coast Rail-Air Service . . .

SOME twenty years ago Albert Hitchen of Beverly Hills, California, made the trip from London to Los Angeles in what was then considered good time—15 days.

Recently he cut this time almost in half by taking advantage of the new 48-hour Coast to Coast Rail-Air Service—offered by the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., and the Santa Fe Railway.

Purchasing Ticket No. 1—Los Angeles to London—he left Los Angeles July 8th in the first plane inaugurating this new daily service. He arrived in New York on the luxurious Pennsylvania train—The Airway Limited—at 9:50 A. M. (Standard Time), July 10th. Six days later he was in London—establishing what is believed to be a world's record for speed from Los Angeles to London.

Not only speed but security and comfort characterize this new service in which the Pennsylvania participates. Under the supervision of a staff of experts, headed by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, millions of dollars have been spent during many months of preparation to ensure in this new enterprise the same high standards which characterize the operations of the "largest fleet of trains in America."

HUGGINS TELLS HOW THE BABE IS DECLINING

But Pegler Sees an Ulterior Motive.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 22.—Miller Huggins, foreman of the detail, has been saying that Babe Ruth, who is now ailing again, has reached the point where decline begins. Mr. Babe is down with a charlie horse and the photographers got a picture of him this morning sitting at home wearing a domestic expression as his bride wrapped his meaty upper leg with a Pullman towel which is no way to doctor a charlie horse, although it will do for a picture in the papers.

There is a rather strong propaganda going just now to the effect that Georgie Porgie Ruth has played his best seasons and is not of much account any more and I have a notion that this sort of thing did not merely spring into circulation spontaneously. At the time of his injury, Mr. Ruth was hitting .350 being one of the few regular members of the Yankee troupe who were hitting as high as .300 and he had committed 22 home runs.

Home Runs Cheap.

Of course, the home run has lost its sales value with the customers this year and there is even some evidence that the baseball proprietors are tired of it. It has become so cheap now that in many instances the home runs do not attract patronage to pay the wholesale price of the baseballs that are knocked out of bounds, and by tradition, ceded to the persons who retrieve them.

The intra-mural mourning over the passing of Babe Ruth goes back to last winter. About the time that the baseball players were entraining for the south to absorb the sun and, incidentally the moon, Mr. E. Generous Barrow, the business manager of the Yankee company let fly an opinion, which appeared to be quite unsolicited, that Mr. Babe had played his best seasons and would never again be the man or the attraction that he used to be.

This was interesting of itself, coming from the business manager of the company because a baseball company regards its players as a retail store regards its stock and fixtures, and you do not often hear the business manager of a store saying "our line of kitchen ware is not what it used to be and it is getting worse all the time."

Ulterior Motive Seen.

But it was the more interesting in view of the fact that this was to be the last year of Georgie Porgie's three year contract with the firm at $70,000 a year.

Mr. Barrow is a large, thick man who never played baseball in person, and he has never had any illusions of heroism about the baseball players, including Mr. Babe who worked for him in Boston, where he inherited a champion team from Will Carrigan. Mr. Barrow's interest in baseball has been the same as that of Mr. Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh and the late Mr. Charles Ebbets of Brooklyn, which is to say a turnstile interest. Old Mr. Ebbets always thought the ticket-takers' uniforms were much more beautiful than the players' uniforms and the ticket booths were beautiful little temples to him whereas the dugout was only a dank excavation, floored with slippery duckboards.

Mr. Barrow is very efficient and while the baseball firm does things in a large generous way outwardly, he always knows how many baseballs have been used and can tell when the Babe has been digging into the satchel for new balls to autograph and present to the members of his public.

I do not know just what is fair and what is unfair in the course of a wage war between a $70,000 a year ball player whose contract is running out in a year of illness and comparative mediocrity and the business manager. Certainly Mr. Babe has plenty of propagandists to ballyhoo him the year around because he has been such a theatrical character that sport writers everywhere when in doubt can safely write about Babe Ruth. This being so, perhaps it is O. K. for Mr. Barrow to give it as his opinion that Mr. Babe has seen his best years and Mackinac Island, Mich., July 22.—(AP)—Blue Moon, a schooner from the Jackson Park Yacht club, today was declared winner of the Chicago to Mackinac Island yacht race. She crossed the line in seventh position but won on corrected time.

Blue Moon sailed the 331 miles in 47 hours 18 minutes and 13 seconds. Allowances cut her corrected time to 39 hours 46 minutes 57 seconds, almost two hours less than that of Siren, which finished second. Siren has won the classic twice.

Blue Moon was skippered by 22 year old Kenneth McLelland of 432 Normal parkway, Chicago. Members of the crew were: Richard Stevens, 21; Edward Stevens, 20; Jack Holbrook, 22, and Dick Horswell, 20.

Bob Benedict's Bagheera took first place in the cruising division with a corrected time of 38 hours and 12 minutes. Elizabeth was second.

Joyant, one of the last boats to leave Chicago, was the first to finish. The little sloop owned by H. L. DeLisle of Chicago took the starter's gun at 4:35 Saturday and sailed across the finish line at noon today.

The first of the yachts sailed out from the Chicago yacht club at four o'clock Saturday afternoon. Five small cruisers comprised this batch. The larger cruisers set out five minutes later, and at 4:30 the first of the racers set sail. Blue Moon, the winner, was among these.

The yachts headed out across the open water for Point Betsy, on the Michigan shore, 186 miles from Chicago. Then they sailed through Manitou strait, past Traverse and Charlevoix bays, and on to Mackinac, a total distance of 331 miles.

SOX ARRIVE IN WASHINGTON FOR 3 GAME SERIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Buoyed up by their clean sweep of the series with the Boston Red Sox, the White Sox arrived here today to battle the Senators in a three game series, opening tomorrow.

The Washington series will initiate the second invasion of the Sox into the east. Before they return to Comiskey park on Aug. 8 to meet the Browns they will have played three game stands against Philadelphia, New York, and Boston, in the order named.

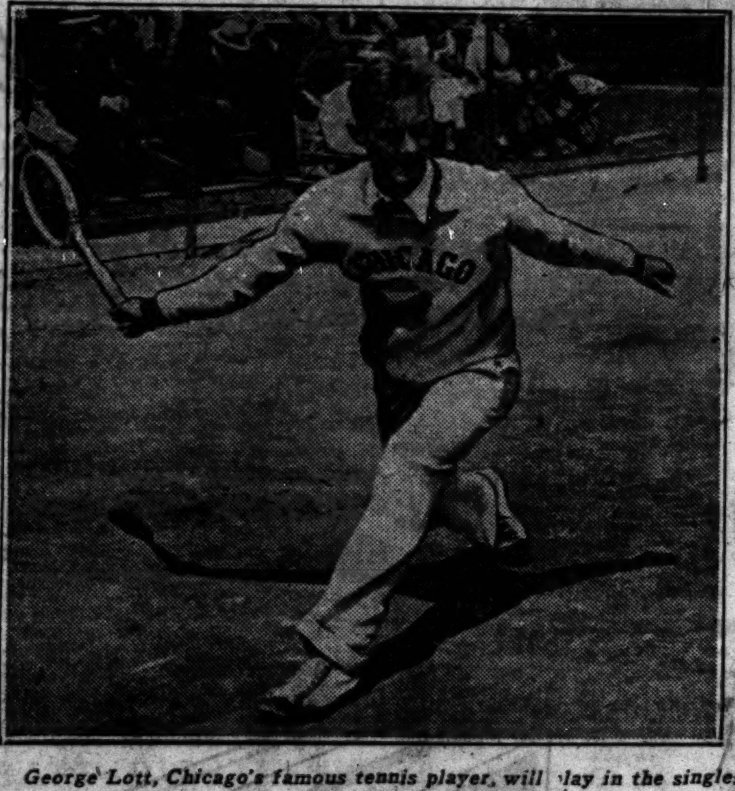
In view of the fact that they won ten out of sixteen games against the eastern quartet at home, the Sox are hopeful of a similar or better record on the present jaunt. The recent work of Pitchers Red Faber, Ted Lyons, Al Thomas, and Ed Walsh has convinced the team it may yet get some place.

Manager Blackburne is expected to send either Faber or Thomas against the Senators in the opener tomorrow.

Maloney Signs to Fight Bertazzolo at Boston

Boston, Mass., July 22.—(AP)—The Boston Garden announced the signing of Jimmy Maloney, Boston heavyweight, and Riccardo Bertazzolo, the latest Italian fistic importation, for a ten round bout at Braves' field on Aug. 12. These battlers met here several months ago and Bertazzolo won the decision on a foul.

CHOSEN ON CUP TEAM



George Lott, Chicago's famous tennis player, will play in the singles against France for the Davis cup. He replaces Frank Hunter. Bill Tilden, Wilmer Allison, and John Van Ryn complete the team.

HANDICAP RACES.

MANY of us old timers derived a personal satisfaction from the running of the Arlington handicap Saturday in which Misstep, the west's leading handicap performer, had a head advantage over the great stretch runner Display, from the east. Seven of the twelve contenders finished within three lengths of one another, and the margin between first and last was less than ten lengths over a mile and furlong route. Here is why.

In theory, assignment of weights in a handicap race brings all the horses together with an even chance. Of course, racing luck with its interference or the varying skill of jockeys cannot be considered in the advance weight assignments. But that is the theory.

When horses are shipped here from various points, such assignment of weights becomes a difficult task. Condition, recent performances, and distance of the race must be considered.

Now all readers will admit that the man assigned to do the handicapping has plenty to think about. The official handicapper for such events at Arlington Park is Martin Nathanson. Nathanson, or "Nate," as he was known to newspaper men when a sporting editor in Chicago, has been a turf official since the old days of Washington Park, Harlem, and Hawthorne.

As a sport writer and then as a turf official, none has been more conscientious in performance of his duties. This official still rises at 6 o'clock in the morning to pore over his chart of past performances in assigning handicaps and in drawing up condition books. It is the same conscientious official at work.

That is why some of us old timers enjoyed the more that finish and congratulate the man who is perhaps the best turf handicapper in America.

I'm off for the great pine forest!
What ho, for a life of ease!
I'll spend my time
In that northern clime
And loaf in the cool lake breeze!

I'll fish for the pike and muskie,
I'll paddle a birch canoe;
I'll make my camp
Far from a bare-leg vamp,
And swim all the whole day through.

As I rest on my vacation,
All labors I'll gladly shirk;
When bankroll's gone,
I'll just ramble on,
Back here to my desk—and work.

LOTT NAMED ON DAVIS CUP TEAM TO PLAY FRANCE

Paris Asserts Lacoste Will Not Compete.

New York, July 22.—[Special.]—The American Davis cup committee, one of the most mystifying sports organizations in the world, did the unexpected again today. It benched Frank Hunter, one of the four players who made a clean sweep of the interzone final series with the Germans, and substituted George Lott for him on the team that is to meet France in the challenge round at Paris Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

The other three positions will be filled by the same men who faced the Teutons, according to announcement made by the U. S. L. T. A. Bill Tilden, John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison are the trio selected.

Rene Lacoste was definitely eliminated from the French team by the naming of the tri-color lineup today. Henri Cochet, Jean Borotra, Jacques Brugnon and Christian Boussus will comprise the defending trophy unit. Cochet and Borotra, a dispatch from Paris stated, will play the singles. The pairings for the doubles was not announced but the same pair probably will handle the tandem assignment also.

Lacoste's Illness Aids U. S.

Lacoste has been in bed with a bad cold, which he caught while playing in exhibition matches for charity in England about ten days ago. France's loss is America's gain, for with Rene out of action the United States has a fair chance to win back the cup—a chance that would have been practically nonexistent if he had recovered his health.

Though Joseph W. Wear, chairman of the committee offered no explanation for the nomination of Lott it probably was dictated by strategic motives. By including the Chicago youth in the lineup the officials provided themselves with two alternatives in choosing the playing order, which does not have to be made public until twenty-four hours before the opening match.

With Lacoste out the leaders of the Yankee forces can go out to win with as strong a combination in Tilden and Lott as in Tilden and Hunter.

If Wear and Fitz-Eugene Dixon, non-playing captain of the team, had been sure Lacoste would not be able to represent France, they probably would have had little hesitancy about naming the same lineup that defeated Germany so decisively.

Doubles Team Certain.

A team that was capable of crushing the Teutons with such finality would have had at least an outside chance of beating Cochet and Borotra. But if the French ace should arise from his sick bed at the last moment, as he has a habit of doing when something important is at stake the American tennis fathers will be face to face with the old question of age versus youth.

With the three Musketeers all available for duty, the Red, White and Blue racqueteers might just as well spend the three days of the challenge round series shooting marbles. The odds against them would be about a hundred to one.

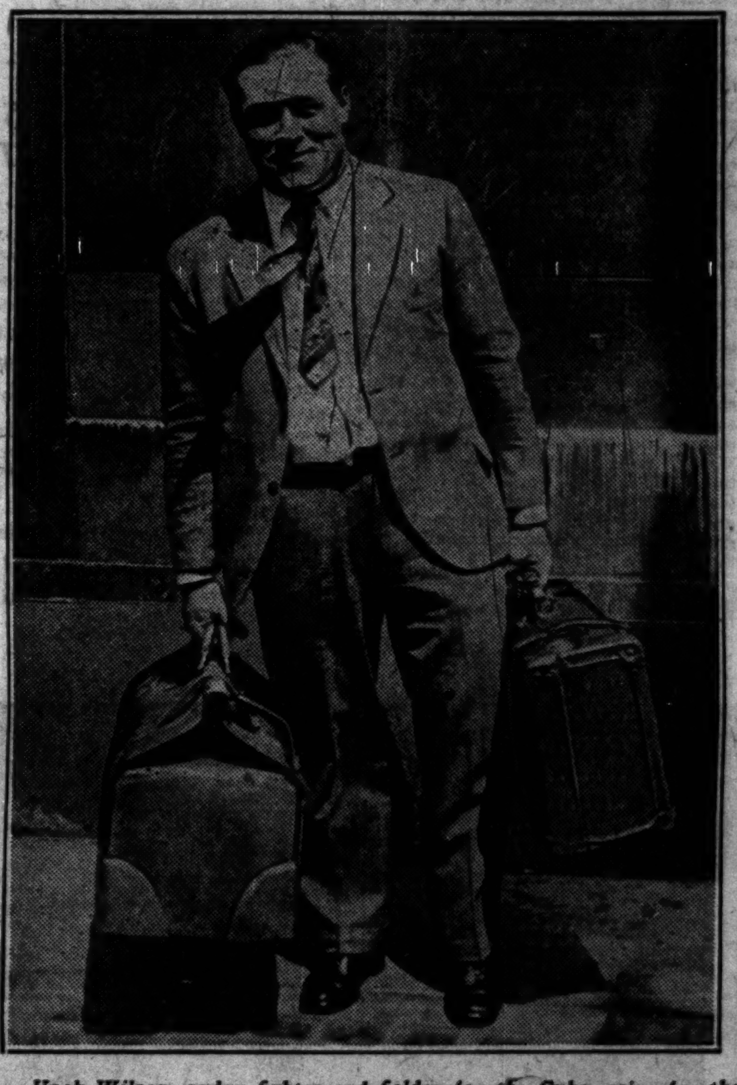
So far as the doubles phase of the challenge round battle is concerned, the team was virtually determined by the brilliant showing of Van Ryn and Allison at Wimbledon, where they won the British championship, emblematic of world supremacy, and at Berlin.

P. WANER BOOSTS AVERAGE; REST OF BIG 6 IDLE

The quiet in all but one sector of the major league battlefront gave Paul Waner of the Pirates a chance to gain yesterday in the standing of the Big Six. Waner clouted a home run, double, and single and added four points to his fifth place average, now .337. The standing:

	G	AB	R	H	Pct.
Manush, Browns	90	372	62	144	.387
Foxx, Athletics	89	321	75	124	.386
Hornsby, Cubs	90	335	83	121	.361
Ruth, Yankees	67	246	63	86	.350
P. Waner, Pirates	87	344	82	116	.337
Ott, Giants	90	328	87	106	.323

"HOWDY, FOLKS!"



Hack Wilson, pudgy fighter and fielder for the Cubs, grins for the boys when he arrives from the east. It's a first place grin, so Hack says, and today McCarthy's boys start their battle on home territory.

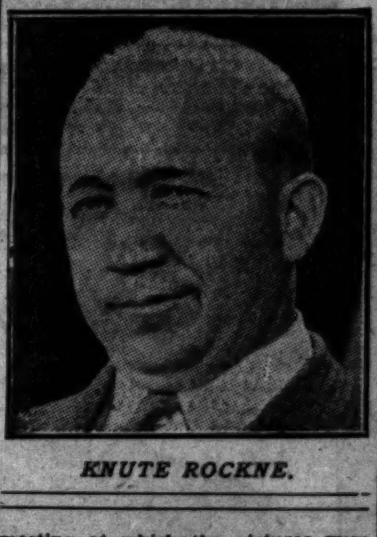
SPEAKING OF SPORT

BY DON MAXWELL.



KNUTE ROCKNE.

KNUTE ROCKNE came into town yesterday to complete details for the three football games Notre Dame will play this fall on Soldiers' field, and after his work was finished, recited additions to his chautauqua répertoire.

"On the eve of a Big Ten game," Knute asserts, one of the coaches came upon his rival standing on a bridge gazing with melancholy mien into the cold depths below.

"What, ho," said the strolling coach. "I hope you're not thinking of jumping in."

"Frankly, I am," the dispirited coach answered. "Last year we didn't win a game and the alumni yelled for my scalp. Finally they conceded me one more trial. Tomorrow's game will save or ruin me. And now tonight I learn that my best half back has run off and got married, my quarter back has developed tonsilitis, fraternity jealousy has wrecked the line, and my best end has sprained his ankle. What's the use of living? The river is the best way out."

"Come, come," said the strolling coach. "There's never a cloud but has its silver lining. Let us consider your case. You still have that big tackle, haven't you? And aren't those all American guards playing? Have you overlooked the fact that you have the best drop kicker in the conference?"

"You're right," mused the despondent coach. "Go on."

He did—then they both jumped in.

And this is a true story:

"A coach of a prominent southern school had an important intersectional game scheduled. Craving to make a fine showing, he went to a wealthy patron of the gridiron and argued this wise:

"'If we send scouts down to —— they will bring back copious notes, but their findings will be their individual opinions. Now, the best way to scout is to take movies. Opinions vary —pictures don't lie.

"So the wealthy patron of the gridiron issued letters of credit and told the coach to get the movies.

Students were invited to a mass meeting at which the pictures were to be shown the squad. The eager crowd packed the hall. The players occupied the front seats. A clean sheet had been tacked to the wall. The hall was darkened—the moving picture machine began grinding.

"First came a closeup of the coach descending from his Pullman. Next were flashes of his ride to his hotel. Closeups of the coach buying a ticket to the game; closeups of him shaking hands with the rival coach, closeups of him taking notes in the press box, and finally a blurry flash of the two teams playing.

"The pictures cost the patron of football $6,800 and they cost the coach his job."

It was rather warm to consider football prospects and Mr. Rockne never has been an optimistic forecaster of coming seasons, but this he does admit:

"Notre Dame's team this fall will be the toughest team in history. And there will be eleven different nationalities in the lineup of the first team.

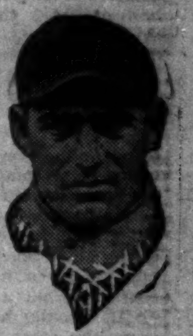
BRUINS RENEW PENNANT DRIVE ON HOME LOT

McMillan's Playing Surprises East.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.



CHARLIE ROOT.

Joe McCarthy and his Cubs are back from their travels. They rolled in yesterday afternoon and today return to their task of trying to weave Chicago into a National league pennant. Just now their chances of success appear a bit brighter than when they went east almost three weeks ago, not only because they loom stronger themselves but because unlooked for happenings have handicapped the other outstanding members of the field.

For the initial appearance of the Giants McCarthy plans on letting them look at Charley Root, with whom they never take many liberties. McGraw may start Lefty Hubbell, who would not be objectionable to McCarthy's right handed hitters. For tomorrow's menu McCarthy will give the Giants another chance to view Guy Bush, their Nemesis, and Carlson or Malone will be reserved for the final on Thursday.

The Giants, cocky and hopeful a few weeks ago, are down on their heels if their recent exhibitions mean anything. The champion Cardinals have been carried down by the thing that carries down the best of teams—poor pitching—and the Pirates, who had been leniently dealt with by Lady Luck, finally are learning that it all evens up in the long run. Mr. Grimes, the capable spit baller will be out with them for an indefinite period and he's the most important cog in the machine. Pie Traynor's return also is indefinite.

Cubs' Pitchers Improve.

Almost since the start of the season McCarthy has been calling for more pitching strength. He knew he had to have it before he could hope to win out in a tight race. It finally looks as if he might have his wish.

There is no reason to believe Bush can't keep on winning. Root shows no sign of faltering. Malone probably will improve. Carlson has hurled two beautiful games in three starts. Blake looked like the Blake of 1928 when he vanquished the Robins last Saturday. He is the man McCarthy really needs. That means five outstanding hurlers who can be worked in any series and no club needs more.

The one thing that has been wrong with Blake is a tendency to lose control. He has the same speed and curve he owned when at his best last season.

The McCarthy machine now is where the schedule should begin to operate in its favor. They make only one more eastern trip and play sixteen games, but the eastern clubs have thirty-one to play at Wrigley field starting this afternoon, and the easterners do not have much luck hereabouts. Besides the sixteen in the east the only other foreign battles the Cubs must engage in are fourteen that are divided between Cincinnati, St. Louis, and Pittsburgh. These clubs also have a few engagements to appear in Chicago.

McMillan Surprises East.

Some of the success encountered by the north siders in the east was due to Norman McMillan, the third base incumbent. The ex-American leaguer, who has been booted from club to club and league to league because of a failing for getting hurt at the wrong time, finally surprised the eastern experts who could not write about the Cubs without mentioning McCarthy's deplorable weakness at third base. McMillan not only has been fielding but has been clubbing the ball so steadily that his average is in the .312 neighborhood.

PIRATES, 13; ROBINS, 3

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 22.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates went on a wild rampage against Brooklyn pitching today and trounced the Robins, 13 to 3, in the only major league contest of the afternoon. The victory stretched Pittsburgh's lead in the National league to a game and a half over the idle Cubs.

HUGGINS MOURNS WANE OF RUTH'S DRAWING POWER

But Pegler Doubts if His Tears Are Genuine.

will never again be the man he was, and for Mr. Huggins, as the agent of the firm, to deplore the passing of Babe Ruth.

Makes Fans Forget Scandal.

I have always thought that from 1920, when he hit 54 home runs and made the customers of both major leagues forget the suspicions engendered by the White Sox fakery and the reasons for it, Mr. Babe should have received no less than $100,000 a year. It is painless thus to give away the magnates' money, but it may be remembered that the baseball business was in a very bad way at the time and that Georgie Porgie put millions of people in mind of home runs and baseball.

One year the Washington team had the misfortune to follow the Yankees around the league on all trips to the west and they found themselves playing for the entertainment of the ushers and peanut boys exclusively in most of their engagements. Mr. Babe had crowded the ball parks almost every day and when the Yankees moved along there was a temporary reaction. Then business would pick up and the club that followed the Senators would do quite well.

But Mr. Babe did not get $100,000 any year. For several seasons he lacked the imagination and the audacity to realize what enormous receipts he was attracting to the turnstiles and he was playing on such terms that the proprietors could pay him off for a whole season with the receipts from a single day's attendance. Finally he got a manager who gave him some idea of his own value and he was instructed to hold out for a three year contract at $100,000 a year the last time he talked business with the management. But when the Babe walked into the office and was offered $70,000 he took it and walked out.

Drawing Power Wanes.

It is true that a certain proportion or an uncertain proportion of his home runs were built into the new and frisky baseball and into the cramped architecture of the ball parks, but the fact remains that Mr. Babe busted the frisky ball harder and much more often than any one else did. In 1920 when he hit 54 home runs Tris Speaker was the next highest man with 19, which would have been an amazing number with the normal ball, but which was almost no home runs to speak of compared to 54.

In 1928 he hit 54 again, and Lou Gehrig, who has set up in business as something of a buster himself, died off with 27. So, back in the years before the proprietors stimulated the baseball, when Cactus Cravath was a notable slugger with a dozen home runs, Mr. Babe probably would have hit 20.

Now that the customers have begun to yawn or utter mild jeers at the home run, Mr. Babe's drawing powers are diminishing. If he hits only 35 he will be deemed to have flopped, but if he should hit 75 the customers would let out unpleasant remarks tinged with suspicion and disgust, so Mr. Babe will be seen to be in a cheerless position in the closing year of his contract.

Notwithstanding his hitting average or .350, the management seems determined that this year shall mark the beginning of his decline and it may be assumed that his wages will decline proportionately, if not more so.

The general topic of wages is the most fascinating topic there is for the largest number and the subject of Mr. Babe's wages is more interesting than Mr. Babe himself. His pay of $70,000 is what I would call uppercase wages and it will be very depressing indeed to learn that such a noble figure has been cut.

Announce 1930 Coaches at Wesleyan

Bloomington, Ill., July 22.—[Special.]—The personnel of the Illinois Wesleyan university coaching staffs for the next year was announced today by Dr. William J. Davidson, president of the university.

Ned V. Whitesell, who has served as athletic director and head football coach since June, 1927, is under contract in a similar capacity for another year and again will guide the varsity eleven. Whitesell is in his twelfth year of coaching, having held positions at Lexington, Fairbury, Pekin and University of Wisconsin prior to coming to Bloomington. He will be assisted by Dr. J. Norman Elliott, graduate of Wesleyan and Northwestern universities, who has been his assistant the last two seasons.

Walter H. Roettger of St. Louis, Mo., will begin his sixth season as basketball coach in November. Roettger is a St. Louis National league outfielder and his contract runs from November to March 1. He has a record of four consecutive championships.

Donald Karnes, a graduate of University of Illinois, will coach the track and field team for the third year in 1930. He was formerly head football, basketball and track coach at Normal university, prior to accepting the call to Wesleyan.

J. Arthur Hill of Rochester, N. Y., will return as director of physical education and intramural athletics, and also will coach the varsity baseball team. His assistant will be George Withey of Springfield, who will captain this year's varsity swimming team. He succeeds Bob Murray, who goes to New York university this fall.

COURT PROTECTS GRAND CIRCUIT PARI-MUTUELS

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 22.—(AP)—Sheriff Byron J. Patterson this afternoon was served with a court order restraining him from interfering with pari-mutuel betting at the Grand Circuit races here. The order was signed by Circuit Judge Major L. Dunham of Kent county.

A similar order was obtained and enforced last fall when races were brought to the western Michigan fair here. Judge Dunham issued that injunction also.

PAPE, IOWA GRID STAR, WORKS IN STONE QUARRY

Iowa City, Ia., July 22.—[Special.]—Oran H. Pape, star University of Iowa half back, is spending the summer as a laborer in a stone quarry and expects to be in splendid physical shape when he reports for practice Sept. 15.

Pape's 52 yard run for a touchdown in the last quarter of the Iowa-Minnesota homecoming game last fall, and Nelson's goal kick, enabled the Hawkeyes to give the Gophers their first beating of the season. The score was 7 to 6. He made 48 points in six games to rank as leading scorer on the Hawkeye squad, and placed second among Big Ten point earners.

He also won a major letter last year as a member of the Hawkeye relay team.

Hawthorne Gets License for 19 Day Race Meeting

Springfield, Ill., July 22.—(AP)—A license to conduct a racing meeting at the Hawthorne track was issued to the Chicago Business Men's Racing association today. The meet will open Saturday, Aug. 3, for 19 days ending Aug. 24. Clarence F. Buck, director of agriculture, announced the license fee of $2,500 a day and the association's certified check for $47,500 accompanied the application.

HARROD WINS GRAND RAPIDS' CIRCUIT FEATURE

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 22.—(AP)—Grand Rapids' first Grand Circuit races in 15 years opened today, with the Blythefield Country club $2,000 trot as the feature event.

Hollyrood Harrod won the event in straight heats, clearly outtrotting the field. Bernice Logan, Syracuse mare, opened the meeting by outlasting Prince Don in the first heat of the 2:13 pace and repeated in the remaining two heats. Prince Don faded apparently in the stretch. Summaries:

TASTE above everything

"They've certainly got it in this package!"

Such popularity must be deserved

The FLAT TIN OF FIFTY

A BEEFSTEAK can be tough, tasteless, dry—or it can be tender, crisp, done to a turn, dripping with flavor. It depends mostly on who cooks it. A cigarette can be flat, over-sweet, heavy; or it can sparkle with spicy aroma and delicate tobacco flavors. It depends on the tobaccos, on who blends them—and how!

Taste a Chesterfield, and notice three things: the distinct and pleasing flavor, the fragrance and spiciness of the aroma, and, finally, that certain "something different" which we can only call "character." Tobacco flavor, tobacco aroma, tobacco character—good taste means all three. And all three are blended—and cross-blended, the standard Chesterfield method—into every shred of tobacco.

What you want in a cigarette is taste—and in Chesterfield you get it— TASTE above everything

JOHNNY BURNS' LEFT JABS BEAT HAAKON HANSEN

Fight Decisions

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

HAAKON HANSEN.

More than 5,000 saw Burns win by use of a left jab and hook. Johnny stabbed with straight lefts as many as four times without returns. He slipped punches very cleverly and tied Haakon's arms when they went into close quarters.

The receipts amounted to about $10,000.

The Norwegian was guilty of illegal tactics on several occasions. As early as the first round, Hansen hit Burns four times after the bell. One of the blows stunned the Californian but he came back gamely in the second round and held his own. In the ninth and tenth rounds, Hansen hit Burns after the clang of the bell.

Burns Wins Eight Rounds.

Throughout the fight, Burns was master of the situation at all times. He won eight of the ten rounds while two were about even. The second and sixth rounds resulted in several rallies with both fighters trading punches in toe to toe fashion on the ropes. Neither could have been given the edge in either session. The other rounds, however, went to Burns, who used his left hand to score the points by jabbing and hooking. Although he was retreating in some of the sessions he did enough execution to win the rounds on points. Burns weighed 159½ pounds and his opponent 156¾ pounds.

In the semi-windup, Sergt. Ray McPeck of Denver, Col., was given the six round decision over Cecil Hurt of Indianapolis. It was a punching fight all the way. They met at 158 pounds.

Nitti Beats Allen.

Joe Nitti, the St. Paul 124 pounder, was given the decision over Johnny Allen of Grand Rapids, Mich., in the opener. They boxed four rounds. Bobby Hynds of Decatur, Ill., was given the verdict over Jerry Kucera of Chicago in the second fight of four rounds. They scaled 148 pounds. Bud Hammer of Gary, Ind., lost on a technical knockout to Bobby O'Hara of Georgia. Referee McGarity stopped the fight after Hammer had been knocked down twice in the fourth round. They met at 148 pounds. In the other bout on the card Cowboy Dula of Ft. Worth, Tex., won the six round decision from Johnny Battone, the south side 158 pounder.

Marriner and Fuente Finish Drill for Bout

Les Marriner and Tony Fuente, who meet in the feature of the heavyweight card at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night, finished training yesterday. Both came through without injury.

Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, who will meet Jack Sharkey of Boston either in Detroit or Chicago, engaged in an exhibition bout in St. Louis last night. He will appear on tomorrow night's card in an exhibition bout with one of his sparring partners. Promoter Paddy Harmon has listed six other heavyweight matches.

Kid Chocolate, eastern featherweight, who meets Steve Smith of Bridgeport, Conn., in the windup of Promoter Mique Malloy's boxing show at the White City open air arena July 30, will arrive Thursday to complete training. This will be their second meeting. Chocolate won the ten round decision in the first fight.

Tony Canzoneri began training yesterday at his camp at the Garden of Allah. Canzoneri realizes he has the opportunity of his career to win another title when he fights Sammy Mandell Aug. 2 and he is determined to be in peak form. Canzoneri will go on the road every morning and will box at least six rounds every afternoon.

Mandell, who spent the week-end with his family in Rockford, will resume boxing at his camp at the Washington Park race track this afternoon. Friends of the champion do not believe he will have much trouble to make 135 pounds the day of the fight. The champion now weighs 140.

Chicago fans are making arrangements to attend the world's welterweight championship fight between Joe Dundee of Baltimore, Md., and Jackie Fields of Chicago in Detroit Thursday night. Fields has been made a 7 to 5 favorite in Chicago.

Joey Medill, west side lightweight, left yesterday for New York, where he meets Stanislaus Loyaza in a ten round decision bout tomorrow night.

The boxing commission is expected to take action today on the result of the Earl Mastro-Billy Shaw fight last week at Mills stadium. Mastro lost on a foul in the fifth round. His managers have protested the decision.

June Beebe Tops Qualifiers in Women's County Tourney

Miss June Beebe, 16 year old Lincoln park star, yesterday won the medal honors in the qualifying round of the women's Cook county golf tournament at Jackson park with a round of 38—42—80.

Miss Beebe shot one under par on the first nine, but ran into a couple of 7's on the 12th and 14th to put her two over for the 18.

Mrs. Oscar C. Horn, Jackson park veteran and former city champion, turned in a 39—42—81 for second honors. She was followed by Mrs. L. M. Zech of Lincoln park with 41—41—82, Mrs. M. Dowling of Edgebrook with 41—42—83, and Mrs. Ralph Barnum of Jackson park with 42—41—83.

Start Match Play Today.

The 32 qualifiers in the championship flight will start match play over 18 holes this morning at 9 o'clock. The 32 qualifiers in the first flight will start at 9:40. Play will be continued until the 36 hole final matches in both flights Saturday.

Miss Beebe played steady golf until she reached the 275 yard 12th, where she was in the rough twice and had her only 3 putt green of the round. On the 507 yard 14th, her drive hit a tree and landed in the rough. She was out short and took 5 to get on. Her card follows:

GILMORE, ONCE BATTERY MATE OF CONNIE MACK, DIES

Hartford, Conn., July 22.—[Special.]—Frank T. Gilmore, who was the pitching half of the famous "Bone Battery," baseball combination of the '80s, that sent Connie Mack, then catcher, along the road to fame, died here last night.

Anglers from Illinois Join "Muskie Club"

BY BOB BECKER.

Illinois anglers are holding up their end of the fishing game, according to reports from northern Wisconsin, where hundreds of anglers are on the trail of big muskies, pike, and bass. The muskalonge fishermen especially have been enjoying ideal fishing conditions and splendid luck.

One of the Chicago Waltonians who recently conquered a fine specimen is Arthur C. Lochmann, 5438 Ferdinand street. Mr. Lochmann snagged a twenty-seven pounder near Hayward, Wis. His party handed out knockouts to five large muskies and one pike weighing nine pounds before the smoke of battle cleared.

Reports from the chain of lakes near Three Lakes, Wis., also tell of many fine muskies being caught. One Chicago party found (during the recent hot spell) that the big fellows would have little to do with lures. Suddenly they started biting and the first day following the big muskie rampage five fish were hooked. This peculiarity of the muskalonge is well known.

We have struck periods during the summer season when we would go five days without a real muskie strike. Then all of a sudden every 'lunge would see red and everybody could get 'em. We recall one day when three of us caught fourteen muskies following a five day layoff.

Another Chicagoan who cashed in on the recent rise in the muskie stock is Fred Mann, 4750 Dover-st. Mr. Mann walloped a thirty-seven pound, forty-four and one-half inch fish in the Flambeau chain of lakes.

Pitcher Again Beats League Leaders in Double Header

Omaha, Neb., July 22.—(AP)—For the second time this season, Don McDonald, southpaw pitching ace of the sixth place Norton club of the Nebraska State league, has won a double header over the first place McCook team. Yesterday he held the league leaders to 14 hits in two games, winning the first, 5 to 3, and the second, 4 to 1.

White Sox Fans to Honor Red Faber, Veteran Pitcher

One of the most elaborate celebrations ever held at a local ball park is being planned Aug. 20, when White Sox followers will gather at Comiskey park to honor Red Faber for his years of service with the south side team. Members of the committee in charge of the event are John C. Conerty, Thomas Reed, Matt Lenehan, Patrick Kelly, Joe Coffey, James Keown, James McInerny, and Michael J. Kennedy.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Edward R. Bradley's Beaming Over came from behind and scored a brilliant victory in the Belle Meade purse at Arlington yesterday.

The race was for 3 year old fillies and Vesta, a daughter of Upset owned by T. J. and G. H. Clay of Lexington, grandsons of Henry Clay, was made the even money favorite.

Takes Command In Stretch.

Beaming Over which had won from a shifty band of sprinters just a few days ago, was complete master of the situation after Jockey Smith moved with her at the head of the stretch. She had been running in third place, but head and head with Vesta and when Smith called on the daughter of North Star III to make her challenge, Shropshire sent Vesta right along with her. But Vesta lost ground on the turn for home, while Beaming Over clung to the rail, shook off Vesta, then sailed past Port Harlem and Nifty Nitie which had been running well out in front of the field.

Once in the lead Beaming Over was as good as home. Jockey Charley Allen tried to rouse Port Harlem for one last effort. The effort was good enough to shake off Nearby's challenge but it fell far short of catching Beaming Over which seemed to be running better at the finish than at any time during the struggle.

Beaming Over was the second choice in the betting and paid $12.52 to win, $6.02 to place and $5.54 to show. Port Harlem was at $7.06 to place and $6.08 to show while Nearby paid $6.76 to run third. Beaming Over stepped the mile in 1:38 3-5 and it was the fastest race of the day.

Fronk Outrides Pool.

In the Midway at six furlongs Eskimo, which has developed into the iron horse of the Chicago season and has become one of the most popular performers here, won with Willie Fronk outriding Earl Pool. The latter was aboard Jean Valjean and moved too late or he might have won. He pulled up within a length of Eskimo and took down second money but that was as far as he got. Dr. Parrish finished third and with the race run in 1:11 2-5 the rest of the field was staggering as the battle ended. Eskimo paid $5.26 which is a fine price, on a horse that has won five out of six races since the Arlington opened.

In the Scarsdale purse Dunmore turned back a stylish band when he came from last place to the lead in the stretch and beat the consistent Lane Allen by a length. Devon was a close third. Dunmore is owned by Fred M. Burton of Chicago and there was a plunge on him.

Reigh Count to Arrive at Track Today

Reigh Count will reach Arlington Park early this morning for what may be his final appearance on any race track, next Saturday afternoon. It will be Reigh Count day at Arlington. In order to avoid traffic jams, Trainer B. S. Michell will move Reigh Count from Leona Farm to Arlington shortly after daybreak.

Reigh Count will be put through his paces over the Arlington course early tomorrow morning in order to get him acquainted with American tracks and limber him up for his first appearance under silks in Chicago.

The exercise tomorrow will be the forerunner of a daily program prior to the American champion's last public appearance. He will take to the track early in the morning. Reigh Count will have to be schooled to the American way of running, which is just opposite of that which he has been doing in England.

In addition to Reigh Count, Trainer Michell will van to Arlington Park other horses of the Hertz stable which will include Gypsy King, Impropriety, Fair Ball, which accompanied Reigh Count to England as a training mate, Titter, My Brown Mouse and Ioulie. Some of these horses were purchased in England by Mrs. Hertz.

The demand for reserve tickets on Reigh Count day is heavy. Indications are that there will be another tremendous throng to watch the American champion parade and gallop.

Meals by Rector
In delightfully finished dining cars equipped with electrical refrigeration, those delectable meals are by Mr. George Rector of Broadway fame, including the celebrated table-d'hote dinner.
Incidentally, during the exhibition of the New Arrow, Mr. Rector in person will explain the new features of the dining car.
New, not only from the standpoint of its physical equipment, but new in the ideas that it brings to railroading.
Here for the first time, a limousine observation car with windows that are raised and lowered as easily as in your own limousine. By merely turning the window handles, the roomy observation end is glass enclosed or open. Screens that roll like ordinary window shades. The extra large windows are of ray glass—another innovation. Temperature is controlled thermostatically. Now, in comfortable reed chairs, you may enjoy the scenery from either a moving veranda or sun room.
The limousine car also has a commodious lounge room for ladies, a club section for men, nooks for card tables, comfortable upholstered chairs and divans for lounging. And through radio, music and entertainment travel with you. Refreshments from the buffet. Library. Valet service. Telephone service at Chicago and Omaha.

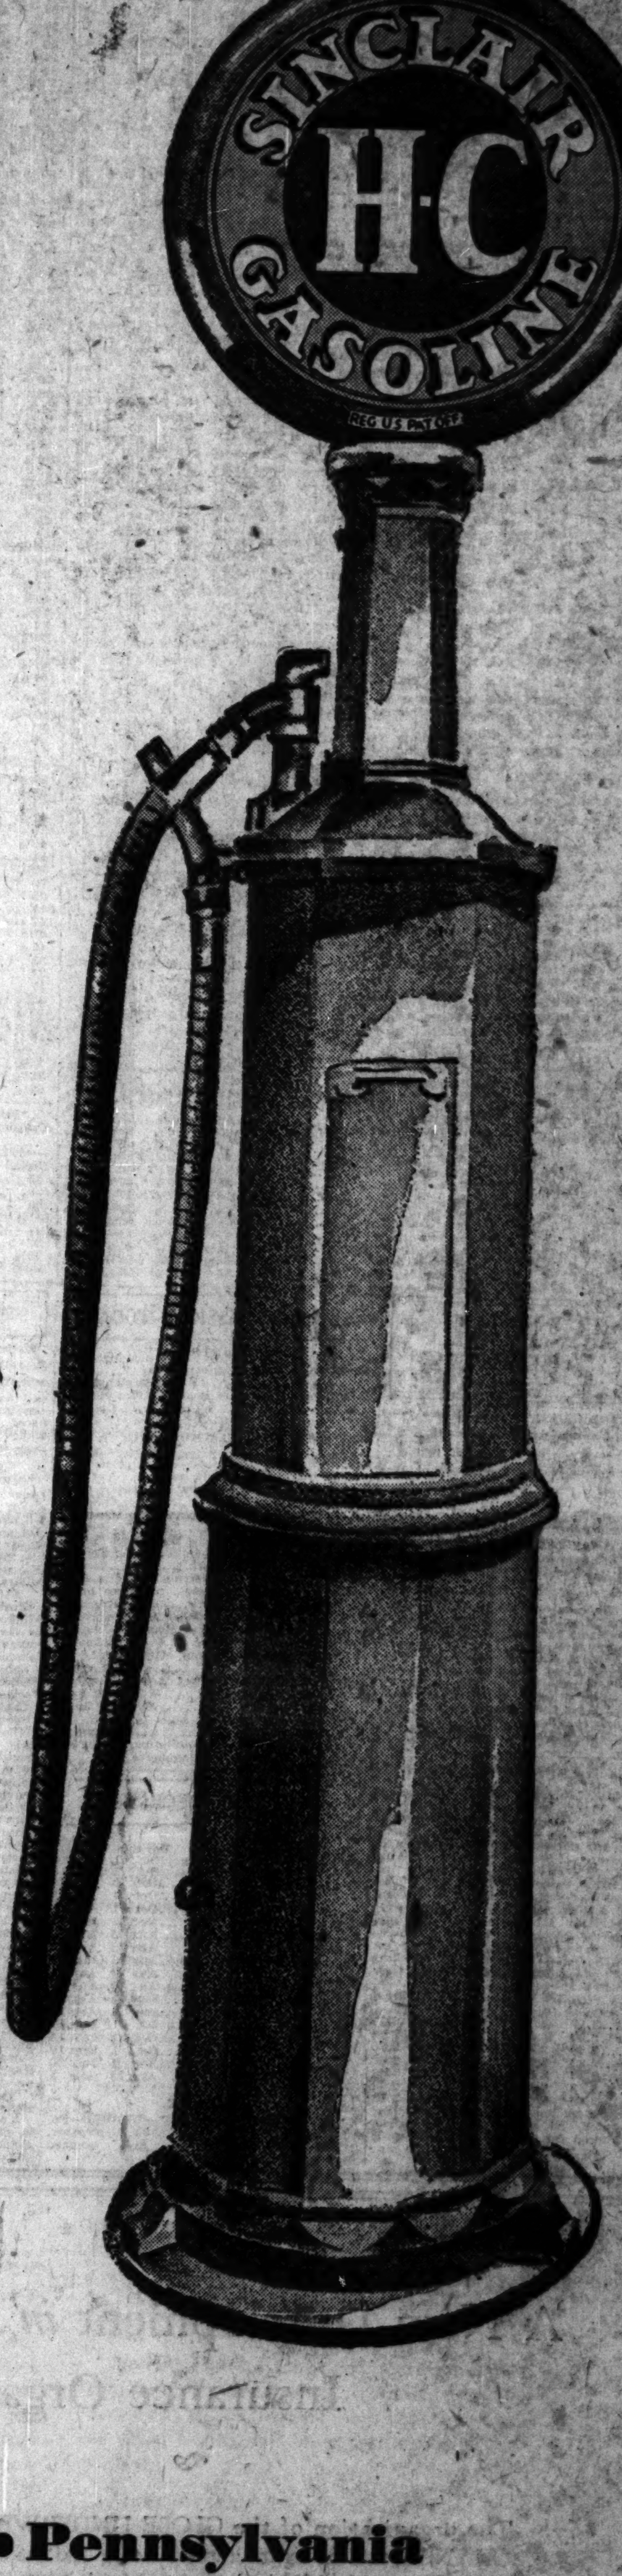
Stop FOR THE GAS THAT Stops Knocks!



. . . and get your Share of the Pleasure!

IF you do the driving, you're certainly entitled to a good time, too. And you will have a good time behind the wheel if you use H-C, the remarkable gasoline that puts more fun into driving because it keeps out so many annoyances. Sinclair H-C Gasoline gives High Compression performance in any type of engine, new or old—and it will never disappoint you.

Stops knocks in your engine—even when you're climbing a hill! No stubbornness in low gear—no laziness in high gear!

H-C runs your engine cooler, reduces vibration and lessens strain, gives better combustion and allows your engine to operate at its maximum compression and deliver its full power under all engine conditions—in any weather. H-C is all gasoline—nothing added. Try it for superior engine performance and Highway Contentment wherever you see the Sinclair H-C Pumps . . . go over the hill in high!

ENTIRE BLOCK ON SOUTH SIDE TO HAVE FLATS

Alexander McKeown Buys Vacant Tract.

BY AL CHASE.

Alexander F. McKeown, who lives at 4850 Drexel boulevard, yesterday purchased the entire block of property bounded by 85th and 86th streets, Calumet and South Park avenues, from John F. Cella and others for an undisclosed all cash consideration. It is understood he will improve the entire block with apartment buildings. Tentative plans call for six flat buildings on the inside lots with a twenty-four apartment structure on each of the four corners.

The entire block is zoned for apartment buildings. Work is scheduled to start on the Calumet avenue frontage first, with the balance of the construction to get under way probably next spring. Mr. McKeown's two sons, Alexander F. Jr. and John McKeown, and his brother, James McKeown probably will be the builders of the proposed apartments.

No Architects Selected.

S. Charles Iversen & Co. were brokers for the sellers and E. B. Shogren & Co. represented the buyer. Mr. Shogren pointed out that the deal was significant from the fact that this is Mr. McKeown's first large venture in the district. He has been a heavy owner in loop properties. He has not yet engaged an architect for the development of the block just purchased.

The Shell Petroleum corporation has leased from Alice E. and Alexander E. Lookholder the northeast corner of Chicago and Ridgeland avenues, Oak Park, 50x125 feet, for ten years from June 15, 1929. The term rental is $43,800.

Plan Edison Substation.

The Commonwealth Edison company bought from Mary K. Frazer the 101x124 feet at the southwest corner of Narragansett and School street as a site for a substation. Ward T. Huston & Co. were brokers.

Details of the lease of the 500x111 at the northeast corner of East Huron street and Fairbanks court to the Yellow Cab company were disclosed yesterday at the county recorder's office. Northwestern university receives $32,300 annually beginning March 26, 1928, for a ten year term.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Offering is made of $8,370,000 of the Erie Railroad company equipment trust of 1929 4½ per cent certificates by a syndicate. The issue is to be dated Aug. 1, 1929, maturing in installments of $279,000 semi-annually from Feb. 1, 1930, to Aug. 1, 1944, inclusive, and is priced to yield from 6 per cent to 5.15 per cent, according to maturity.

Stroud & Co. and E. H. Rollins & Sons will offer shortly an additional issue of $3,000,000 6 per cent debentures, series "A," due 1948, of the Intercontinents Power company. Intercontinents Power was organized to acquire, operate, and participate in the ownership of public utilities properties in South America and other countries.

Watson & White have purchased 14,000 shares of the Foster Wheeler corporation no par common stock and will offer it publicly. The authorized capitalization of the company consists of 35,000 shares of $7 cumulative convertible preferred no par stock and 300,000 shares of no par common.

These companies constitute a complete unit for the manufacture, installation, servicing and financing of all types of equipment and supplies used in the operation of motion picture and general theatres. This group has been identified with the perfection of apparatus which not only projects length and breadth but gives the illusion of depth, the development of the sound movie and similar improvements.

The adaptation of motion picture theatres to these new types of equipment and the ever-increasing uses for motion pictures in industrial and educational fields indicate continuing prosperity for these companies.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was firmer today, with prices 1-16c higher, or at 4.08c for spots, duty paid. Advices from Cuba stating that President Machado would sign the decree establishing the single selling agency, to become effective on Aug. 1, seemed to restrict offerings from that quarter. Sales were 42,000 bags of Cuban and 14,000 bags of Philippines to a local refiner at 4.08c, duty paid. Futures were firmer, reflecting the advance in the spot market and the Cuban reports that the single selling agency would start functioning on Aug. 1. The market closed 2 to 6 points net higher. Approximate sales 75,900 tons. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
July	2.17	2.24	2.17	2.23	2.17
September	2.22	2.27	2.22	2.25	2.22

DRY GOODS.

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Cotton goods were steady and quiet today. Bidding developed in some quarters on coarse goods as cotton slackened, but new prices established last week showed only scattered instances of weakness. Sales through the earlier hours of the day were light. Wool institute statistics showed increased demand for checks and plaids and a falling off in subdued stripes. Burlap markets here and in Calcutta were quiet with wide and narrow odds of occasional interest. Spot raw silks were quiet here with Japan active and steady on strong yen exchange. Fall silks were in better call following Paris opening.

GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Trustee DISTRIBUTORS GROUP, INCORPORATED, Depositor

Mr. W. W. Watson, Jr. President of Distributors Group, Incorporated, summarizes his letter to us as follows:

Each NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARE represents 1/2000 participating, non-voting ownership in the following group or unit of common stocks deposited with Trustee:

No. of Shares	Company	Moody's Rating	No. of Shares	Company	Moody's Rating
	Railroads			Industrials
4	Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company (The)	Aa	4	American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp.	Baa

4	Standard Oil Company of New York	Aa
4	Texas Corporation (The)	A

A unit of shares of common stock as above, as existing from time to time, together with a fully paid cash reserve fund to equalize dividends, is deposited with the Trustee to be held for holders of each 2,000 NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES.

Security—The above corporations have paid cash or stock dividends for an average of 32 years consecutively, and all are listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES are rated "A" by Moody's Investors Service.

Non-Substitution—No change may be made in the above stock unit, nor in the number of shares of any stock except in case of merger, consolidation, reorganization or sale of the property of any company, in accordance with the provisions of the trust indenture, and except as follows:

Elimination—Non-income producing stocks may be eliminated in the discretion of the Depositor upon the failure of any of the above corporations to pay a usual dividend, unless a dividend is paid before the stock is sold. Should any of the above corporations fail to pay any dividend for a period of one hundred (100) days after its failure to pay a usual dividend, the Trustee shall sell the stock. The proceeds of any sale will be distributed pro rata to the holders of NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES on the next ensuing coupon payment date according to the terms of the agreement.

Yield—If NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES had been in existence for the 18-year period from January 1, 1911, to June 30, 1929, the average annual return, based upon the average annual asked price of $9.75 per share, would have been $2,544.82 per unit, or $1.27 per NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARE, the equivalent of 13.03% per annum.

The return on NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES for the 6 months period ended June 30, 1929, exceeds $1,230.00 per unit—or 61½c. per NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARE. This is at the rate of 12.0 per cent per annum on $10.25, which was the price on February 19, 1929, the date of the public offering. Included in the foregoing return were (1) cash dividends, and (2) the value of subscription rights, and stock dividends, and/or additional shares of stock received from split-ups.

Marketability—1. A market is maintained by all authorized NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARE distributors and syndicate managers at ½ point below current offering prices.

2. The bearer of certificates representing a ¼ unit (500 shares) or any multiple thereof may, at any time, surrender them to the Trustee and receive in exchange the corresponding ¼ unit of deposited stocks, together with the applicable reserve fund and accumulated dividends.

3. The bearer of certificates representing any number of shares less than a ¼ unit (500 shares) may likewise convert through the Trustee and receive a sum in cash equal to the value of the deposited stocks, reserve fund and accumulated dividends.

INSULL EXPANDS INTERESTS IN 3 VARIED MOVES

Buys Textile Mill to Revive Trade.

Developments in Chicago and New York yesterday revealed the spreading of the Insull utility interests to greater magnitude in three separate operations.

Purchase of control of the Bates Manufacturing company of Lewiston, Me., brought the admission of officials that the Insull millions will be used to rehabilitate the depleted cotton textile industry in the New England states. The Bates company has been taken over by the New England Public Service company, a subsidiary of the National Electric Power corporation which is in turn owned by the Middle West Utilities company.

This purchase brings a fourth textile mill into Insull ownership and makes the Insulls a dominating influence in the cotton textile industry in the state of Maine. The other three are the Edwards Manufacturing company of Augusta, Me., and the Hill Manufacturing company and the Androscoggin Mills of Lewiston. These mills operate 9,362 looms and 354,000 spindles.

Will Sell Power.

It was stated yesterday in the offices of the Middle West Utilities company that it was not the intention of going into the textile business on a more elaborate scale. It was pointed out that as a result of a slackening in operations of the textile mills, business and industry in this line has come almost to a standstill. With the entrance of new interests the cotton textile trade can be worked up to a point where thousands of additional workers can be employed and that profits from the sale of power will accrue to the Middle West subsidiaries.

It is understood that the Insull group took over control of the Bates company on a bid of $175 a share plus a special dividend of $30 from surplus declared by the company and the regular semi-annual $4 dividend.

Growth of the Insull Utility Investments, Inc., to its ultimate place as the holding company of all the Insull activities is seen in the action of the board of directors in proposing an increase in the authorized preferred stock from 250,000 to 500,000 shares. The directors plan to offer 300,000 shares of cumulative 6 per cent preferred stock at not less than $100 a share. The stock will be exchangeable for common stock for one year from Jan. 1, 1931, on the basis of $125 for the common stock thereby indicating the increase in holdings contemplated by the directors in the near future.

May Get New Group.

Announcement of the acquisition of another public utility group is expected to be made by the Middle West Utilities company within a few days. The report in La Salle street was that the company to be taken over will be the United Public Service corporation, holder of the United Public Utilities company and several other subsidiaries.

Although no confirmation was forthcoming from the Insull quarters, Ernest Jacobson, president of the United corporation, admitted that negotiations are in progress but he refused to state what group plans to take over his company.

The United Public Service corporation serves 122 communities in Ohio, Indiana, North and South Dakota, and several southern states. It owns the Southern United Ice company and has control of the Kentucky Power company. The holding company has 38,000 shares of 6 and 7 per cent no par preferred stock and 300,000 shares of no par common stock outstanding.

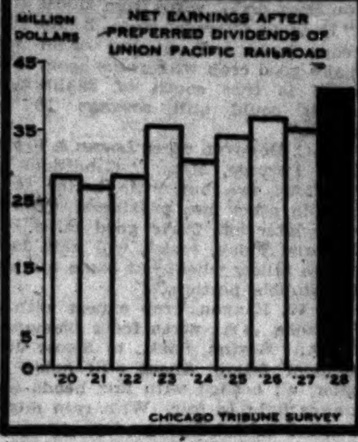
UNION PACIFIC HAD A LARGE INCREASE IN EARNINGS IN 1928



Westinghouse, Gen. Electric Sales at Peak

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 22.—Two large electrical companies—General Electric company and Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, today reported record breaking orders and sales billed for the first six months of the year with increased profits and consequently increased earnings available for dividends.

On sales billed during the six months General Electric showed an increase of 23 per cent over the first six months of 1928, and Westinghouse reported an increase that amounted to around 12½ per cent.

Sales billed for the first six months of this year by General Electric amounted to $194,353,307.99, according to the announcement made by Gerard Swope, president of the company. This compared with sales billed of $158,015,221.41 for the corresponding period of last year. The net income from sales, after the cost of sales billed, including operating, maintenance and depreciation charges, reserves and provision for all taxes, in the first six months of 1929 amounted to $170,104,501.34, as compared with $138,889,039.26 in the corresponding period of 1928.

After adding other income less interest paid and sundry charges and deducting for cash dividends amounting to $1,287,386.40 on special stock, these leave available for dividends on the common stock of the company of which there is 7,211,481 and 84-100 shares outstanding, $30,740,768.02 which is equivalent to $4.26 a share. In the corresponding period of 1928 the profit available for dividends was $24,388,002.58 equivalent to $3.38 a share on the 7,211,481 shares of common stock then outstanding.

Growth of Orders.

Orders received during the first six months of the year amounted to $220,716,456, compared with $170,357,797 during the corresponding period last year, an increase of 30 per cent. For the three months ended June 30, 1929, the orders received amounted to $119,351,248, as compared with $90,431,957 for the corresponding quarter of last year, an increase of 32 per cent.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company reported for the first six months of this year sales billed amounted to $99,927,790. This compares with $88,854,725 for the first half of 1928. The orders received during the same period this year totaled $121,184,546, compared with $94,394,717 in the corresponding period of 1928.

The net profit of the company for the six months ended June 30, 1929, was reported as $13,131,881, after depreciation, interest, and federal taxes, equivalent to $4.92 a share, par value $50, earned on the 2,666,315 shares of combined preferred and common stocks outstanding. This compares with $7,860,765, equivalent to $3.31 a share on the 2,370,063 combined shares outstanding in the first half of 1928.

Net profit for the quarter ended June 30 was reported as amounting to $7,500,181 after the above charges, equivalent to $2.81 a share on the 2,666,315 combined shares outstanding. This compares with $5,631,700, equivalent to $2.11 a share on the 2,66,315 combined shares outstanding for the first quarter of this year and $3,902,411, equivalent to $1.64 a share on the combined shares outstanding for the three months ended June 30, 1928.

Big Gain for Simmons.

A gain of $1,000,000 was reported by the Simmons company for the first half of 1929, when net earnings amounted to $3,511,675, after all charges, against $2,501,348 in the corresponding half of 1928. The first six months, according to the statement, reflects little of the economic program undertaken by the company which will be reflected materially in the last half of the year.

The Chrysler corporation reported a net profit equivalent to $4.06 per share on 4,452,609 shares of common stock in the first six months of 1929, compared with 2,704,356 shares in the same period of last year, establishing a new high record for the period.

Net profit, after provision for income tax, in the second quarter ended June 30 was $9,257,066, compared with $8,838,173 for the first quarter and with $6,988,103 for the corresponding period of 1928.

Net addition to surplus for the first six months was $11,447,254, compared with $6,573,810 a year ago. Dividend charges for the first half were $6,647,985, or 36.7 per cent of net earnings.

During the first six months of this year Chrysler spent $15,244,837 on additions to plant and facilities. During the same period, however, increase in depreciation reserves of $3,261,365.46, amortization of tools, and retirements have offset these additions, and the net depreciated value of permanent assets actually shows a decline of $179,552.31.

Fleischmann Shrinkage.

The Fleischmann company had a net profit of $8,828,955 in the first half year, compared with $9,529,055 in the initial six months of last year. Second quarter net was $4,638,356, against $4,996,062 a year ago.

Barnsdall corporation's net income for the half year ended June 30 was $4,115,252, or $1.83 a share, against $1,003,327, or 80 cents a share, in the first six months last year. Net income for the June quarter was $2,226,881, or 99 cents a share, against $614,196, or 49 cents a share on a smaller capitalization in the same period of 1928.

Fokker Aircraft Corporation of America reports net of $357,427 for the second quarter of this year, equal to about 50 cents per share on 601,966 common shares, the average number outstanding during the period. This compared with $139,984 in the first quarter. The General Motors corporation recently acquired a 40 per cent interest in Fokker.

National Air Transport, Inc., reports net profit for the June quarter of $187,766, against $136,626 in the first quarter of this year and net loss of $334 in the second 1928 quarter. Profit for the first six months of 1929 was $323,392, contrasted with net loss of $83,026 in the first half of 1928.

Southwestern Life Co. Bought by Missouri State

St. Louis, July 22.—(AP)—The St. Louis Post Dispatch says today that it has learned the Missouri State Life Insurance company of St. Louis has purchased control of the Southwestern Life Insurance company of Dallas, Tex., for approximately $7,500,000. According to the article, a controlling stock interest was purchased from officers of the Dallas company. The transaction was ratified last week by Missouri State Life directors, the Post Dispatch says, and it is understood the company was valued at $15,000,000 and control was acquired for half that amount. The Southwestern Life operates exclusively in Texas. It has $270,000,000 insurance in force; $2,000,000 capital and $2,000,000 surplus.

Solved

The trouble a certain manufacturer was having with broken harrow teeth is ended . . . thanks to an Interstate Metallurgist.

Here is the situation this expert faced. The teeth were being made of carbon spring steel. To make them larger was out of the question because of design. The situation was critical. The breaking of the teeth had to be stopped.

The Interstate Metallurgist specified a certain alloy steel with the proper heat treatment . . . and the teeth now have the necessary strength.

FARM CO-OPS DIFFER FROM CORPORATIONS

Win Special Favors in Legislation.

BY SCRUTATOR.

Chairman Legge of the federal farm board last week reminded farmers that the board could aid them directly only after they had organized themselves into legal coöperative associations. His announcement brought to the fore again the question: What is the difference in the eyes of the law between farm coöperatives and other corporations?

The answer falls under several general heads. Two are of outstanding importance. The first is that while most capital stock corporations are organized to provide dividends for stockholders, the coöperative has as its object not profits for the organization as such, nor for the stockholders as such, but for the members as producers of agricultural commodities. The second is that the laws grant to the coöperatives exemptions from many of the restrictive provisions that hamper the operations of corporations formed under general laws — like the anti-trust laws, the limitations on borrowing and the liability to income taxation.

Farm coöperatives are thus a specially favored class of corporation, a status that has been won by the insistence of the farmers and their leaders that their needs and the welfare of the country would be served by allowing them privileges not accorded to business groups organized for investment profit.

Given Special Privileges.

Admittedly, a coöperative to market its members' products for their gain must have a control over commerce that the laws applying to corporations in general might hold to be a restraint of trade. The coöperative legislation, both in congress and in the state assemblies, has been frank in openly removing penalties for such restraint.

In fact, according to Donald Kirkpatrick of the legal staff of the Illinois Agricultural association, the coöperative may accomplish a lessening of selling competition not only by the agreement of its own members but by agreements entered into by the coöperative with one or more other coöperatives.

Since 1921 something like thirty-five states have passed liberal laws, most of them uniform in general content, governing the formation and operation of agricultural corporations. These laws permit the coöperative, if it wishes, to limit its activities to handling the products of its own members. They require, if the products of non-members are handled, that the amount of such handling must not exceed the amount of members' products in any fiscal year.

Legislation Aids Work.

Wheat Frenzy Continues as Prices Sweep 7c Higher

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Maintaining all the fervor that characterized the grain market last week, prices opened higher yesterday upon new low estimates of the failing Canadian spring wheat crop and closed near the high point of the day.

Heavy buying ran wheat up eight cents above Saturday's finish, while the close found the market 7 to 7⅝ cents a bushel higher, leaving July wheat at $1.41, September at $1.45¼@1.45½, and December at $1.52¼@1.52½. Aided by the strength in wheat, corn gained 2⅝@3⅛c on unfavorable crop news from the middle west. At the close July was $1.01¾, September, $1.04@1.04⅜, and December 97⅞@98c.

Unexpected strength at Liverpool started the bulge at Winnipeg which combined with drought reports to send wheat up to close 7⅝ to 9⅝ cents higher. July was $1.69¾ bid, October $1.64⅝, and December $1.59¾@1.59⅝.

Crop Losses Increase.

Crop losses on spring wheat in the American and Canadian northwest are increasing and are bringing more than enough speculative buying into the market to offset the effect of the heavy movement in the southwest, which is being largely hedged by sales of futures in the Chicago market. Upwards of 15,000,000 bu of cash wheat has been bought within a short time to come to Chicago, all of which has been hedged, there being a big profit for the elevator people in hedging operations.

There seems to be no limit to the buying power in the market, not only in Chicago but in Winnipeg and in Liverpool. After an opening bulge in a sold out market, as a result of the late break last week, there was an almost straight upturn and a close around the top. There have been no such markets experienced by the trade in years, the northwest furnishing the buying and the bullish news, while the southwest is taking advantage of advances to market its crop as fast as possible. The Santa Fe railroad has moved more than 44,000 cars of grain, of which 95 per cent or more was wheat, since June 15, and other roads have set a record.

Trading last week, as given by the complete records of the grain futures administration, covering the Chicago market were the largest known. Taking the sales side they were 761,190,000 bu, the largest of which there is any record. The highest mark on record was 538,338,000 bu on March 1, 1925.

All the big commission houses, particularly those with northwest connections, were on the buying side. Their news was about as bullish as possible. One message from a Minneapolis man said crop conditions in the American and Canadian northwest were such that wheat might sell at $2 a bu before long. An estimate of 150,000,000 bu for the three Canadian provinces was sent out by one authority on the situation there, while Cromwell, the Lamson Bros. & Co. expert, sent out an estimate of 215,000,000 bu., while recently his estimate was 271,000,000 bu.

Must Revise Estimates.

All reports show that estimates of the Canadian and North American wheat crop will have to be materially revised downward from returns of around 1,200,000,000 bu about a month ago and it would be no surprise to see the final returns show no more than 1,000,000,000 bu for North America. But it must be remembered that when a crop scare is on the tendency is to make extremely low figures.

Wheat traders were so busy with the immense volume of buying and the bullish news from the northwest that they practically lost sight of the increase of 5,967,000 bu in the U. S. visible supply, making a gain of 12,112,000 bu in two weeks, presenting a total of 108,000,000 bu, or practically 64,000,000 bu more than last year. There was a big decrease on ocean passage.

Bull news on oats is coming from the northwest and the market reflects the advance in other grains. There were gains of 1⅝ to 2c, with July at 48c and September at 48⅜ to 48½c at the close.

Foreigners, seaboard exporters, local and northwestern interests were all on the buying side of rye, while the selling pressure was limited, with a result of a gain of 5⅝ to 5¾c, with September $1.10⅛.

WALGREEN AND WRIGLEY FIRMS REPORT PROFITS

The Walgreen company, for the six months ended June 30, yesterday reported net profit of $1,505,951 after all charges, including depreciation, federal taxes, minority interest, amortization of leaseholds, etc., against $1,044,974 in the like 1928 period. Net sales for the period were $21,001,554 and compared with $13,657,340 in the first six months of last year.

William Wrigley Jr. company for the quarter ended June 30 reported net profits of $2,690,091 after all charges, including depreciation and federal taxes, equal to $1.49 a share earned on 1,800,000 shares of no par stock, against $2,521,899, or $1.40 a share, in the preceding quarter, and $2,474,092, or $1.37 a share, in the second quarter of 1928.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 22.—Today's stock market was generally reactionary, the utilities being about the only group to show sustained and uniform strength.

Trading was extremely dull and listless, volume falling to the lowest figure in weeks—only a little more than 3,670,000 shares. Speculators appeared to be waiting for something which would give a clew to the future trend of the price list. Money continued in ample supply for all needs at 7 per cent. Brokers, however, attributed the ease in the credit situation more to a lack of demand than to any overabundance of funds.

With one or two exceptions the news of the day was without particular significance. Notable individual performances were recorded by General Electric, Westinghouse, and two or three other issues on a heavy rush of buying orders in the late trading. The boom in General Electric was based on word that the company's earnings report for the second quarter, due tomorrow, will show an increase of approximately 35 per cent net.

Publish Report.

The Westinghouse report was published today and showed a net income of $13,131,861 for the first six months of the year, as compared with $7,860,755 for the corresponding half of 1928. General Electric, up more than 10 points at one stage of trading, closed with a net gain of 8¾, while Westinghouse was ahead 4⅜ points.

Strength of the utilities group grew out of a report that another large holding corporation is in process of formation. The street heard that the

(5th Avenue and 42nd Street, New York City)

First Mortgage Leasehold 6½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds
Due June 1, 1949
Price 100 and Interest

A letter from Mr. Walter J. Salmon, President of 500 Fifth Avenue, Inc., has been summarized by him as follows:

The Property: 500 Fifth Avenue is located at one of the busiest and most important street intersections in the world, the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Forty-second Street, New York City. This is the heart of the famous Fifth Avenue shopping district and also of the important midtown business and banking section.

Upon this corner will be erected a modern 58 story office building. The building will occupy a ground area of over 20,900 square feet. Its frontages of 100 feet 5 inches upon Fifth Avenue and of 208 feet 4 inches upon Forty-second Street will be very productive due to the high store rentals at this point.

The building will be more than 625 feet in height and will contain approximately 450,000 square feet of rentable area, exclusive of the ground floor. Office light and air conditions will be very favorable, as the block opposite the Forty-second Street frontage is occupied by the three-story building of the New York Public Library and by the park area surrounding it. It is expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy by November, 1930.

Security: These Bonds will, in the opinion of counsel, be secured by a first (closed) mortgage on the leasehold estate in the premises at 500 Fifth Avenue, including the building to be erected thereon and the equipment to be contained therein. The value of the leasehold and completed building has recently been independently appraised at $11,500,000.

On the basis of this valuation, these Bonds will constitute less than a 61% loan.

The site to be occupied by the new building will be leased for a term of years which, should the same be renewed as provided in the lease, will extend to the year 2008. The first period extends to April 30, 1948 at which time the Company will covenant in the Indenture to renew its lease to April 30, 1968.

Earnings: The annual income of the building upon completion has been independently estimated as follows: Gross Earnings, $2,680,336; Net Income, after operating expenses, maintenance, ground rent, allowance for vacancies and local taxes, but before depreciation and Federal Income Tax, $1,207,336, as compared with maximum annual interest of $455,000 on these Bonds.

Sinking Fund: Through operation of a semi-annual sinking fund, commencing December 1, 1932, it is estimated that over 60% of these Bonds will be retired prior to maturity.

Management: 500 Fifth Avenue, Inc., will be controlled and managed by interests which for thirty-one years have specialized in real estate in this particular district. They now control the properties adjacent to this site on both Fifth Avenue and Forty-second Street, as well as twelve other properties in the midtown section. This thoroughly equipped organization is familiar with all phases of the real estate business.

A circular more fully descriptive of these bonds will be sent on request.

One year ago	15.00@15.60

In spite of the second largest cattle receipts of the year, top steers advanced another notch to a new high level for the season at $16.60, being 5c above the previous high mark established last week. Top hogs moved up to $12.40, while top lambs dropped 65c at $14.85, a small package of 12 head at $15.00 being no criterion.

The "rank and file" of live stock slumped sharply under stress of increased receipts. Total arrivals yesterday at 88,000, compare with 62,350 a year ago, and with 74,392 two years ago. Cattle arrivals at 20,000 have been exceeded only once this year and with the exception of prime weighty beeves losses of 25c were general.

Two loads of 1,479 lb averages at $16.60 set up the new top, while $16.50 was paid for 59 averaging 1,350@1,413 lbs. Long yearlings averaging 1,148 lbs brought $16.35 and 999 lb averages sold at $16.25. Grassy steers were more plentiful and showed most decline. Cows and heifers ruled weak to unevenly lower. Calves were scarce and steady. Stockers and feeders sold steady.

A rise in the wholesale market for fresh pork brought some cuts to the highest level in recent weeks yesterday, but failed to block a break in the general market for hogs. After a steady to 10c higher opening, losses of 10@15c were general, with some sales as much as 25c lower toward the close.

Extreme top equaled last Friday's peak of $12.40, while the general average at $11.40 was steady with Saturday and 10c lower than Friday, showing $1.00 spread, the widest of the year. Eight local packers handled a combined total of about 27,000, while shippers bought 7,000 and city butchers 3,000. However, 9,000 were still in the pens at the close.

Lambs Slump 25@50c.

Native lambs declined mostly 50c, while western range stock was pounded down 25@35c yesterday, the total supply at 18,000 being largest for Monday since early in May. Good to choice natives sold largely at $14.00@14.25, with packers refusing to pass $14.35. A few to city butchers reached $14.65 and a yard trader paid $15.00 for 12 head. About 44 carloads of western range lambs brought $14.50@$14.85. Aged sheep sold steady, while yearlings slumped 50c. Feeders were unchanged. A government report places the 1929 lamb crop at 25,976,000, which compares with 26,225,000 in 1928, and with 24,153,000 in 1927. The supply is 1 per cent smaller than in 1928, but 7 per cent larger than in 1927.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 7,000 cattle, 28,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep, against 5,303 cattle, 26,572 hogs, and 9,090 sheep the previous Tuesday, and 5,932 cattle, 16,991 hogs, and 10,999 sheep a year ago.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Southwestern cash wheat handlers continue to offer No. 2 hard winter at low prices, relative to the future. There were sales of around 500,000 bu or more from outside markets yesterday to come to Chicago at 5 to 5½c under September track Chicago. Sales from country points to arrive were 200,000 bu. Cash wheat market in all was 1 to 5c higher with the basis, compared with September, relatively about ½c lower. There were heavy receipts in the southwest and an increased movement in Chicago. Southwestern markets were 2 to 4c lower. Export sales in all positions about 500,000 bu estimated.

Corn in the sample market at Chicago was unchanged to 2c higher, with no relative alteration in the basis, as compared with September, which is the trading basis for the present. Shipping sales were 175,000 bu, charters for 105,000 bu to Buffalo, to load at the Wabash elevator here at 2½c. Country purchases to arrive were 35,000 bu.

Oat prices were practically unchanged, although they closed slightly higher with shipping sales 76,000 bu and 111,000 bu were bought to arrive.

Receipts of wheat at Chicago on Monday were 498 cars, corn 264 cars, oats 68 cars, rye no cars, barley 37 cars. Hutchison, Kan., had 1,297 cars of wheat, Wichita 577 cars, Kansas City 2,139 cars, St. Louis 489 cars, and Omaha 758 cars, all showing material gains over last year.

Flaxseed prices were up 11 to 13½c in the different markets. Prices in the leading markets follow:

LARD VALUES EASIER

While there was a fair trade on in lard, with commission houses taking the deferred futures and packers and scattered holders disposed to sell, moderately, the advance in grains had no effect of a stimulating character on hog products. Lard closed unchanged to 1½c lower and bellies were unchanged to 5c lower. Liverpool lard was 3d to 1s lower, the latter on October. Exports of lard for the week were 10,067,000 lbs, and bacon 4,803,000 lbs. Hog prices were 10c higher early and closed 10c lower. Although receipts from the west were liberal, they were smaller than a week ago, but larger than last year. Prices follow:

HEAVY TRADE IN EGGS

Trading in November egg futures was unusually heavy on the Chicago mercantile exchange yesterday due to a combination of profit taking at the season's high and a current of new investment. The close at 37⅝c was ⅛c weaker. Sales were 447 cars and receipts 19,131 cases.

Butter futures started ⅛c down but rallied to the previous close of 43⅝c, helped by a steady spot and average receipts. Sales were 21 cars and receipts 15,104 tubs.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

So long as the public and speculators in general continue to buy wheat futures, especially in Chicago, and advance prices, cash handlers in the southwest think they have a good thing in buying the cash wheat and selling the futures here at profitable premiums. Southwestern people are understood to be bullish, but they are merchandising the cash grain as rapidly as possible and the advancing market in futures facilitates their operations.

Sentiment here and in the northwest is mainly bullish on wheat, and the way the market comes back after a 13 cent break, with a bulge of around 8 cents or more and an opening advance of 5 cents in Winnipeg, indicates that it is not safe to be short of wheat on breaks. So long as the weather continues, crop experts say, with high temperatures at some points, deterioration is likely to continue.

B. W. Snow of Bartlett, Frazier & Co. calls attention to the deficient rainfall in nearly all stations through Ohio, a good part of Illinois, with a heavy general rain in southern Iowa, and says the past week as a whole was moderately favorable for the corn crop territory, but there are increased areas of drought in the northwest.

Chicago Board of Trade memberships sold Monday at $40,650 and $40,700, net to the buyer.

"Weather the last few weeks has been quite favorable for finishing the wheat and oat crop," says H. I. Baldwin of Decatur, Ill. "Some little wheat has been threshed by the combines, and regular threshing machines are now expected to get to work very shortly on shock wheat. Scattered reports point to an average yield of 3 to 5 bu per acre more than general expectations of July 1. Probably 18 bu. will be nearer the mark. One seldom has the pleasure of seeing such an improvement in the growing corn as in the last few weeks. There is, of course, one-fourth of the acreage in this vicinity, particularly south of Decatur, that has little prospect of making a crop. Oats are mostly in the shock. Three days more will about complete cutting."

A corn specialist says that 90 per cent of the corn fields in Illinois north of Springfield are in tassel. Growth the last week was phenomenal. Stocks of old corn in farmers' hands are large.

Black rust reports are coming from the northwest and advices also claim that there is considerable leaf rust.

COTTONSEED OIL.

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Cottonseed oil was easy today under liquidation and commission house selling influenced by the decline in cotton and reports of beneficial rains in Texas, which offset the firmer grain markets. Refiners were credited with buying on the scale down and final prices showed net losses of up to 15 points. Sales were 5,500 barrels. Prime crude, nominal; prime summer yellow spot and July, 9.70c; September, 9.79c; October, 9.78c; December and January, 9.80c.

WOOL.

LONDON, July 22.—(AP)—The 9,932 bales offered at the wool sales today met with a quiet demand at current rates. Withdrawals were frequent among medium greasy scoured wools, owing to the high limits of holders. A large supply of clips sold readily, mainly to the home trade.

NEWS OF THE CROPS

B. W. Snow, crop observer, after a drive of 250 miles through the heart of the Illinois corn belt on Sunday says: "Best corn in best fields beginning to tassel, but crop as a whole at least two weeks late. Southern part of the state in very bad shape, ranging from 3 to 4 feet high with a poor general stand and great areas where plants are entirely drowned out. Northern part plant is larger, color excellent and plenty of moisture, but loss of acreage through water-killed spots sufficient to seriously reduce crop values regardless of character of the season hereafter."

R. O. Cromwell, crop expert of Lamson Bros. & Co., wires from Moose Jaw: "Back to Calgary from Lethbridge; crops have suffered but could still make good crop with rains soon. The same is true south of Lethbridge, which could still average 20 bu wheat."

H. C. Donovan wires Logan & Bryan from Portage, Man.: "Conditions in Manitoba are but little better than seen in other two provinces. Crop is some later but fairly good rains Friday and today, which will halt damage to fallow wheat but came too late for stubble portion."

R. W. Kinyon, crop expert with J. S. Bache Co., wires from Bismarck, N. D.: "Regina, Sask., to Moose Jaw summer fallow wheat still holds its color, all headed with fair heads and stands light to fair. With rain might make 3 to 5 bu crop. Rye promises fair crop. Cutting starts in a week."

Manitoba wheat is from 75 to 90 per cent headed on short straw, according to the Canadian National Railway weekly crop report. Stubble wheat is being plowed up in many districts and others showing white tips.

A Public Utility Company . . .

. . . grows with the territory

One of the outstanding advantages of a public utility company is its simultaneous growth with the population of the territory served.

Certain sections of our country are now developing at a tremendous rate, offering an unusually fertile field for public utility service.

The operating territory of the Western Power Light and Telephone Company includes rapidly developing sections of Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Earnings of the company reflect the growth in population as well as the efficiency of the management in taking full advantage of the opportunities for increased service.

An investment in the 6% First Lien Collateral Bonds of Western Power Light & Telephone Company is strongly safeguarded by valuable assets in important public utility properties (the bonds represent less than a 48% loan), by earnings of about three times bond interest, and by management of demonstrated ability.

NEW ISSUE

Erie Railroad Company
Equipment Trust of 1929 4½% Gold Certificates

TO BE ISSUED UNDER THE PHILADELPHIA PLAN

To be dated August 1, 1929. To mature in equal semi-annual installments of $279,000 each from February 1, 1930, to August 1, 1944, inclusive

Authorized and to be issued $8,370,000. Principal and dividends (February 1 and August 1) payable at the office of the Trustee, The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Coupon Certificates in the denomination of $1,000, registerable as to principal only.

The issuance, sale and guaranty of these Certificates are subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission

These Certificates are to be issued under an Equipment Trust Agreement between Erie Railroad Company and The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities, as Trustee, and will be secured upon equipment estimated by Erie Railroad Company to cost approximately $10,551,255, consisting of:

20 freight locomotives
15 switching locomotives
1 oil electric switching locomotive
15 locomotive tenders, 20,000 gallons capacity
500 steel-sheathed box cars
500 steel-sheathed automobile cars
1000 steel triple hopper cars
500 steel drop-end gondola cars
30 all-steel suburban passenger coaches
10 all-steel baggage and express cars
5 all-steel gas-electric cars
25 cabooses
1 160-ton wrecking-derrick

Title to the equipment, all of which is new, will be vested in the Trustee until all of these Equipment Trust Certificates are paid.

Altorfer Bros. Company

Convertible Preference Stock

ALTORFER BROS. COMPANY, manufacturers of power washing machines, including the "ABC" and "ALCO" Brands, have been leaders in their field for 19 years... Their washers are distributed through 3200 dealers in the United States and Canada.... The "APARTMENT" (1928), a small model for apartments and small homes, has doubled the sales of washing machines in many sections of the country... Production facilities were increased 33⅓% and a night shift added during 1928.... Net earnings for 1928 amounted to $14.02 per share on 30,000 shares Convertible Preference Stock outstanding.... This is 4⅔ times annual dividend requirements... Net profits available for dividends on this same stock for the first 4 months of 1929 are in excess of the requirements for the entire year... This was a 17% increase over the same period of 1928... The ratio of current assets to current liabilities as of January 21, 1929 was more than 6.5 to 1... Net tangible assets were equal to about $70 per share of the Convertible Preference Stock... Dividends are now being paid at the rate of $3 per annum.

Remington-Rand.

W. B. R., Bloomington, Ill.—Further progress was indicated by Remington-Rand, Inc., for the March quarter.

For the year ended March 31, 1929, profits were slightly above the year before, although in the first half readjustment of the company's affairs caused a falling off of more than $900,000. Earnings for the year were equivalent to $1.15 per share on the common, against $1.17 on fewer shares the year before.

No payments on the common stock are likely in the near future, according to reported statements of the company's officers at the annual meeting. Retirement of preferred stock is expected to postpone consideration of common dividends for another year.

The common stock is a speculation.

Arkansas Natural Gas.

Mrs. J. B.—Arkansas Natural Gas corporation directly or through subsidiaries produces and sells natural gas in Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas. It is a subsidiary of Cities Service company.

The consolidated income account for 1928, which included earnings of predecessor companies for the first three months of the year, showed gross operating revenue of $8,536,978.

Net income for 1928 was $3,045,385.

Earnings for 1928 were equivalent to $1.39 per share on 2,191,510 shares of 6 per cent preferred [par $10] and 42 cents a share of 4,084,225 no par common shares.

Earned surplus was $4,579,542.

Evans Auto-Loading.

Indianapolis Water.

E. M. E.—Indianapolis Water company first and refunding 4½ per cent bonds, due Jan. 1, 1940, are secured by a first mortgage on the entire property of the company.

They are a sound investment.

AMERICAN COMMONWEALTHS POWER CORPORATION

Controls Electric Light and Power Properties in fast growing West and Southwest sections of the United States through its subsidiary which supplies electrical energy through its operating units to over 250 communities in the states of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Arizona, Nebraska, New Mexico, South Dakota, Louisiana, and Texas, including the growing and important city of Amarillo, the largest city in Northwest Texas.

American Community Power Company

Year by year these communities have shown a steady increase in population, industry and prosperity. Situated in areas rich in natural resources and agriculture these communities have advantages which industry has recognized. Each year industry in these localities becomes more varied and important. Some of the largest industrial corporations are now here represented.

Electric Utilities an Important Factor

Of vital importance in the growth of these communities has been the supply of electrical energy provided for by subsidiary companies of AMERICAN COMMONWEALTHS POWER CORPORATION. As an integral part of these communities, AMERICAN COMMONWEALTHS POWER CORPORATION has shared its responsibility in providing an adequate and efficient supply of electrical energy at all times, and with them has shared and will continue to share in their prosperity. . . . .

The Growth and Prosperity of these Communities are Assured

PRESSURE ON COTTON

Buyers of cotton in the closing days of last week were disposed to unload, as weather conditions and Liverpool cables were against their advance. The fact that grain markets were excited and higher only tended to check real heavy selling. At the close yesterday prices were around the bottom, with futures in Chicago 12 to 15 points lower and other markets off 25 to 35 points. Spots were 35 points lower in New York at 19c, with New Orleans 25 points lower at 19.20c. Spot sales were 2,721 bales. Houston was 19.05c and Galveston, 19.10c. Liverpool lost 1 to 2 points with sales of only 3,000 bales.

Export clearances for the season to date aggregate 8,000,000 bales, against 7,500,000 bales last year. Prices follow:

De Paul University Building
CHICAGO
De Paul Educational Aid Society
Ten-Year General Mortgage Leasehold Collateral Trust 6¼% Gold Bonds

Dated July 1, 1929 — Due July 1, 1939

Interest payable semi-annually, January 1 and July 1 each year at Chicago Trust Company, Trustee. Coupon bonds in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000. Registerable as to principal and interchangeable as to denominations. Redeemable at the option of the Society in whole or in part on 30 days' published notice, on any interest date up to January 1, 1938 at 105% and accrued interest, and on any interest date thereafter at par and accrued interest. Principal and semi-annual interest payable at Chicago Trust Company, Trustee. Interest payable without deduction for normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 2%.

BUILDING: De Paul University Building is used by the De Paul Educational Aid Society, an Illinois Corporation, organized not for profit but for educational and benevolent purposes. De Paul University—chartered as a university on December 24th, 1907, under the laws of the State of Illinois—is the principal tenant. Due to the rapid growth and expansion of the university, particularly during the past seven years, the erection of the new building became imperative. Since September 1st, 1928,—the date of occupation—the increase in the enrollment has been substantial, demonstrating the demand for larger facilities. The new building houses the College of Law (possessing a larger enrollment of law students than any other law school in Illinois), College of Commerce, Loop High School and Secretarial College.

The building—of modern fireproof construction with heavy steel reinforcement throughout—is seventeen stories in height, with basement and sub-basement, and with foundation and frame to carry six additional stories. The style of architecture is distinctive, in keeping with the nature of the tenancy.

LOCATION: The building is located at 64-68 East Lake Street, occupying the northwest corner of East Lake Street and Garland Court. This location is particularly well chosen for the purpose of the university, being convenient to all forms of transportation—the elevated railways, surface lines, motor bus routes and Illinois Central suburban trains. The site is less than 200 feet from Michigan Boulevard, one block south of Wacker Drive, and within the immediate vicinity of the Lake Michigan Building, The Old Dearborn Bank Building, 333 North Michigan Building, London Guarantee and Accident Building and Marshall Field and Company.

SECURITY: These bonds will be the direct obligation of De Paul Educational Aid Society and will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a mortgage on leasehold estates on the land at the northwest corner of East Lake Street and Garland Court, Chicago, fronting 72 feet on East Lake Street and 140 feet on Garland Court and the building on this site, subject only to the lien of the First Mortgage Leasehold 6% Sinking Fund Bonds in the principal sum of $1,550,000.00. Appraisal of the fair market value of the building and leasehold estates as made by Messrs. Clarke and Trainer, Real Estate Dealers and Appraisers, at the time of the offering of the First Mortgage issue on this property is as follows:

Value of Leasehold Estates	$ 392,000.00
Value of Building	2,386,175.00
Total Value of Property	$2,778,175.00

The leasehold estates represent assets of large and continued increase in value because the terms of the ground lease extend to the year 2026 and are at a fixed aggregate ground rental without any revaluation for the entire period of the leasehold.

EARNINGS: Gross income from occupied space (now approximately 65%) and computing vacant space at $2.50 per square foot, which will be ready for occupancy after completion of this financing, will amount to a total of $308,051.70. Actual operating expenses, including ground rent, taxes, and a 10% allowance for vacancies but not depreciation or Federal Taxes, amount to $118,427.00; Available for interest $189,624.70. The maximum annual interest requirements on First Mortgage Bonds are $93,000.00, thus leaving a net as above computed of $96,624.70, which is 3.09 times the interest requirements on this issue.

AMORTIZATION FUND: From the proceeds of this issue there will be purchased and deposited with the Trustee on or before January 1, 1930, $125,000.00 of high grade securities as an Amortization Fund, the interest and dividends on which will be compounded semi-annually during the period of this bond issue. According to computation this fund will retire approximately 60% of the bond issue at maturity.

MANAGEMENT: The affairs of the De Paul Educational Aid Society are under the management and control of a Board of Lay Trustees and officers who are men of such recognized business and professional ability as to give more than ample assurance of successful management of the Society's affairs.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds from this bond issue will be used for installations of partitions, divisions, and improvements in the building and to pay any current indebtedness.

All legal matters in connection with this bond issue are under the direction of Chapman & Cutler for the Bankers and Taylor, Miller, Busch and Boyden, Attorneys for the Society. These bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to the approval of our counsel. It is expected that permanent bonds will be ready for delivery about August 1, 1929.

UTILITIES ONLY BRIGHT SPOT IN DULL MARKET

proposed company will be sponsored by the same banking and utility interests active in the incorporation of the three large units formed since the beginning of the year and that it will take over a large interest in American Power and Light, National Power and Light, Electric Power and Light, and other corporations. Besides the companies mentioned, the stock of North American, Consolidated Gas, American and Foreign Power, and Brooklyn Union were fairly strong. Profit taking cut down the gains of most of the leaders of this group, however, toward the last.

Motor Group Is Weak.

The motors were disposed to weakness, General Motors dropping to a new low for the year on heavy selling. Weakness of this group was ascribed in part to news of the introduction into this country of a British low priced machine. Publication of the General Motors report for the second quarter and six months, which is expected in a few days, will show less earned per share than for the 6 months of last year, according to best information.

Railroad shares appeared to meet constant profit taking, with Canadian Pacific apparently disturbed by indications that the dominion wheat crop will fall short of earlier expectations. Union Pacific started off bravely enough and reached a new high for the year in the forenoon trading but struck a snag before long and was off nearly four points for the day at the close. Kansas City Southern also forged ahead at first but likewise lost its early gain. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western was a conspicuous exception to the rule in this group, emerging with a net gain of more than a point—largely on buying which appeared in the late afternoon.

U. S. Steel Drops.

After furnishing aggressive leadership for the last week, United States Steel was subjected to active realizing and the stock drifted lower. It was off 3⅝ points at the close. Bethlehem was in active demand around the best levels of the movement most of the day but it also eased off in the late trading and closed showing a net loss of an even point.

Oil shares were under pressure and the group as a whole fell backward. Pessimism on these stocks appears to be growing. Most of the oil men say that second quarter earnings will be quite good but they are far from certain about third quarter results. Doubtless much will depend on the course of prices, and word from the southwest indicates that the gasoline market is a bit weak. There is some talk here also of further cuts in crude oil, and an all round reduction would tend to weaken the position of the oils.

Traders were a bit perplexed by a sharp drop of some 21 points in Allied Chemical and Dye on relatively light dealings. This weakness could not be readily explained, particularly when consideration was given to the fact that stocks in which it is believed to have substantial interest, namely, Steel common and New York Central among others, have shown such marked appreciation and are holding currently near the best levels of their history. Allied Chemical showed $11.12 a share earned for its common stock last year.

PROFIT TAKING SLASHES CHICAGO STOCK GAINS

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Profit taking cut down a number of good gains on the Chicago stock exchange yesterday and the biggest part of the list ended the day with net losses. A few issues managed to close with good gains due to special developments.

Grigsby-Grunow was a feature of the day, as it sold up 13½ points on to a high of 224 on formal announcement that the stock is to be split four for one. Directors called a meeting of stockholders for Aug. 14 to vote on a proposal to increase the authorized capital stock from 500,000 to 2,000,000 shares. After the approval the stock will be split to stockholders of record Aug. 16.

The company now has 437,040 shares outstanding, which after the split will be increased to 1,748,160 shares. It is understood that application to list the new stock on the New York exchange will be made soon. No announcement was made as to what dividend the new stock will pay. The present stock pays $4 a year.

Shoots Up 11 Points.

E. L. Bruce shot up 11 points to 77 in connection with the company's expansion program into the maple flooring field. Brown Fence and Wire advanced 1⅝ and Yellow Cab was up a point. Art Metal Works, Lion Oil and Chicago corporation were off a point or so.

Middle West Utilities rose six points in early trading but lost all the gain at the close. Central and Southwest Utilities was down 4½ and Commonwealth-Edison declined three points. Insull Utility Investment advanced 1⅝.

Auburn recovered eight points. Modine Manufacturing lost an early gain. A. B. Modine, president, announced that the company has received an order for 3,500 radiators for the new Cord front wheel drive car which Auburn is manufacturing. Borg-Warner was down six points and Pines Winterfront eased three points. Ainsworth Manufacturing gained three points.

Missouri-Kansas Pipe line finished the day fractionally higher. Frank P. Parish, president, announced that the entire indebtedness of $2,000,000 of the company has been paid off with the recent retirement of $50,000 in obligations. Liquidation of the debt began nine months after the formation of the company, which at the same time built up its cash reserve to $1,200,000.

Steps Up Production.

Muncie Gear "A" was up a fraction. Kenneth Spurgeon, vice president, announced that the company has stepped up production of its vibrators.

Ground Gripper finished a point lower. Announcement was made that rights to subscribe to one share of additional capital stock for each share held at $30 a share have been given to stockholders. The offering is in connection with the recent acquisition of four additional companies.

It was also announced that stockholders will vote on July 27 on a proposal to increase the common stock from 100,000 to 1,000,000 shares of no par value and to amend the certificate of incorporation giving preferred holders the privilege of converting their holdings into common stock. The company also proposes to sell an issue of debentures to a banking syndicate in an amount not to exceed $5,000,000. Reports were current that the new stock will be listed on the New York exchange.

On $1.25 Basis.

Kellogg Switchboard responded with a fractional gain to announcement that earnings for the first half of this year were in excess of $300,000 after charges but before federal taxes. Monsanto Chemical closed at 78, selling ex-100 per cent stock dividend. The new stock was placed on a $1.25 annual cash basis with the declaration of 31¼ cents in addition to the regular 1½ per cent disbursement in stock.

Gardner-Denver was up a point on a few shares. The company reported net income after all charges for the six months ended June 30 of $689,687. This compares with $398,094 in the same period last year. Bastian-Blessing was off two points. Lewis G. Blessing, vice president, announced a consolidation of certain patent interests of the company and the Pittsburgh Meter company.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Watermelons are selling at $275 to $615 a car, depending on condition of melons and how cars are loaded. Receipts were large and there were 465 cars on track.

A firm tone existed in the egg market and trading in butter was fair at unchanged prices. A feature in the live poultry market was the advance of ½c in hens and old roosters. There were good supplies of potatoes with trade limited owing to the hot weather. Receipts were 135 cars and 358 cars on track.

GOODYEAR CO. HAS BEST 6 MO. IN ITS HISTORY

The volume of business of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company in the first half of this year was the largest for any six months in the company's history. Net sales were $136,747,841, compared with $125,777,548, or a gain of 8¾ per cent over the first half of 1928, in spite of lower selling prices. All plants were operated at capacity. Net profits for the period were $12,633,865, equivalent after preferred dividends to $7.02 a share on the 340,927 shares of outstanding common stock.

Plan Change in Name of Charles Freshman Co., Inc.

A special stockholders' meeting has been called for the purpose of changing the name of the Charles Freshman Co., Inc., to Earl Radio corporation. The company's sales of C. A. Earl and Freed radios exceeded $1,000,000 for June, ordinarily a dull month in the radio business, with prospects for a heavy fall demand most promising.

FARMERS' CO-OPS DIFFERENT FROM CORPORATIONS

Win Special Privileges in Legislation.

with the Capper-Volstead act passed by congress in 1922. This bit of legislation confined the membership of coöperative associations which could gain a certain measure of freedom from the federal anti-trust laws to "farmers, planters, ranchmen, dairymen, nut or fruit growers." It allowed the corporations to be formed either with or without capital stock, but with the following requirements:

1. That no member of the association is allowed more than one vote because of the amount of stock or membership capital he may own therein; or,

2. That the association does not pay dividends on stock or membership capital in excess of 8 per cent per annum.

Practically all the coöperatives organized since under state laws—there are no federal corporation laws applicable to them—have met these requirements. The largest have operated without capital stock, obtaining their funds from membership fees. Those started as capital stock corporations have nearly all limited the dividends to 8 per cent on stock, as it is hard to conceive of a stockholder who would be willing to put in thousands of dollars and be limited to the same vote as a man who bought $10 or $100 worth of stock. The secretary of the treasury has made a ruling that coöperatives which hold to the limit of 8 per cent are to be regarded as nonprofit organizations. Net earnings above this must be returned to the members as "patronage dividends," which means a division based on the commodities turned over to the association for handling.

Composition of Group.

To summarize, a coöperative is an organization composed solely of persons engaged in agricultural production, with the object of earning profits for producers, rather than stockholders, limited largely to handling its own members' products and enjoying more legal freedom in commerce than is usual with corporations. Some of the specific advantages accruing to coöperatives through the special legislation will be outlined here tomorrow.

Farm Returns Improved Best Since Depression

POTTER PALMER, OTHERS ORGANIZE BANK IN FLORIDA

Sarasota, Fla., July 22.—[Special.]—Potter Palmer, Honore Palmer, Prince Michael Cantacuzene, all Chicagoans, are named among the organizers of the Palmer National National Bank and Trust company of Sarasota.

The new bank opened its doors for business today. The president of the new bank is John B. Cleveland, a former banker and farm owner of Kewanee, Ill. The directors include George B. Howell, vice president of the Exchange National bank of Tampa; R. K. Thompson, general manager of the Florida division of the Palmer estate, and C. P. Hoglund, former Chicago auditor.

The bank is expected to facilitate the development of the extensive acreage of muck lands belonging to the estate of the late Bertha Honore Palmer of Chicago which now are being developed and sold to individual farmers for truck and specialized vegetable farms. It also is expected to bring new confidence to this region, shaken by last week's closing of a Tampa bank and several of its subsidiaries.

27 Banks Close Doors in Florida in 18 Days

Tallahassee, Fla., July 22.—(AP)—The bank of Waldo, Fla., suspended operations today, the state banking department was advised. The bank had a capital and surplus of $25,000, deposits, $126,198.77, and total assets of $163,750.37. It was the 27th bank failure in the state since July 4.

UNCLE POM

By HENRY C. ROWLAND

SYNOPSIS.

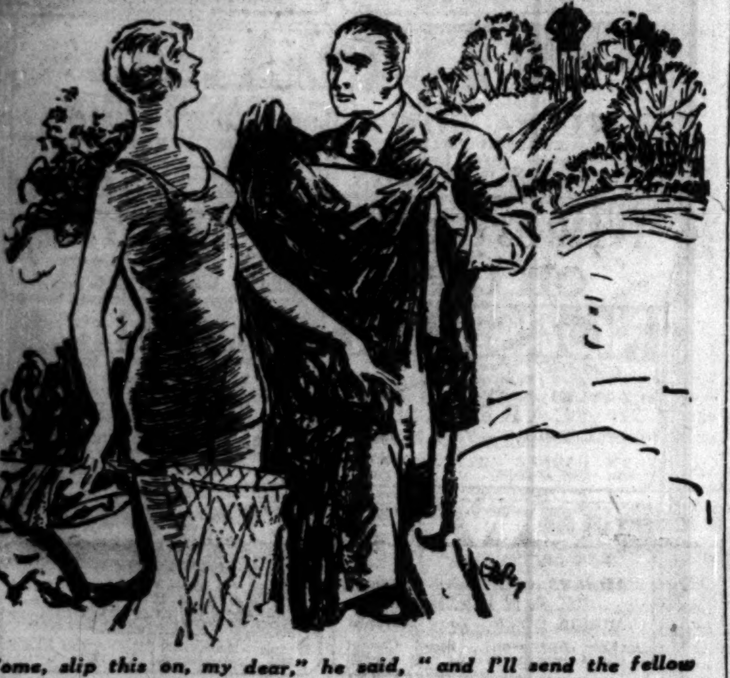
Pomeroy Penfold, a wealthy American widower, nearly 50, who loves to travel and whose greatest joy in life is visiting friends, is a guest at the chateau of his sister, Alida, and her husband, the Comte de Rennec, a portrait painter. When the story opens Uncle Pom is idling in a deck chair on the beach, watching Maia, the count's 20 year old daughter by a first marriage, catch fish in a net.

INSTALLMENT II.
THE INTRUDER.

Mr. Penfold laid aside his map and notebook to watch this lovely girl. He could do this with the greater esthetic pleasure because he was in all things the complete epicure in whom appreciation was not clouded by avidity. A gourmet and connoisseur of wines and spirits, he was never tempted to eat or drink to excess, and in the same way his visual enjoyment of feminine beauty was unclouded by the usual masculine urge to encompass it more fully. Mr. Penfold was one of those rare, healthy, normal, and placid male human beings who are naturally exempt from strong impulses. He might dislike a man with just cause, resent him but with no impulse to injure him. In the same way he could admire extremely the physical beauty of a woman with no personal emotion toward her, any more than if she had been a rose tree in full bloom.

Maia was a tawny blonde, lion color, and daily beach exposure had tanned the exposed skin surfaces to match her short wavy hair, so that now in the deep, mellow honey sunlight she suggested an animated statue in ruddy gold. She became now in her pursuit of the quick, elusive eel-like little fish a very animated statue, leaping and lunging with her net, laughing as one eluded her, twisting and turning with lithe, wringing movements of her supple body and postures that while instantaneous and full of grace would have disturbed the serenity of another watcher than Mr. Penfold.

But that middle aged hedonist was charmed. He did not deceive himself by affirming that here were the purposeful gambols of a sweet child, because Maia was too obviously past the juvenile phase, and there was no need for Mr. Penfold to insist that she was other than a fully formed young woman. He was under no constraint to justify his pleasure in her display, any more than he would have felt the need for justifying his pleasure in a rare vintage of which one glass sipped slowly and discerningly would have satisfied his enjoyment. Even when Maia had tripped and splashed down into the water that was knee deep to rise and renew her efforts in a glistening refraction of sunlight that made her costume scarcely apparent, Mr. Penfold was aware only of the perfect modeling of Pygmalion's dream come true, and without the ardor of that sculptor for his vitalized chef d'oeuvre.



"Come, slip this on, my dear," he said, "and I'll send the fellow on his way."

From time to time Maia stooped to grab at her pink shrimp net in which an equille was entangled to transfer the wriggling captive to her little pail. She had already caught enough for Mr. Penfold's friture, but the fishing was good and the sport exciting. She was so absorbed in it, and Mr. Penfold so fascinated in watching her, that neither observed the presence of a third person until Mr. Penfold happened to notice on the saffron sand the shadow of a masculine head and shoulders projecting beyond that of the low cliff's rim, in the shade of which his chair was placed.

He looked round quickly, and saw standing just above him a young man in blue serge coat, white ducks, and yacht cap. Mr. Penfold looked severe. The intruder was unknown to him, and this little beach was tacitly, if not legally—for the French law does not admit proprietorship of litoral—a part of the private estate of the Château de Rennec.

Being a gentleman of such worldly aplomb that no situation, however disturbing, found him ever at a loss, he managed even to get out of the canvas folding chair with dignity, a feat in itself; then without wasting a look at this interloper he picked up Maia's peignoir, walked down the wet beach, and held the garment to screen her, as a maid might.

"Maia," he said sharply.

She wheeled about, glanced at Mr. Penfold and, her gaze traveling past him, fastened on the stranger. She froze in a posture that while rigid was full of grace, and she looked like a motion picture in color suddenly arrested.

"Come, slip this on, my dear," he said, "and I'll send the fellow on his way."

Maia did not seem to have heard him. She remained in the same rigid pose, and it was not one of shrinking. On the contrary, she held herself erect, her body like a shaft of gold, shoulders thrown back a little and bosom thrust forward, like the Winged Victory but with no loss of head. Her tawny eyes had darkened and opened very wide and her lips were parted.

This stasis was very brief. Maia waded a few steps out of the shallow water, took the peignoir, and drew it round her shoulders. She was still staring at the low line of rocks. Mr. Penfold turned, to walk back and make the dignified protest he felt to be in order and that would verge on reprimand.

But the intruder had disappeared. Mr. Penfold was vexed, not at the lost opportunity for a reproof but because his curiosity, a leading emotion, must now remain unslaked. His brief glance at the stranger had shown him to be no ordinary summer tourist, nor one of the négligé painters that frequented that part of the coast. He was a youngish man, evidently a yachtsman, and there had been something military or naval to his trim build and stance up there on the rock's edge.

"Now I wonder who that fellow was," he said, irritably.

Maia did not answer. She stooped and picked up her little pail, about half full of equilles. Mr. Penfold looked at her questioningly. Her face had, he thought, a covert blankness. Also he noticed that she was breathing deeply.

"Have you ever seen him before, Maia?"

"Yes. In America, when I was visiting the Clive Pierponts in Newport."

"Who and what is he? What's his name?"

"He is an Englishman, a Capt. Seagrave. He dined there one night, at Newport. He had bought a British yacht at Southampton, and brought her over there to try to sell."

"Did he sell her?"

"No. He chartered her to some rich people, and remained aboard as captain."

"He, a yacht skipper."

"He had to earn his living," Maia said, indifferently, "so he did the thing that he knew most about."

"Well, there's something in that," Mr. Penfold admitted. "What sort of yacht was it?"

"Quite a fair sized yacht with sails and engines. They sailed for Bermuda and the West Indies." Maia gave Mr. Penfold a troubled look. "He told me at dinner that his father was a retired British navy captain, and his mother had been American. He seemed well bred."

Mr. Penfold gave a short vexed laugh. "It looks to me as if you had made such an impression on this man that he has followed you here. I don't think much of his breeding in making this flank movement when you are bathing on your private beach."

"No more do I, Uncle Pom. But you'd think that anybody Clive Pierpont asks to his table would be the right sort. It's a cachet."

"Yes, in most cases. But Clive has his tendo Achilles, like the rest of us. Aliste told me about it."

"What's that?"

"War veterans that really made good. Where there's no question on that one point Clive would feel honored to entertain a man that had bombed a peace conference. What was this Capt. Seagrave's job?"

"I'm not sure, but I think he was first a naval spy in the Baltic, and then commanded a 'Q' ship, whatever that may be. Clive seemed to know all about it."

"Then he would probably be hard boiled. Did you encourage him, my dear?"

"He didn't need it, Uncle Pom. A man like that encourages himself. I'll take these equilles to the chef for your supper."

"Bachelor Girl" Is Restful, but Lazylike Film

Chicago Peach Has Part in Picture.

"THE BACHELOR GIRL."

Produced by Columbia Pictures.
Directed by Richard Thorpe.
Presented at the Rialto theater.

THE CAST.

Jimmy	William Collier Jr.
Joyce	Jacqueline Logan
Campbell	Edward Hern
Gladys	Thelma Todd

BY ROBERTA NANGLE.

"The Bachelor Girl" is a restful picture, if nothing else. The plot just ambles along at a lazy pace and finally winds up with a touching and happy ending. It has little action, no suspense, no surprises of any kind. The scenario writer and the director evidently decided to rely on good old human interest and let it go at that.

Jacqueline Logan as Joyce Wray, the bachelor girl, is the snappy and efficient secretary to the president of a wholesale clothing house. She's the kind of a girl who meets the customers, smiles at them, lights their cigars, and then makes them buy a lot more goods than they intended to.

For some reason hard to fathom, this very successful business woman loves Jimmy, who works in the stockroom at counting merchandise and dressing up lady dummies. Jimmy seems to be a little bit dumb, but he has big ambitions. Joyce helps him to get a better job, and then gets herself a job as his secretary.

From then on Joyce does most of the work while Jimmy does the talking and gets the credit. Joyce makes out his reports, takes care of his customers, corrects his spelling, and boosts continually to the boss. But is the man grateful? No! He accuses her of trying to steal his glory and kicks up such a fuss that he finally gets fired.

It's back to his old job in the stockroom for Jimmy, while Joyce climbs up to a better position in the business world, with large raises in her pay envelope every few months. The boss falls in love with her, and for a while she thinks she'll marry him. If you're dying to learn the outcome, just step over to the Rialto.

New York, July 22.—[Special.]—Geraldine Farrar, the singer who was once the debutanté's delight, came home from Europe today on the Hamburg-American liner St. Louis—cutting short a summer vacation to return for the celebration of her father's seventieth birthday.

Miss Farrar, who has been traveling for two months in Germany, Austria and France, will go immediately to the Farrar summer home in Ridgefield, Conn. Her father will be seventy on Aug. 10.

Discussing the conditions of the opera in New York, Miss Farrer said that in the last several years the Metropolitan has become merely a well regulated stock company, performing its répertoire time after time in the same way.

"It is good, of course, but not exciting," Miss Farrar said. "There are no features, no striking personalities to touch off the public's enthusiasm."

Everyone of voting age recalls, of course, that the beautiful Miss Farrar was one time a striking personality in the Metropolitan company. The matinee girls whose idol she was were called "Gerryflappers."

Miss Farrar said she had no plans for public appearances until next spring, when she will begin a concert tour.

Sally Promises Her Guests Real Movie of Life on River

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

If you ever read Mark Twain's "Life on the Mississippi" you've wished you could have been there in all the excitement, fun, dangers and troubles that made steamboating such a thrilling career in those days before the civil war. That's just what you can do as my guest a week from next Friday, Aug. 2, when 100 of us go to see "River of Romance" at the Uptown theater—for it's one of the greatest pictures of old-time Mississippi river adventure ever made. And to make it even better, the hero is our new young favorite, Buddy Rogers, whom we met, many of us, just a few weeks ago!

Nor is that all. Buddy Rogers as the star is great—but he is supported by a cast of stars such as rarely assemble in one picture. His sweetheart for one, is Mary Brian—and other women in the cast include June Collyer and Natalie Kingston.

Among the men we'll see Henry B. Walthall as the peppery Gen. Rumford, wealthy plantation owner and Buddy's father—Wallace Beery, as the notorious gambler from Natchez and Walter McGrail as the bully who causes all the trouble. So with a cost like that you know the story will be wonderfully played, and with a story packed full of romance and adventure like "River of Romance" there'll be a wonderful afternoon in store for all of my hundred guests.

Now for the way you can win an invitation? All you have to do is write a letter telling why you'd like to come. If you have any special reasons you would enjoy this picture particularly—any of the stars you like, or if you like pictures and stories of this kind—tell me what your reasons are. Then the hundred girls and boys whose letters show they'll get most fun out of coming will win invitations.

But this you must bear in mind—your letter must be mailed in order to reach me early Thursday morning because I choose the winners then. Also, remember to give your name, street address, age and your grade in school. Write your letter now and post it.

6 Chicago Women Will Go to Berlin 'Ad' Parley

When the Chicago delegates to the convention of the International Advertising association meet in Berlin, August 12-15, they will find six women among their numbers. Mrs. Mary Derbyshire, retiring president of the Woman's Advertising club of Chicago, will head the group composed of Bernice Blackwood, Margaret Heinrichs, Mary F. Dowd, Mary Leland and Mildred Graettinger. They will leave Chicago on Saturday, and will sail on July 30 from New York.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question E. F. Lindman, care U. S. Engineers' office, 333 North Michigan avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

As a visitor, what is your impression of Chicago?

The Answers.

E. F. Lindman, 333 North Michigan avenue, engineer—I have been in Chicago only a short while. One is overawed by the first glance at this city, for the grand scale in which many things are carried out, especially from an engineering standpoint. But many other things are overlooked: vacant lots are dumps, alleys are filthy and streets are in poor condition.

Mrs. J. R. Mahaffey, Wichita, Kas., housewife—It is a wonderfully busy city, a dangerous one for visitors, although the traffic laws seem to be nicely regulated. The traffic officers are courteous, for which they deserve credit. I have noticed more people bump up against me than in any other city, and then excuse themselves.

Lester Goldberg, 3421 Roosevelt road, salesman—I came here from Streator, Ill., this last week. There is something doing here every minute; in that respect it's something like a fourth dimensional city, and that's why I like it. There are great opportunities here for young men.

Mrs. Ethel Rees, Lafayette, Ind., housewife—Streets are pretty crowded; highways are packed with vehicles, and sidewalks are lined with pedestrians. We enjoy the very atmosphere and spirit that prevails here, caused by the city itself and the democratic character of the people.

A. H. Nissen, Wichita, Kas., insurance—I would say it is a devil of a place. It's so terribly busy, so much traffic, people pushing you around and not paying any attention to you. We had a heck of a time driving in from Whiting, Ind.—even drivers don't care whether they run over you, under you, by the side of you or what.

Hot Days Cause Much Suffering.

If it was hard for motorists to find a breeze along the lake shore last night, think how hot must have been those tenement families who couldn't find any.

Six children and their parents couped up in a three room flat, the street—hot and steamy—down below the front windows, a cluttered enclosed alley below the back ones, no cross ventilation, the only cooling agency available being the luke warm water from the kitchen faucet. Babies crying—some because of the heat, others because they are sick. Mothers, tired and ready to drop, but keeping on for the sake of the children. Boys and girls cross and irritable. All that was the condition in the city's back yards last night.

The more fortunate Chicagoans have no control over the weather, but they can aid in easing the discomfort in the breathless tenements by providing ice for refrigerators. And they'll not only be helping those fretting babies keep well, but will give the rest of the family better odds for good health. All contributions that TRIBUNE readers can spare will go far toward bettering such conditions in hundreds of homes.

Five hundred mothers and children from those same localities felt the cool air from the Fox river up at Camp Algonquin last night and were thankful. They slept an unbroken sleep. No elevated trains pounded in their ears. The calm coolness of the valley camp brought rest. No babies cried out.

Helping the two TRIBUNE funds means saving lives and helping others to appreciate living. All gifts, whether they be dollars or pennies, will help. They should be sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE.

Norma Shearer Here on Way East with Husband

Norma Shearer, movie star, accompanied by her husband, Irving Thalberg, director, passed through Chicago yesterday en route to New York where they will spend two days. Miss Shearer, clad in pink, expressed approval of talking motion pictures and disapproval of the Chicago heat. She has made two "all-talkies."

THEATER

BACLANOVA, who sang here in 1926 in the Moscow Art Theater's queer version of Bizet's "Carmen," is to be in next week's bill in the Palace. She has of late been in films. Another contributor to the bill will be Frank Devoe, who is liked by the clientèle of this house.

Miss Queenie Smith and Guy Robertson appeared last night in Long Branch (N. J.) in the first American performance of "The Street-Singer," an operetta that was quite successful in London.

New last week in New-York were "Broadway Nights," a new show in the general manner of "Pleasure-Bound," with Doctor Rockwell and Miss Odette Myrtil at the head of the cast, and "Freddy," a comic piece by C. Stafford Dickens, with Raymond Walburn, Miss Beatrice Terry and Hubert Druce. . . . Harry Welsh, who was so comical as a waiter in the recent performances of "Boom-Boom," is in "Broadway Nights."

"The Honorable Mr. Wong" is the name of something written jointly by Mr. Belasco and Achmed Abdullah; and they say it may first be offered in London with Mathison Lang in the title-part. . . . Mr. Lang at one time had London's cheers ringing in his ears night after night through a long run because of his acting in the poor piece called "Mr. Wu," shown here some years ago by Walker Whiteside.

Among the impending new plays is one called "A Lady Descends." . . . Another is named "The Notorious Virgin." . . . And a third is called "Remote Control."

The title of the new play by Maurine Watkins, author of "Chicago," has been changed from "So Help Me, God!" to "Happy Ending."

"Sweet Land of Liberty" is a new one by Philip Dunning, who wrote "Broadway"; and "Trevelyn's Ghost" is something by Dwight Taylor, son of Miss Laurette Taylor. "House-Party" is the title of a piece by Kenneth Phillips Britten and Roy Hargrave; and Catharine Chisholm Cushing and Mabel Wagnals have written "The Rosebush of a Thousand Years." All four pieces are to be put on by George C. Tyler, who is again in partnership with A. L. Erlanger.

Miss Lulu McConnell, Victor Moore, Miss Betty Starbuck, and Miss Peggy Bernier are to be in "You for Me!"

14,000 Children Are Guests at Special Circus Performance

The old folks wouldn't have had a chance at the circus yesterday morning even if they had been invited.

Under the "big top" promptly at 9:30, with whoops and ecstatic shouts of wonder, rushed a flood of youngsters. From all about town they came—14,000 eager faced, bright eyed boys and girls. Some of them had no parents, others were crippled, some were undernourished, and all of them underprivileged. But for two and a half glorious hours they forgot all about themselves as the waggish clowns, the big brass band, the smiling performers, and the animals—all kinds of them—put on a show just for children.

Tickets to the circus simply weren't honored by the management. In the first place, the children from over 200 charitable institutions were regular guests of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey. The performers donated their services and had as good a time as the children. Mrs. Charles E. Frankenthal arranged for transporting the children and a hundred or more leaders helped marshal the crowds to the tent. This is said to be the first time a complete free circus has ever been presented in Chicago.

British Medics Split on Issue of Child Care

Psycho-Analysis Causes Rift in Association.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 22.—After years of investigation, culminating in a long report, the British Medical association today tried to make up its mind on the question of psycho-analysis.

Convening for its annual convention at Manchester, the association finally voted, after a heated debate, the opinion that "serious dangers had not been opened by psycho-analysis in regard to children and adolescents."

Many of England's leading physicians, however, said that psychoanalysis applied to children constituted a grave moral danger. Their statements provoked an angry discussion.

The committee's report, drawn up after three years of investigation, dealt primarily with the theory that an oedipus complex—the love and jealousy of children for their parents—is the kernel of all neurotic disturbance.

Dr. A. L. Parry scored the committee for not emphasizing the "serious dangers to children of any system of mental therapy which postulated the sensual basis as the sole or prepondering cause of nearly all neurosis and pathological and mental conditions."

At this point the debate grew warmer. Dr. E. G. Manson rebuked the physicians for harping on morals and substituting prejudice and emotion for science.

"If it is true," he said, "that neurosis has a sexual basis, we must accept it whether we think it moral or not."

He was supported by Dr. Bodman, who shouted: "This is not a court of morals but a scientific body. Matters dealt with by psychoanalysis are often painful and repugnant but that must not prejudice its value."

Harshe Secures Hungarian Art for 1933 World Fair

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUDAPEST, July 22.—Robert B. Harshe, director of the Chicago Art institute and chief of the fine arts department for the Chicago World's Fair to be held in 1933, left today for Prague after arranging for an exhibit of Hungarian art. A special room was reserved for Hungary's leading painter, Karl Kernstock. Mr. Harshe, after a long interview with Elek Petrovitch, head of the Budapest National museum, said that he had two rooms reserved also for Istvan Csok and Janos Vagary.

What Price a Slim Figger, Gals, if You Look Years Older?

Yesterday I touched on the futility of pursuing youth and beauty on quick reduction methods. I called particular attention to what happens to face and neck when the fatty tissue underneath the skin surface is suddenly removed.

I have a definite theory that any one can go a week on the most limited sort of diet, even a nothing-but-liquid diet, and suffer no injuries, if that person is in normal health. In fact, a couple of days' rest given that overworked stomach of the average eater is what it needs more than it needs medicines. Seven days might leave a worker too exhausted for her work, however. So I am not advocating the experiment generally. I'm only suggesting that fatalities wouldn't have to be expected were it tried.

But I do not think one should go two weeks, three weeks, or, as some do, extend the period into a month or months, with a diet that isn't properly balanced so that sufficient energy foods are taken to prevent disaster. From the purely beauty angle it is a hazardous game to play, because of the condition it is apt to leave the skin in afterward. I've seen so many women who boast of their bathroom scale records as compared with those of a few weeks ago whose faces and necks plainly indicate failure of the reducing experiment. Half the loss of weight boasted would make a number of them look younger—and feel younger.

Not that I am against reducing, as you know. But only in concern for the accomplishment of a woman's true motive in reducing do I plead for the slow program over the hasty. What does it profit a woman to whittle down her waist line, flatten her abdomen, slenderize her hip measurements, if age is doubled in shrunken patches of skin under the eyes, in cheek hollows, and beneath the chin?

With slower and saner reduction programs she can eventually have the perfect figure outline and with it none of the disconcerting neck and facial evidences of age. The easiest reducing diet is one which simply eliminates the unnecessary extra calories: the extra piece of toast, the extra slab of butter or lump of sugar, the extra cream in the coffee, fat meats and rich desserts, bites between meals, and so on. The sloughing away of the excess tissue under cheek and neck skin may be accomplished gradually so that all this unnecessary bagging and wrinkling may be dispensed with entirely.

Little Helen, aged five, had been talking of wanting a baby sister for some time—in fact talked about it constantly.

She was taken to the hospital one day to see her new baby brother, but she wasn't at all interested. Later she was taken to her grandmother's home in another city and when asked what she thought of the new brother, replied: "Not so good. She's a boy."

He Understood Bohemian.

In the middle of the last semester of my senior year, we were informed that there would be several changes in the faculty's teaching curriculum. It happened that I was given a new journalism instructor and according to my estimation he was only a young college student. All the members of the class were exceptionally quiet that first day, so to break the monotony, I called to a girl who sat across from me and spoke to her in Bohemian, saying he looked like a college frosh. I then asked her what she thought of him. Before she had a chance to answer, he spoke to me in English and said, "I hope you change your opinion of me before long." Embarrassed? I should say, for how was I to know that he understood Bohemian.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Gravies for Greens.

All through the summer there are numerous wild greens to cook and dress besides the "weeds" from the garden and nice celery tops. These are quickly prepared, and with good cooking may always be a piquant addition to the dinner menu. Purslane will grow in the thriftiest of kitchen gardens. It received a great deal of most entertaining comment from Charles Dudley Warner in his book called, "My Summer in a Garden," in which he uses the derisive word "pusley."

In a 200 year old book there is a delightful little article on purslane as moistening and cooling and being good in hot weather for young persons of a hot and bilious constitution, so really giving this green the credit that science gives all greens, with the statement that it is good against the scurvy and purifies the blood. The advice in the old book is to choose young, tender and juicy purslane.

Any green well cooked is excellent with butter alone and the addition of salt. Then when we want to make it finer we add cream as well as butter, and usually chop the greens fine by heating them up rapidly in butter after they have been cooked and chopped, then adding cream, which softens them enormously. The butter makes them savory and a meat stock developed in a gravy gives them a certain body and so is worth while.

Bacon fat dressing, such as is used on wilted lettuce, is excellent with some greens. Melted butter and lemon juice is equal to a gravy, and it sets off spinach and cauliflower and green cabbage in a highly satisfactory way if it is managed just right. The lemon juice will give the spinach almost the cooked sorrel flavor. Sorrel was vated in France, because it is, when cooked, an appetizer, a salad and green all in one.

French dressing can be more frequently used for hot weather vegetables than most people realize. These French dressings with additions such as are common today are excellent with greens that have been well drained and chopped, but not so good if the greens are wet. In fact, wet greens are not acceptable in any case. The French dressing is particularly good with green beans and the combination of green beans and carrots.

"I'm tanning myself!"

No need to expose yourself to sunburn and freckles for a fashionable tan!

Glory of the Sun Powder gives you a perfect tan in two minutes! It is not a "tan powder" but a powder that tans! Put on just the shade of tan you want, according to the amount of powder you rub on. The whole effect is perfectly natural. No powder shows. A test on arm or leg will tell.

A Glory of the Sun tan flatters any girl. Protects from sunburn and freckles. Looks natural, day or night. And it STAYS ON! Doesn't come off on your clothes. Work, dance, play tennis or golf—even go bathing—without affecting it. Soap and water and cream are the only things that remove it. Renewed in two minutes. So a lovely tan all summer is simple.

Two shades—Light for blondes; Dark for brunettes. Large box $2.00 at all toilet goods counters. Carlé, Inc., Chanin Bldg., New York.

Chicago Colony at Pine Lake Grows Rapidly

The Chicago club colony on Pine Lake near Charlevoix is growing with groups of our townsfolk arriving daily. New arrivals who have recently opened their summer homes include Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. William McIlvaine, the Robert Stuarts, the John Stuarts, Mr. and Mrs. Edward deWitt Shumway, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon A. Smith, Mrs. Adele Whitman, Mrs. Charles I. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Linn, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lord, the Harold C. Smiths, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Waller, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Rickcords, and Mr. and Mrs. George B. Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams, with their son, Cyrus H. III., and their daughter, Mary Seymour, will leave next week to spend the month of August at Charlevoix. Byron S. Reid left last week to join his family there for an indefinite stay. Mrs. Reid gave a picnic on the beach last Sunday for members of the Pine Lake Yacht club who are conditioning their boats for the Charlevoix and Mackinac sailing races to take place the latter part of August.

The list of cottages at the Belvedere colony includes the R. Vernon Clarks, Mrs. William G. Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hollingsworth. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hammond [Ruth Rodey] arrived at Harbor Point club house last week and will spend the remainder of the summer there. Mr. and Mrs. Potter Smith of 1366 North Dearborn parkway will occupy a cottage at the Point during August.

The American Opera society will hold a meeting this evening at the residence of Mrs. Royden J. Keith (Marie Morrissey) at 999 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Waller Borden, who returned last week from Europe, will preside. The society gave a tea yesterday afternoon at the Stevens hotel for presidents and music chairmen of the various women's clubs. Mrs. Charles S. Clark presided and the speakers included Mrs. Borden, Mrs. Harry F. Atwood, Benjamin Atwell, and Charles Farwell Edson.

Mrs. Frank O. Wetmore will open her Wheaton residence on Thursday for a sale for the benefit of the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins. The hostesses will include Mrs. John Jay Bryant, Mrs. Richard T. Fox, Mrs. Edward N. Hurley, Mrs. Leo M. Nicolson, Mrs. Allen Ripley, Mrs. Walter Schattler, Mrs. Frank X. Walls, Mrs. Horace Wetmore, and Mrs. Herbert Witherspoon, all of Wheaton; Mrs. John Sellers of Downers Grove; Mrs. Robert Fauntleroy and Mrs. Albert Newcomb of Geneva, and Mrs. Arthur Cutten of Geneva. The sale will open at 10 a. m. and close at 5 in the afternoon.

The annual tennis tournament of the Country club of Evanston will be held next week, starting on Sunday with the men's events. The ladies' and juniors' events will take place on Monday.

The Woman's Exchange of Chicago will hold a sale on Thursday and Friday of this week at Marlborough, Mich. Mrs. Henry W. Farnum is chairman.

The annual dance of the Green Lake Yacht club at the Lawsonia Country club will be held on Saturday evening, Aug. 3, at the conclusion of the three days invitation regatta for class C boats to be held that week end. Neighboring yacht clubs whose members will take part include the Lake Geneva, Delavan Lake, Minnetonka, and White Bear Lake clubs. Commodore and Mrs. John H. Dunham of Evanston and Mr. and Mrs. Weymouth Kirkland of 1320 North State street will be hosts and hostesses at the dance.

Mrs. Harold C. Strotz and her sister, Mrs. Paul Butler, left last week for a short stay at the Butlers' ranch in Montana. They will be back on Aug. 1, in time to watch their respective husbands play in the intercircuit polo tournament when Onwentsia meets Oak Brook on the Onwentsia fields.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Russell of 1120 North State street and their daughters, Virginia and Suzanne, will sail tomorrow for a tour of England, France and Switzerland. They will return in October.

Leander J. McCormick sailed on Saturday on the Northern Prince for South America.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hale of Winnetka and their four children left yesterday to spend August and September at their summer place at Nantucket, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Wilson of 1130 North State parkway are stopping for a few weeks at Del Monte Lodge, Del Monte, Cal.

Buildings for St. Charles.

Otto Elliott, acting superintendent of the St. Charles state school for boys, announced yesterday that several new buildings costing $50,000 are to be added to the present group at the school.

Professor Declares Flat Is No Place to Raise Children

How to train the adolescent child presents difficulties enough without the problematic complications caused by the modern kitchenette apartment, in the opinion of Dr. D. P. Boder, staff psychologist for Michael Reese hospital and professor of psychology at Lewis institute.

The privacy due an adolescent child is hardly to be had in an apartment house, Dr. Boder told members of the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion yesterday at a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman. The adolescent period of a child's growth presents, he said, a problem that no country has solved.

"The correct adjustment lies in the home, various social agencies, and in the schools," Dr. Boder continued. "One of the greatest faults is within the home where parents refuse to recognize that the child is no longer a baby but a young man who wants privacy in a room of his own, a place to study, and some degree of separation from the apron strings of his mother. This is next to impossible in the modern city apartment of the middle class family."

The school is the place for all children under 18 years of age, Dr. Boder declared.

England Observes 300 Year Old "Swan Upping" Event

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 22.—Annual observance of the 300 year old custom of "swan upping" [annual inspection and marking of royal and other privileged swans on the Thames river] began today when six skiffs carrying representatives of the king, the Vintners company, and the Dyers company started up the Thames to round up and mark all swans encountered in the way.

BRIDE THIS WEEK

[Malcolm Balfour Photo.]

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Helen Francoeur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alfred Francoeur of Glencoe, to Charles Dee Spencer of Glencoe will take place next Saturday evening at the Glencoe Union church, with the Rev. Dr. Douglas H. Cornell officiating.

The feminine portion of the bridal entourage will include Mrs. George H. Littell [Beulah Francoeur], of Evanston, who will act as matron of honor; Miss Martha Anne Wilson of Danville as maid of honor, and Mrs. Francis W. Major of Evanston, Miss Edith Treleaven of Oak Park, and Miss Dorothy Custer of Evanston as bridesmaids. Two small nieces of the groom, Rose Stoetzal of Glencoe and Betty Lou Hartman of Rochester, N. Y., will be flower girls.

Thomas J. Montgomery will be best man for Mr. Spencer and the ushers include Robert Straub, David Fox of Winnetka, the groom's brother, Richard Spencer, and George H. Littell of Evanston.

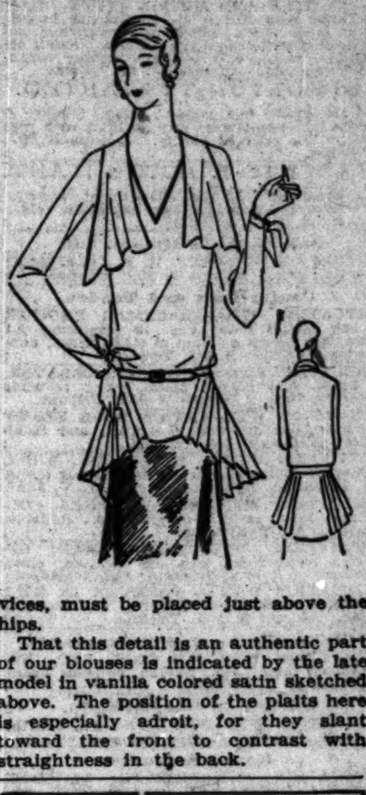
Peplum Craces Many Costumes

BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—"Behold the peplummox!" cried my friend who weighs a hundred and sixty as she greeted me in a frock with a peplum. I couldn't be polite. I had to agree that this was a good cable address. For there can be no doubt about it. The peplum is only for the slim. Anybody who has gained an extra ounce is in danger of looking a "lummox" the minute she dons this frill about the hips.

Yet the peplum is become one of the smartest of fashion touches. For example, I saw lunching near me at a fashionable restaurant a woman clad in a printed silk jacket costume evidently landed from Paris simultaneously with its wearer. It was a black and white silk with one of the new blurred small patterns and the coat ended just above the beginning of a plaited peplum of the frock. The latter was aided and abetted by a plaited flounce at the hem.

On the various one piece frocks coming out this summer the peplum is functioning with fervor. It is especially charming on the printed crêpe frocks, and usually has as its chief accessory one or two flounces. All of these may be applied either straight or slanting. And the newest appear in conjunction with the high waistline, which, according to latest advices, must be placed just above the hips.



That this detail is an authentic part of our blouses is indicated by the late model in vanilla colored satin sketched above. The position of the plaits here is especially adroit, for they slant toward the front to contrast with straightness in the back.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., July 22.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover returned this morning to the White house from their week end visit to the former's fishing camp on the Rapidan. They have as their house guest former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, who arrived at the Mayflower yesterday to remain until after the ratification of the peace pact on Wednesday. He will be joined there Wednesday morning by former President Coolidge, who may be a guest over night where he was host for seven years.

Representative and Mrs. Fred A. Britten were guests of honor at dinner tonight of R. Golden Defaldson who entertained for them at Plage Deauville, Wardman Park hotel.

Mrs. Imbrie, wife of the late Robert Whitney Imbrie, who lost his life in the line of duty in the American consular service in Turkey, has been appointed registrar for the Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., and will leave shortly to assume her duties.

NEW YORK SOCIETY.

New York, July 22.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Delafield will introduce their daughter, Miss Mary Delafield, at a supper dance Friday evening, Dec. 20, at the Park Lane.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Bennett, who are spending the summer in Newport, will give a dance at the Ritz Carlton hotel, Dec. 20 to introduce to society their daughter, Miss Hope Bennett.

Mrs. S. Landor Trippe and her daughter, Miss Carolyn Trippe, have left Briarcliffe lodge, Briarcliffe Manor, to motor through the White mountains.

One of the first debutante parties this season will be a dance Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Townsend will give on Sept. 21 at the Round Hill club, Greenwich, to introduce their daughter, Miss Molly Trowbridge Townsend.

Mr. and Mrs. Boykin Cabell Wright and their twin sons are at Northeast Harbor, Me., where they have taken a cottage.

Why Grieve for One Who Doesn't Miss You, Asks Doris

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Tell me, how can I forget a man who is hopelessly beyond my reach? He is married. I am 18. He is 38. I worked for him six months. Then things got so that the office became everything to me. I gave up all my young friends.

"Finally, however, I gave up my position and got another one. I got in touch with my old friends again and have made life for the last six weeks just one wild party in an effort to forget. I would give anything to work with him again—but that is out of the question. I love him. I'd give up everything for him, believe it or not.

"Don't tell me to be a sensible little girl and that I'm young and I'll forget. I won't. I do know the meaning of it. I knew he was married and could never be anything to me."

All right, I won't tell you to be a sensible little girl. Be a silly one. Go 'round mooning. Keep on nursing your heartache until people begin to wonder what secret sorrow is yours. Keep on thinking of nothing else but the man until you get yourself worked into a state of nervous hysteria. There are a number of other silly things I could tell you to keep on doing and being. But why bother? Just let's look at the man.

Is he sorrowing? Is he trying to forget in a hegira of wild parties? Is he burying himself away from his companions, morose and sullen? If anything in his life, weren't you simply an incident to be forgotten as quickly as possible? Then, see the silliness of your martyred rôle.

Or, jelling up your backbone—stiffening it with a bit of plain horse sense, you've got another job. You're away from the man. You need never see him again. And you've got it in that muddled little head of yours to turn off the current of thought in his direction—just as surely as you have it in your power to direct your steps down the street. Not so easily, it is true. But you can train your mind in a set direction, all the same. And it is the only way out of involved heart situations like yours.

Americans in London.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 22.—The following Americans registered at the London office of THE TRIBUNE today: Mr. and Mrs. George D. Full, Mrs. John Lucey, Jane Lucey, Elsa and Alma Claussen, Frances Port, Antoinette Bennett, Johnnie Mullaney, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Mullaney, Mr. and Mrs. William Rood, Mrs. J. W. Diggles, Paul and Tom and Margaret Diggles, S. C. Sims, Joseph N. Field, Dr. G. Canning, and Andrew Canning.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' JACKET SUIT.

This sort of costume has gained wide popularity for daytime and sports wear. The dress would be charming made of white shantung, with the hip length jacket of red. The dress and jacket may be worn separately, for instance, a printed cotton pique jacket in orange and white would look well worn with a white dress, while the red jacket can be worn with a printed pique, printed silk crêpe, printed voile, or georgette.

The pattern, 2815, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 5 yards of 39 inch material for the dress, with 1⅞ yards of 39 inch dark material for the jacket.

The rounded, tapered corners of this new sanitary pad assure complete concealment ... always GOOD-GROOMING is never so difficult—and ill-grooming never so unforgivable—as in summer. What a relief, then, is this new sanitary protection that can never embarrass!

Kotex is non-detectable, even under the light, filmy clothes of summer. Corners are rounded and tapered for perfect fit. There is no awkward bulk. Kotex brings a sense of complete security and peace of mind.

Other features make Kotex absolutely indispensable in summer. Kotex is light, cool, comfortable. It is filled with the wonderful absorbent Cellucotton wadding, in air-cooled layers. This is the same filler selected by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals. It actually absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture! Five times more than cotton and cotton fabrics can absorb. This is the reason for the remarkable protection you get with Kotex, without weight or bulk.

Kotex deodorizes

Kotex deodorizes, too—so much more important in summer. And disposes instantly, like tissue. The Cellucotton layers can easily be adjusted to suit individual requirements.

Kotex is soft . . .

2—Safe, secure . . . keeps your mind at ease.
3—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.
5—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a patented process.

Kotex—45c for 12—at any drug, dry goods or department store

You'll Like it!

There! That explains the popularity of Plough's Black and White Face Powder. Women like it. They like its dainty fragrance, its fine texture, its natural tints—and its reasonable price.

Infinitely fine and soft, this pure, fragrant powder goes on smoothly and evenly, lending tone and texture to your skin. It clings for hours without renewing and its artistic tints blend with your complexion to give natural beauty.

Once you have tried Plough's Face Powder you will want to try the other equally popular beauty creations. If you would like a copy of "How to Attain Complexion Beauty" write Plough, Inc., 37 Plough Building, Memphis, Tenn.

Don't Force the Answer to "What Are You Going to Be?"

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

A book on the care of babies by Miss Carolyn Conant Van Blarcom, a noted authority on the subject, can be had at The Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street, for 50 cents, or by mail for 60 cents. Two booklets by Mrs. Bevans, one on "Prayers and Graces for Children" and another on "Books to Be Read to Children or by Them," will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"What are you going to be when you grow up?" is a question that is always being aimed at little children.

It doesn't bother them as a rule. They usually know what they're going to be. They usually think they'll follow in the footsteps of one of the heroes of their childhood—a fireman, a policeman, a gardener, an elevator man. Happily, "I'll be a soldier like my daddy," is not so often among their ambitions these days.

Occasionally, though, we do come across a child who has no ready answer when some inquiring grownup says, "What are you going to be when you're a man?" But the funny thing is that when he says "I don't know" we feel defrauded—a little bit let down.

Now, if a small boy or girl has a childish idea of what he or she wants to be, it's quite all right. But so is it all right if he doesn't. It often indicates a mental independence that it is excellent to possess.

Yet I have heard a child give that answer so many times that at last his or her parents began to feel that he or she wasn't rising to the occasion. So they began to suggest an occupation that the babyish talents seemed to indicate that the child might follow.

"She loves to draw," being volunteered by his parents. "O, then perhaps she'll be an artist," would be the satisfied conclusion of the visitor. Or "He's very much interested in engines and machinery" would be followed by "Perhaps he'll be a mechanical engineer." It is a mistake to super-impose ideas like these on children.

I think that much of this "When I grow up I'll do this and that" is super-imposed anyhow. Just casually looking at it, it appears to me to be due to one of several reasons. Either from hearing other children respond or from the pressure of repeated asking, a child finally meets the situation in the easiest way by saying "I'm going to be this or that." Or he hears his parents constantly say, "If you want to be a strong man, or a wise man, or a rich man you must do this, or this, or that." Or he has had quite unconsciously an unfulfilled childhood—he is repressed or emotionally starved and his compensation is to look to the future and say, "When I'm grown up I'll be this or do that."

But if a child is satisfied enough with his present or has enough independence to say "I don't know what I'm going to be," let us leave it at that.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Asks for Child's Wagon.

"I wonder if any of your readers has a coaster wagon their children have grown too big to use. I need one so my children can go for ice. It is too expensive when it is delivered and we live close enough to the ice house to go for it if we had a coaster wagon. It is hard to keep the baby's milk fresh without it.
"MRS. M. M."

Persian Kitten to Give.

"I have a beautiful Persian kitten, male, a year and a half old, I would be glad to give to some one who would give it a good home. It is a real pet and a cat any one would be proud of.
"MRS. R. D."

Any one fond of pets should be delighted to have this gorgeous long-haired cat Mrs. R. D. offers. Write me if you'd like to own it; please do not telephone.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

This is a day when it seems to be the custom for everybody to advertise his service or product as the best or the cheapest or the biggest, or to apply some other super-superlative to the thing for sale. The public cannot help but be confused when every one makes the highest claims for the thing or service desired.

Some concerns, in order to give the customer a chance to prove for himself that the product is superior, may sell on free trial offers, "money refunded if satisfaction is not received." We wish it were possible for us to operate on such a basis; obviously it is not, for when a mortgage note is signed and a trust deed recorded the deal is closed.

All we can do and ask is that discriminating home owners who are in the market for second mortgage loans come in and find out exactly what the charges and other conditions are, and by inquiry to feel perfectly satisfied that when he makes a second mortgage loan at this institution he has received rates, terms and other conditions which are not an undue imposition, are not loaded with miscellaneous extras, and that our staff seems to be quite as much concerned with the best interests of the individual home owner as with the interests of the bank which they represent.

The public is pretty well informed as to our rates, but it is probably not out of place for us to repeat them. We charge 6% accruing interest. Commissions are $35 a thousand for one year, $65 a thousand for two years and $90 a thousand for three years. And these commissions apply regardless of whether the borrower chooses to pay back 2% of the principal each month or whether he chooses to make it a higher percentage.

We personally invite you to investigate the second mortgage plan which has been sponsored by the Personal Loan and Savings Bank as Agent.
